500,000 FOR DRIVE INTO ITALY

GIVE WARNING TO AMERICANS IN GERMANY?

Gerard Reported to Have Prepared Nationals to Leave.

WORK ON SHIP NOTE.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, May 22, 2 a. m.—A dispatch received from The Hague by the Daily Mail asserts that Ambassador Gerard at Berlin is warning all Americans in Germany who are not detained there by important business to get out. Meanwhile United States consuls in all cities are advising Americans to register.

Partial, but not complete, confirmation is given to this in a dispatch received from Berlin which says that the American consulates are receiving answers to a post card canvass ordered by the embassy a few days ago to determine the whereabouts and plans of Americans still in Germany in case of an emergency.

Almost without exception, this dispatch adds, Americans announced their intention to remain in Germany and not to abandon the businesses in which most of them are engaged.

Expect People to Stay.

"The recent suggestion in London newspapers," the Berlin dispatch adds, "that the American ambassador in Berlin should be withdrawn as a protest in case adequate satisfaction was not given for the Lusitania affair has been much discussed, but there seems to be slight disposition on the part of American business men here to close up their enterprises and withdraw even in this case. There are only a few isolated cases of Americans departing as a consequence of the recent alarmist reports.

"The German reply to the Washington note regarding the Lusitania has slowly taken shape at a series of conferences at the foreign office. Whether the note will contain any definite proposals for a solution of the problem is uncertain.

Suggests an Arrangement.

"It has been suggested here that if America insists on the right of its citizens to travel on passenger steamers belonging to belligerents, without risk of a submarine attack, an arrangement might be reached by which the American government would certify that the cargoes of such steamers contained no contraband.

"It is further suggested that certified steamers carry some distinguishing mark which would free them from the risk of being torpedoed without warning or giving the passengers and crew a chance to escape. However, whether this suggestion will be embodied in the final form of the note is not known."

War Lords Urge Curt Reply.

BERNE, May 21.—It is learned on the best authority that a bitter conflict is proceeding in Berlin on how the American note regarding the Lusitania is to be answered. The majority of war lords favor a sharp and decisive reply and the Tageliche Rundschau says, "Germany, which at present is resisting six powers, is not afraid of dealing with the seventh."

A dispatch received in Basel from Berlin states that the German government before discussing the American note concerning the sinking of the Lusitania promised Washington to respect the American flag on ships.

City Will Push Fight in Court for 70 Cent Gas

Aldermen Vote $50,000 to Force Compliance with Ordinance.

$8,000,000 AT STAKE

The city is preparing to spend more than $100,000 to force the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company to comply with the 70 cent gas ordinance.

The council finance committee yesterday voted to appropriate $50,000 for expenditures in forcing the suit to an issue this year. It is expected the appropriation will be approved without objection at the council meeting Monday night.

Approximately $8,000,000 is at stake. If the city wins gas consumers will benefit by this amount and the company will suffer a corresponding loss. The difference between ordinance rates and the price charged by the gas company is said to amount to $2,000,000 annually.

Bemis Foresees Victory.

Immediate appropriation of $50,000, with a view to the ultimate expenditure of twice this amount, was recommended unanimously by Mayor Thompson's special committee on gas litigation. The cost of the prosecution was based on estimates by Prof. E. W. Bemis, who advised with the committee.

"I think the city can win this case," Mr. Bemis said. "But it will require the services of expert legal advisers, appraisers, and accountants. With $8,000,000 at stake, it is reasonable to suppose the gas company will spend several hundred thousand dollars."

Committee to Hire Lawyers.

Ald. James Lawley, chairman of the special gas committee, was overruled by the finance committee when he suggested the $50,000 be spent under the supervision of the mayor and corporation counsel.

"What's the use of having a special committee," asked Ald. Merriam, "unless that body employs the counsel and the experts?"

Selection of lawyers and engineers will be the first concern of the gas committee. Assistant Corporation Counsel Bryan Y. Craig probably will assist in the prosecution.

These Rates Involved.

Following are the rates, adopted July 18, 1911, which the city will seek to enforce:

75 cents first year.
68 cents fourth and fifth years.

The city was restrained from putting the ordinance into effect by Judge John Gibbons in the Circuit court, who entered an order fixing the rate at 80 cents, 5 cents lower than the then existing rate. In December of 1911 Judge Kickham Scanlan ordered the gas company to deposit with a trustee the difference between ordinance rates and the price charged.

BOYS IN OARLESS BOAT CARRIED TWO MILES OUT.

Evanston Pupils Have Hard Struggle Against Capsizing—Saved by Motor Boat Crew.

Two pale faced boys, sopping wet and exhausted from their efforts to keep an oarless rowboat from being swamped and overturned in a heavy sea, were picked up by the Evanston life savers two miles out in the lake yesterday.

The boys, Cæsar Gales, 14, of 941 Oak avenue, and Clarence Moberg, 16, had slipped away from rehearsals being held by the Evanston school children for a musical festival in the Patten gymnasium and had found the boat chained to a tree on the lake shore. They unfastened it and intended to keep near the shore, but a puff of wind carried them out into deep water, where they were helpless without oars.

ATTACKS MADE ON KITCHENER ROCK BRITAIN

ECHO OF AN OLD ROW?

LONDON, May 22, 5 a. m.—The Times says that Lord Lansdowne, notwithstanding the condition of his health, has reconsidered on patriotic grounds his refusal and will join the new cabinet.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, May 22, 3 a. m.—The attack on the competency of Lord Kitchener, war secretary, by the London Daily Mail, the Times, and other papers owned by Lord Northcliffe has raised a storm of protest.

Great Britain, still shaking from a cabinet crisis, is roused to the boiling point by the assaults on the war secretary.

It is charged in some circles that the Northcliffe attack on the war secretary is the result of a controversy between the two men which started early in the war when the Northcliffe publications printed some dispatches in defiance of the censor.

It is said that Lord Kitchener then said that if the censorship was not adhered to he would use the military to shut down all the Northcliffe newspaper offices. This is one theory of the origin of the present bitter criticism.

Government's Fall Deplored.

A. G. Gardiner, editor of the Daily News, publishes a signed article in that paper this morning in which he declares the fall of the Liberal government was the "greatest blow this country has sustained since the war began."

"What is the ultimate truth about the disaster?" the article continues. "It is not the result of a disagreement between Lord Fisher and Winston Churchill. It is not due to the deficiencies of Earl Kitchener. These things are only the immediate causes. It is due ultimately to this fact: that, in the midst of the most stupendous struggle of the history of the nation the issues of life and death are the sport of a sensational journalist.

Calls Northcliffe Chief Problem.

"This is a plain statement of the situation and no one intimate with the events doubts it. It is the fact which the country has to face and the most serious problem at this moment is not who is going to form the new government, but what is that government going to do with Lord Northcliffe?

"For this thing is clear, either that the frenzied office boy must be suppressed or no government can live. It will have surrendered its authority to the mob that Lord Northcliffe hounds on in the columns of the Times, Daily Mail, and Evening News, and it will die by the mob.

"We have to choose, in fact, between a responsible government and a press dictatorship. Lord Northcliffe is a man whom the public has never seen and never heard. He came to his fortune by exploiting the shallowest form of journalism. His whole career has been a record of vulgar sensationalism, divorced not only from any moral purpose, but from any intelligible meaning, except the exercise of power.

Has a Friend at Front?

"Lord Northcliffe had failed to run the British army through Lord Kitchener, but he had still another string to his bow. There began to appear in his papers significant evidence that he had a friend at the front.

"The now famous message of his military correspondent indicated to the public who that friend was, but the fact had been notorious for some time among those familiar with the events behind the scenes and the visits of Northcliffe to Sir John French were much discussed and much resented.

"Let it be clearly understood by the government that they cannot buy this mad Dervish off with bribes. That has been tried by A. J. Balfour, who gave him a peerage, but that did not win his loyalty. The more the government pays in blackmail, the more it will have to pay."

Flails Lord Northcliffe.

The London Chronicle, in an editorial this morning, excoriates Lord Northcliffe for the attack and says his chronic abuse of the freedom of criticism "of which yesterday's articles were only a crowning instance, is a grave source of weak-

OAK PARK 'FRAT' BOYS EXPELLED

Fourteen Pupils, Several Leading Athletes, Ousted; Ballot Boxes Stuffed?

Fourteen students, nearly all of them leaders in school athletics and some who would have received their diplomas in June, were expelled from the Oak Park High school yesterday under the school board's ruling against fraternities.

All of the boys confessed to being members of the Omicron Kappa Pi fraternity. Charges that this fraternity had dominated school elections led to the drastic action. More expulsions are expected within the next few days.

These Boys Expelled.

Those expelled yesterday are:

Gerald Worth, sophomore.

Ballot Box Stuffed?

Dick Hohman recently was elected manager of the lightweight football team. Students charged the ballot box had been stuffed by members of the Omicron Kappa Pi fraternity. Principal M. R. McDaniel ordered a new election and James Kelly was elected. The matter came before the school board at its meeting yesterday and all day long students were haled before it. The expulsions resulted.

Four years ago a number of students were expelled for the same reason and their parents took the matter into the courts. The Appellate court handed down a decision backing the school authorities.

"I think the board discriminated unjustly against this one fraternity," said W. P. Worth of 232 South Euclid avenue, father of the Worth boys. "There are other fraternities in the school and I think they will find about 200 other boys who belong to them. The action is a little drastic and uncalled for. Some allowance should be made for the enthusiasm of juveniles."

J. Kibben Ingalls, president of the board, asserted the boys had been expelled after a fair hearing and that the action of the board was final.

"We have not singled out this one fraternity and when the returns are all in Mr. Worth will not think we have acted unfairly," he said.

The Oak Park baseball team is leading the Suburban league and the student body was aroused last night over the blow the school will receive in all branches of athletics.

SLASHED COSSACK SAYS HE WAS GERMAN VICTIM

BY ROBERT R. M'CORMICK.
[War Correspondent of The Tribune.]
[SPECIAL CABLE TO CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LOMZA, Russian Poland, May 21.—I interviewed today Ivan Pitchowieff, a Cossack who was taken prisoner by the Germans while in uniform and who later escaped.

The top of his right ear was cut off and most of the left was gone. There were four long gashes in his right thigh. He swore he was hanged by his hands and later by his feet to make him divulge Russian positions.

CITY MOBILIZED FOR WAR ON FLY

Committee Named to Get Various Armed Interests to Co-operate.

Chicago is preparing for the biggest organized anti-fly campaign on record to prevent the annual harvest of summer death and illness.

If plans fostered by the Clean Chicago federation and concurred in by the city administration, the Chicago school management, the Chicago Medical society, the state pure food commissioner, and a volunteer army of fly swatters, fly trappers, and fly preventers are carried to completion it is believed that Chicago may furnish an object lesson to the world in systematic elimination of the housefly and its breeding places.

Campaign Planned Yesterday.

The campaign was planned yesterday at a meeting of the Clean Chicago federation, of which Miss Harriet Vittum of the Northwestern University settlement is temporary chairman and Prof. E. S. Ames of the University of Chicago is secretary.

At this meeting a committee was appointed, consisting of Miss Vittum and Dr. W. A. Evans of THE TRIBUNE, to secure the coöperation of other anti-fly interests.

Want "Fly Week."

By nightfall the committee had done these things:

Formulated a request to Mayor William Hale Thompson to proclaim the week of June 15 "fly week," for the purpose of carrying on a city-wide campaign against the breeding of flies.

Enlisted the support of Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson and the machinery of the health department.

Secured the support of Superintendent of Schools Ella Flagg Young and of Mrs. John MacMahon, chairman of the efficiency committee of the school board, for a series of "How to Fight the Fly" lectures in all the public schools of Chicago, and the making of scientifically constructed fly traps by manual training pupils.

State Official Will Lecture.

Received the promise of State Pure Food Commissioner W. Scott Matthews to aid the movement by lectures, fly bulletins, and all means within the power of his office.

Received promise of large quantities of fly fighting material in the form of lantern slides, charts, and literature from the International Harvester company and the services of two of the harvester company's lecturers.

LATEST NEWS ON ITALIAN CRISIS.

LONDON, May 21.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs that Germany is about to call 2,000,000 more men to the front. The general staff estimates the number of men needed to defend the Austrian frontier against Italy is 500,000 and half of this force is now on the way to the Tyrolean frontier.

It is believed here that the war against Italy will be opened by a terrific drive south from the Trentino into northern Italy similar to that which brought the German armies to the gates of Paris last November. Many batteries of heavy guns are in position on the frontier for this purpose.

LONDON, May 22, 3:55 a. m.—The Rome correspondent of the Times in a dispatch dealing with the Austro-Italian situation comments on what he terms the curious position of Italy. Negotiations with Austria have been broken off since May 4, he says, and all measures have been duly sanctioned by the Italian parliament, but a formal declaration of war is still to come and although this is expected tonight or tomorrow, it may possibly be delayed for a day or two.

COPENHAGEN, via London, May 22, 3:50 a. m.—Berlin papers say Switzerland is calling up more men and it is expected that a complete mobilization will be ordered shortly for the prevention of a violation of neutrality. It is said that Switzerland has made arrangements with Italy for a continuance of the regular food supplies.

COPENHAGEN, via London, May 22, 3:50 a. m.—The total number of war prisoners now in Germany and Austria-Hungary is 1,386,000, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung. The paper says that this total includes one million Russians, 250,000 French, 25,000 English, 50,000 Belgians, and 50,000 Serbians.

STORK VISITS MRS. M'ADOO; WILSON GRANDCHILD NO. 2.

Baby Girl at Washington Will Be Christened Ellen Wilson for Late Wife of the President.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the secretary of the treasury, gave birth to a girl baby at 9:15 o'clock tonight at their residence.

Shortly afterward Secretary McAdoo made the announcement that the baby weighed between eight and nine pounds, and that "mother and child are doing well."

President Wilson, father of Mrs. McAdoo, was at the secretary's residence on the occasion that made him twice grandfather. He did not leave till he had been allowed to see his granddaughter.

With Mrs. McAdoo during the day were her sister, Margaret, Mrs. Howe, the president's sister, and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, his cousin.

The baby has been named Ellen Wilson McAdoo, in honor of Mrs. McAdoo's mother, who died in the White House last August.

It was only last January that the president was presented with his first grandchild, the son of his second daughter, Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre. That event took place in the White House.

Secretary McAdoo married the president's youngest daughter, Eleanor, at the White House on May 7, 1914. Secretary McAdoo is just getting around again after his illness resulting from an operation for appendicitis early in March. Secretary McAdoo now has seven children and one grandchild.

BOY ATTACKS ITALIAN ENVOY

German Government Immediately Apologizes for Berlin Assault on Ambassador from Rome.

BERLIN, May 22, 1 a. m.—Riccardo Bollati, Italian ambassador to Germany, upon leaving the Italian embassy last evening was assaulted by a youngster, who knocked off the ambassador's hat. The boy was seized by passersby and beaten before he was turned over to the police. The government immediately sent apologies to the ambassador.

ROME SENATE MAKES HASTE IN WAR PLANS

Only Two Members Vote Against Move for Hostilities.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

TURIN, May 21.—It is learned that representatives of Austria-Hungary, Prussia, and Bavaria at the vatican have received precise instructions from their governments to cling to their diplomatic posts until forcibly ejected. This act is interpreted as a scheme for embarrassing and embroiling the Italian and papal governments.

ROME, May 21.—The Italian senate this afternoon, by a vote of 262 to 2, adopted the bill passed by the deputies yesterday, conferring extraordinary powers on the government in the event of war.

The cabinet now is in full control of the government, and it is confidently expected that it soon will draft a form of declaration of war against Austria-Hungary.

CABINET FRAMES WAR EDICTS

The ministers are in session tonight and from some sources it is declared they are making a final study of the situation preparatory to sending out a forty-eight hour and possibly a twenty-four hour ultimatum.

The almost unanimous approval of war indicated in the senate was greeted with great applause by the senators and persons in the crowded galleries.

The vote and its reception show that all differences within the nation have been buried.

As an evidence of the popular approval of war, several hundred thousand persons, led by the mayor of Rome, assembled tonight before the quirinal. The members of the royal family made their appearance on a balcony amid almost indescribable scenes of enthusiasm.

King Victor Emmanuel was greeted with cries of "Long live the king" and with cheering for war.

RUMORS WAR HAS BEGUN.

Wild rumors that war actually has begun are being circulated through the city tonight.

According to a dispatch from Brescia the Austrians evidently consider that a state of war between the dual monarchy and Italy already exists. They have withdrawn their troops and customs guards from the frontier at Ponte Caffaeto and Lodrone after destroying the bridges, the telegraph and telephone lines, and the electric light apparatus. Other bridges on the frontier have been mined.

From Ponte Caffaro and Lodrone two roads pass over the frontier and serve for communication between Italy and Austria.

GERMANS LEAD AUSTRIANS.

From Chiasso, Switzerland, comes information that there are large bodies of Austrian troops in the upper valley of the Adige river and the Schulden valley, coming from Innsbruck, and also at Glurns. They are accompanied by many German officers.

A dispatch from Venice conveys the information that Austria has begun interning all Italian males between the ages of 17 and 60. Fifty thousand Italians in the country around Barbariga, Dignano, and Marzana, in the Trieste region, have been sent to concentration camps in Carniola and Croatia. Leading Italians in Pola have been arrested and others terrorized by Austrian mobs, the dispatch concludes.

A report from Udine says that the Austrian military authorities, after returning Italian mail sacks to Italy from the Austrian frontier, cut the telegraph communications and also removed rails from the railroad line.

BIG ARMIES OF ITALIANS.

With all these rumors of Austria's activity being circulated the military authorities here are guarding with strictest secrecy the movement of Italian troops. It is known, nevertheless, that some 350,000 soldiers have been concentrated on the coast of Italy across the Adriatic from Albania. These troops are at Brindisi, Bari, and Foggia.

Great bodies of troops also are massed along the Goritz frontier and along the border of Tyrol.

The government has for weeks permitted not the slightest hint regarding the location of the naval forces to be made public and the whereabouts of the fleet in the Adriatic is a deep mystery.

VOLUNTEERS OFFER SERVICES.

A notice was sent out early today granting amnesty to all Italians who have failed to perform military service provided they return to Italy not later than June 7, if resident in Europe, and note later than Aug. 4 if living in the United States. As a result of this notice reports received from the Italian colonies in London, Barcelona, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Buenos Aires, and Egypt say that thousands of Italians there are ready to answer a call for mobilization and that thousands of others will volunteer services for war.

A report telegraphed here from Venice that an Italian torpedo boat stopped the Austrian steamer Cosulich when it tried to leave port last night, was passed by the censor, but without official confirmation. The captain of the Cosulich was said to have been placed under arrest and a contraband cargo confiscated. It is known the torpedo boats are guarding the harbors at Venice and Genoa to prevent interned German ships from putting out to sea.

A dispatch from Naples says the Italian authorities have seized a Greek steamer carrying a cargo of 2,000 tons of rice and bound for Germany.

SCHOOLS AS HOSPITALS.

Every school building in Italy has been taken over by the military, in conformity with arrangements made several weeks ago. Buildings near the frontier will be used to quarter troops. Those in the interior are being converted into hospitals.

A score of women of the nobility met today to organize hospital units. Following the example set by the Princess Ruspoli, an American by birth, many members of noble families announced they will throw open their palaces for use as hospitals.

The pope passed a large part of last evening reading the Italian green book setting forth the Italian position with reference to the war. As he completed the reading his holiness, sighing regretfully, said:

"Alas! War is now inevitable."

Italian Envoys Recalled?

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

VIENNA, May 21.—It is reported here that the Italian ambassadors to Austria and Germany have been instructed by their government to leave Vienna and Berlin tomorrow. This is regarded as paramount to a declaration of war.

Cheer for Teuton Allies.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, May 21.—On receipt of the warlike news from Italy, great crowds paraded the streets in a patriotic demonstration. They cheered Germany and Turkey, singing the national anthems of those countries in front of their consulates. Crowds attempted to reach the Italian consulate, but were held back by the police.

Italy Turns Over Embassy.

BASEL, Switzerland, May 21.—Italy has asked Switzerland to take charge of Italian interests in Germany. The federal council has accepted the charge.

Austrian Planes on Border.

PARIS, May 21, 5 p. m.—The Temps publishes a dispatch from Rome to the effect that a flotilla of Austrian aeroplanes from Goritz, Austria, is patrolling the frontier above Isonzo. It is said two of the air scouts have flown over Italian territory.

Prince Victor, head of the house of Bonaparte; Prince Louis Napoleon, his brother, and Prince Affonso of Portugal, brother of the late King Carlos, have applied to the Italian war ministry for permission to join the army.

Prince Victor and Prince Louis Napoleon are grand-nephews of Napoleon I. Their mother was Marie Clotilda, a princess of Savoy, the reigning house of Italy.

Gen. de Lacroix, military critic of the Temps, who is considered one of the most authoritative writers on military matters in France, gives it as his judgment that the Italian army will not wait for an Austro-German attack, but will take the initiative and throw large numbers of troops at some selected point.

Gen. de Lacroix says that the Italian army is admirably armed. Its light artillery is comparable to the French three inch guns. This gun was invented by Col. Deport and made in France.

Other military authorities say that the Italian army on a war footing consists of about 1,000,000 first line troops and an equal number of second line troops.

Swiss Expect Von Buelow.

CHIASSO, Switzerland, May 21.—Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to Rome, is expected to reach here from the Italian capital shortly. The German consul at Leghorn arrived here by automobile last night, and many other Germans are coming in all the time from points in Italy by train and by automobile.

Crowds are parading the streets of towns in northern Italy, acclaiming the war.

Among the stories being related here today by arrivals from Rome is one that Prince von Buelow requested an interview early yesterday of Premier Salandra. The premier penciled a laconic refusal, concluding with the words: "I thought you had left Italy."

Only Postpones Victory.

BERLIN, via Amsterdam and London, May 21.—"Certainly the addition of Italy to the hostile side means for the central powers and Turkey postponement of their final victory, but not in the same degree at the present moment as would have been the case months ago," writes Maj. Moraht, the military critic, in the Tageblatt.

Maj. Moraht considers that Italy has now reached the highest point in her preparations.

"So long as no defeats occur and the spirit which plays an important rôle in the Italian character does not suffer," he continues, "we must count upon energetic conduct of the war."

Maj. Moraht believes an advance against Bozen, an Austrian town in the Tyrol, and against Villach, in Carinthia, is projected by Italy preliminary to a movement on Triest.

Stop Adriatic Traffic.

LONDON, May 21.—A dispatch to Lloyds from Bari (in Italy on the Adriatic) says that all navigation services in the Adriatic sea have been suspended.

SWISS ENVOY FOR GERMANS.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador here, was advised today by the German foreign office that Switzerland would take over German diplomatic interests in Italy in the event of a rupture.

Italians in the United States probably will not be called back to the colors unless the European war is to continue for another year. Italian officials here believe Italy has sufficient men in its home army to maintain a vigorous offensive against Austria.

The possibility that Italy's entrance in the war may compel peace in another six months is suggested in Italian quarters.

French Troops on East Wing Threaten One German Base.

Cernay, in Alsace, is menaced by the French. Artillery has destroyed a bridge across the River Thur, and a Basel, Switzerland, dispatch says it is believed the Germans will have to evacuate the city.

LORETTE HILL WON BY FRENCH

Germans Driven Off and the Way Is Paved for Advance North of Arras.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, May 22, 5 a. m.—Dispatches from north France report that great German reinforcements have arrived in the Aubers and Festubert region and severe fighting is predicted by Sunday.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, May 21.—After six months of terrific and continuous fighting the allies now control the entire Lorette hill north of Arras.

A final assault on the slope of the hill today when the weather cleared succeeded brilliantly, according to the official communication issued by the war department tonight. It was at this point that the Germans hampered the progress of the French in their proposed advance.

Germans May Quit Cernay.

Other news of great importance was contained in a message from Basel, Switzerland, which says French artillery has destroyed a bridge across the river Thur in the vicinity of Cernay, which has been the supply and hospital base of the German forces in the Hartmans-Wellekopf and Hirzenstein regions of Upper Alsace. It is believed the Germans must evacuate the city.

French War Report.

Following is the official war communication issued tonight:

"The weather having improved, our troops on the slope of Notre Dame de Lorette made an attack which succeeded brilliantly. We have taken the German fortified works called 'The White Way' (La Blanche Voie), situated on the only one of the five southern ridges of the Lorette hill which was still partially in the hands of the enemy.

"The entire Lorette hill and the lesser ridges which the enemy had defended fiercely for more than six months, are therefore in our power.

"In addition, we have captured that section of Ablain St. Nazaire which linked the 'white way' works to the northern end of the village still occupied by the enemy.

RUSSIANS CHECK TEUTON ADVANCE NEAR PRZEMYSL

Czar's Forces Reported to Have Stemmed Terrific Onslaught of Enemy in the East.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, May 22, 3:41 a. m.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Morning Post in a dispatch dealing with the hostilities in the southeastern theater of war, says:

"News from the great battle raging over a 250 mile front remains exceedingly grave. The Russians are making progress on both flanks, but this is unimportant as the German main onset is at a center from the confluence of the San and Vistula rivers to Przemysl, a distance of sixty miles, every yard of which has been the scene of desperate fighting for days. It is here that a decision must be reached and so far the Germans continue to have the better of the struggle."

LONDON, May 21.—The Russians, having been forced out of western Galicia and the Carpathians, now are offering stubborn resistance to the further advance of the Teutonic allies behind the San river and around Przemysl. Although the Germans have crossed the San north of Przemysl and the Austrians have advanced to the southeast of that town, they appear at last to have been brought to a halt, as today's report from Berlin does not claim any further progress.

Just to the north, in Poland, the Russians are carrying on a strong offensive and, driving the Germans back, have at least partly exhausted the German flank in Galicia.

Russian Official Statement.

"On the left bank of the Vistula in Poland we continue to press the enemy in the region south of the railway station between Radom and Kielce, and have already repulsed him from Opatow and on the front Sloplan-Novell-Lagow.

"On the Galician front between the Vistula and Przemysl the enemy extended themselves somewhat on the right bank of the San in the region of Sieniawa, but on two flanks in the direction of the Vistula between Tarnobrzeg and Ulanoff and in the direction of Przemysl, near Tytchenpy, we realized important successes on the left of the San."

AUSTRIANS AND ITALIANS STILL FRIENDS IN CHICAGO.

Chicago's "Little Italy" is not made up entirely of Italian born citizens or people of Italian descent. Several thousand Austrians reside in the district, and although their countrymen and relatives in Europe and the people of Italy are about to plunge into war against each other the Austrians and Italians of Chicago say little about the war and go ahead doing business with each other in much the usual fashion, according to a canvass of the section yesterday.

KITCHENER ROW ROCKS ENGLAND

ECHO OF AN OLD ROW.

"If this country were Russia, Germany, or Austria," the article says, "the scurrilous and mendacious attack on Lord Kitchener made in the Times and the Daily Mail would have had a swift sequel. Lord Northcliffe would have been taken out into a courtyard and shot within forty-eight hours. That is not a conjecture, but a statement of fact.

"If this country were France or Italy he probably would have been lynched within a shorter interval and his premises at Carmelite street and Printing House square would certainly have been destroyed.

"These are not examples for our countrymen to follow, but they are illustrations to ponder. We are rightly proud in England of our greater freedom, and especially of greater freedom which we allow to criticism, but nothing has become clearer than the chronic abuse of it by the Northcliffe press."

Other Papers Defend Kitchener.

Other papers which have come to the defense of Kitchener in articles which are almost as bitter as those mentioned above are the Morning Post and the Pall Mall Gazette. The editorials in these are similar to those printed.

In addition to the newspapers the rank and file of the people appear to be with Kitchener.

Other meetings of protest have been called by various public bodies in London.

What Daily Mail Said.

The Daily Mail editorial which has divided England for and against Kitchener follows in part:

"It never has been pretended that Kitchener is a soldier in the sense that Field Marshal Sir John French is a soldier. Kitchener is a gatherer of men, and a very fine gatherer, too; but his record in the South African war as a fighting general, apart from his excellent organising work as chief of staff, was not brilliant."

In connection with the ammunition charges the article says:

"The admitted fact that Lord Kitchener ordered the wrong kind of shell; the same kind that was used largely against the Boers in 1900, has alarmed the whole army in France and also the armies of our allies. He persisted in sending shrapnel, a useless weapon for trench warfare.

Warned Many Times.

"It is now admitted that he was warned repeatedly that the kind of shell required was a violently explosive bomb which can dynamite its way through German trenches and entanglements and enable the men to advance in safety. The kind our poor soldiers have had has caused the death of thousands of them.

"There is nothing in the military experience of Lord Kitchener to suggest that he has the qualifications required for conducting a European campaign in the field. If by any mischance Lord Kitchener went to France to conduct the campaign we will probably have a most costly object lesson in the difference between African and European warfare.

"It is to be hoped that Lord Kitchener, with proper and necessary assistance, will remain in the war office, though when compulsory service comes his sphere of usefulness will be greatly diminished."

What the Times Said.

The Times in its editorial said:

"Our armies in the field require reinforcements and shells of the right kind. Neither has been provided in adequate quantities for the simple reason that Lord Kitchener's orders were given too late. Plain warnings were disregarded and the nation was lulled into a false security by misleading official reports, with the result that thousands of British lives were sacrificed in an unequal contest.

"The nation will not allow that situation to recur. It must be set right and be set right quickly, or the consequences will be swift and startling. The whole trouble arose because Lord Kitchener assumed a burden to which no one man could have proved equal."

British Cabinet Change.

Changes in the British cabinet have started. Arthur Henderson, a labor leader, today was appointed to succeed Louis Samuel as president of the local government board.

This is the first authoritative announcement of an appointment in the new ministry outside of Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary.

It still is regarded as certain that A. J. Balfour will become first lord of the admiralty, although he already has been giving assistance to Winston Spencer Churchill in that position and there is fear in some quarters that his appointment might result in renewed friction with Admiral Fisher.

STOP MUNITIONS, KAISER MAY SAY IN REPLY TO U. S.

Lusitania Note, However, If a Compromise Is Sought, Will Not Be Satisfactory.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—Questions of the protection of Americans from German submarine warfare and of American ships and cargoes from illegal seizure by the British naval forces occupied the attention of the president and his cabinet at their semi-weekly meeting today.

The president and his advisers decided that, while there is warrant for the adoption of stronger measures to induce Great Britain to respect American sovereignty on the high seas, the note which has been drafted will be withheld pending the arrival of further explanations by Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs.

Study Germany's Attitude.

The cabinet studied with great care a number of dispatches from Ambassador Gerard reporting the circumstances of the presentation of the Lusitania note and the attitude toward the demands of the United States disclosed by the German officials with whom he has come in contact.

The ambassador's reports indicate the general tendency of German officials to justify the destruction of the Lusitania on the ground that it was an enemy ship carrying munitions of war, that it was an armed vessel, and that Americans had been fully warned of the danger of traveling on such steamers.

It therefore will occasion no surprise here if Germany in its reply to the president's note should promise that there shall be no recurrence of the killing of Americans in submarine warfare upon enemy commerce provided the United States shall take steps to prevent the shipment of war munitions in passenger steamers. Germany may go so far as to guarantee immunity to any passenger vessel which the United States certifies to be carrying no war supplies.

Wants Complete Compliance.

The administration is in no mood to accept conditional compliance with its demands that Germany abandon submarine attacks which jeopardize the safety of noncombatants. These demands are based upon the unalterable contention of the United States that the captor of an enemy prize must provide, in accordance with international law, for the safety of noncombatants aboard without regard to the character of the cargo.

Unless the president and his advisers recede from the attitude they have maintained since the destruction of the Lusitania a conditional reply of any character here would regard as unsatisfactory in the matter of guaranteeing the future safety of Americans. It is not unlikely, however, that the administration would defend the question further before taking the extreme step of breaking off diplomatic relations with Berlin.

Switzerland to Make Demands.

There is much interest here in the dispatch from Berne stating that Switzerland will send to Berlin even stronger demands than those in the American notes as a result of the death of a Swiss in the sinking of the Lusitania. Switzerland has 500,000 soldiers ready to back up any action it may take.

The Netherlands, which also lost several subjects on the ill-fated ship, is reported to be ready to align itself with the United States in defense of noncombatants in the war zone. Both the Netherlands and Swiss ministers have been in frequent consultation with Secretary of State Bryan during the last week.

Consider Note to Britain.

The cabinet gave only brief consideration to the draft of the proposed note to Great Britain demanding a discontinuance of the practice of compelling American ships to depart from their course on the high seas and put in at British ports for the mere purpose of allowing the authorities to search for contraband.

Although several members of the cabinet favor immediate aggressive action in regard to the interference with neutral commerce, of which hundreds of American shippers are complaining, the majority decided that it would be wiser to await a further disclosure of the British policy, which evidently is undergoing a change since the growing impatience of the United States has become manifest.

Ambassador Gerard at Berlin cabled today that the German government was preparing a reply to the inquiry as to whether reference of the case of the American ship William P. Frye to a prize court was to be considered the answer to the suggestion of the United States that the case be settled by direct negotiation.

BRITAIN'S STAND ON CARGOES.

LONDON, May 21. — Representative American shipping interests generally agree that the British government has a strong case in the foreign office memorandum defending British treatment of detained cargoes. Lively exception is taken, however, to the paragraph devoted to , adefense of the government's action in regard to meat shipments.

The foreign office stated that negotiations for settlement of these cases had come to a standstill "owing to the exorbitant terms insisted upon by the representatives of the American packers."

BRYAN 'CLOSE TO TREASON,' COL. ROOSEVELT INFERS.

Assails View of State Department on Nationality of Man American Born, but of Foreign Parentage.

New York, May 21.—[Special.]—"Dangerously close to treason to the United States" is Col. Roosevelt's opinion of some ideas on hyphenated citizenship, which the colonel says were expressed by the state department at Washington in a letter signed, "For the secretary of state Robert Lansing, counselor."

The sentiments in the state department's letter to a citizen which the colonel believe are "close to treason" are part of a reply to P. A. Le Long Jr. of New Orleans, who as an American born son of a Frenchman who had taken out naturalization papers, wrote last March to Secretary of State Bryan to ask whether or not Mr. Le Long might make a business trip to France without the risk of being impressed into the French army.

Col. Roosevelt's comments on the state department's letter to Mr. Le Long appear under the heading, "When Is an American 'Not an American?'" in the June number of the Metropolitan Magazine just issued.

The reply from the state department to which Col. Roosevelt takes exception informs Mr. Le Long Jr. that, although a citizen under our fourteenth constitutional amendment, he is also a Frenchman.

WILSON PRAISES LOYALTY OF GERMAN-AMERICANS

Writes Head of German Catholic Union of Baltimore Thanking Members for Pledge of Support.

Baltimore, Md., May 21.—Paul J. Prodoehl, president of the German Catholic union of Baltimore, tonight made public a letter received from President Wilson thanking the union for its pledge of support. President Wilson said:

"For myself, I never for a moment doubted the loyalty and fidelity to our nation and our flag of the Americans of German derivation and ancestry, but it is very gratifying, indeed, to get so patriotic a resolution, conceived in so high a spirit."

The resolution, which was said to represent the sentiments of more than 8,000 members of the union, was sent to the president last Monday. It declared that the members, "while proud of our German ancestry, know only one flag, the flag of our country."

May Festival Girls Make Bow Today.

Final rehearsals for the May festival which will open at Bismarck Garden this afternoon and continue for ten days were completed yesterday at the Huntinghouse academy. The festival is being given by the various German societies of Chicago for the benefit of relief work in Europe and for local charities. Among those who put the final touches on their program numbers during the day were Miss Genevieve Quentin, Miss Alice Colford, Miss Kathryn Huntinghouse, and Miss Isabel Watt, who will appear in colonial costume; Miss Virginia Rucker, Miss Evelyn Rudiger, and Miss Mirian McDonough, dainty toe dancers, and Miss Virginia Crane, who will give an interpretative Egyptian dance.

IGNORE DEFENSE AT MOHONK LAKE

Platform of Pacifists Says Nothing About Course Garrison Advised.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 21.—President Wilson's stand in the international crisis was approved by the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration tonight at the conclusion of its twenty-first annual meeting. The conference platform declared:

"We express our gratitude to the president of the United States for steadfastly maintaining the neturality of our government and for asserting, with firmness, clarity, and restraint, the rights of our people as citizens of a neutral nation."

Ignore National Defense.

The platform, as prepared by the platform committee, did not mention the subject of greater preparation for national defense which was urged upon the conference this year by Secretary of War Garrison, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, and Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, retired.

The members of this committee were Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university; Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Brown, chancellor of New York university; Prof. John B. Clark of Columbia university; Senator Henri la Fontaine of Belgium; Andrew B. Humphrey of New York, executive director of the American Peace and Arbitration league; former Gov. Simeon E. Baldwin of Connecticut, and Lucius M. Cuthbert, a Denver business man.

See War as Peace Motive.

After long deliberation the committee drafted a platform which, in addition to the paragraphs approving the action of President Wilson, contained the following clause:

"The Lake Mohonk conference reaffirms its faith in the beneficence of the measures for the advancement of which the conference was founded. The present war daily furnishes convincing proof of the superiority of those methods over the resort to violence."

Attention is then called to three proposals for a solution of international disagreements. The first provides a judicial tribunal for all justiciable questions; the second for a council of hearing in non-justiciable questions with powers of recommendation; and, third, a plan of conferences to formulate and codify rules of international law, which thereafter shall rule under the first provision.

Tea for French in Summer.

PARIS, May 21.—Gen. Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, has approved the issuance by the commissary department of a tenth part of an ounce of tea daily to each soldier during warm weather.

UNIT REQUIRES 3 MORE DOCTORS

Twenty-nine Ready to Start First Hospital Service in War with 75 Nurses.

Only three more doctors are needed to fill the required number of thirty-two for the Chicago unit which will be sent to England for service in the military hospitals there or on the continent.

Twenty-nine doctors, eleven of them from out of town, have volunteered to join the unit, and the remaining vacancies will soon be filled, according to those who are in charge of organizing the corps.

Unit Neutral Group.

"It should be understood," said Dr. P. S. Chancellor of 2732 Pine Grove avenue and one of the organizers, "that we are distinctly a neutral organization. So far no calls for hospital work have been received from Germany or Austria, and it just happened that the call which we are answering came from England, which asked for a unit of thirty-two doctors and seventy-five women nurses for six months' service. The doctors in the Chicago unit will have no military rank."

Here Are Doctors.

The following Chicago doctors have agreed to join the unit:

J. M. Neff, chief of staff.

TURKISH CAMPS RAZED BY FLEET

New Bombardment Directed Against Sultan's Men at Dardanelles.

PARIS, May 22, 1:05 a. m.—Telegraphing from Bucharest, the correspondent of the Havas agency says:

"Ten Turkish officers of field rank have been brought back to Stamboul from the Dardanelles to be courtmartialed for refusing to obey their German commanders."

LONDON, May 21.—"There was a lively bombardment yesterday of the Dardanelles, directed principally against numerous Turkish camps at Kemu Burnu, on the Asiatic side," says Reuter's Athens correspondent. "It is stated that Chanak Kalessi has been completely destroyed and that the town of Gallipoli, on the European side of the waterway, has been badly damaged."

Goeben Supports Turks.

The correspondent adds that fierce fighting is in progress near the neck of the Gallipoli peninsula. The big guns of the British battleship Queen Elizabeth are being fired from the Gulf of Saros, thus assisting in the allies' attack.

The Turks are being supported by the guns of the Sultan Selim (formerly the German cruiser Goeben), which are being fired from the Sea of Marmora. Turkish troops from Aivali, in Asia Minor, are said to have been transferred to the Dardanelles.

Smyrna Under Fire Again.

Anglo-French warships have appeared off Smyrna and are again hurling shells at the harbor forts. Dispatches today reported fire bombardment of other Turkish towns along the Asia Minor coast.

LAVA-LIKE MUD FROM MT. LASSEN RUINS COUNTRY

Latest Eruption Drives People to the Hills; Bridges and Houses Swept Away.

Redding, Cal., May 21.—Lassen peak's seething caldron, stirred perhaps by some mighty convulsion, bubbled over early today and sent a river of mud cascading down the mountainside.

Hat Creek valley, in the eastern part of Shasta county, was partly inundated. A number of farms in the path of the flood were submerged and several houses and considerable live stock were destroyed. Residents of the valley fled in time, however, and no lives were lost.

From shortly after midnight until 7 o'clock today, when the flow abated, the mud river moved thirty miles, sweeping away bridges and converting roads into morasses. Great quantities of ashes floated on the crest of the flood.

Another Paul Revere.

Warned by Fred Seaborn, a government forest ranger, who galloped from the town of Hat Creek through the valley, ranchers and their families, scantily clad, took quick refuge on hillsides and escaped the flood.

At a place called Cassel, the stream of volcanic substance branched off into a field of old lava beds, the main stream continuing slowly down the valley.

The liquid eruption followed a spectacular outburst on Wednesday night when, for the first time, Lassen peak spouted molten lava.

All day the atmosphere was dense with smoke from the crater.

An electrical storm of great violence was raging here tonight. Black clouds obscured Lassen peak, and it could not be determined whether the crater was still active.

Two forest rangers set out from the town of Mineral today to venture as close to the summit as possible. They have not returned.

Sure Enough Volcano.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—"The latest eruption of Lassen peak, California," announced the United States geological survey today, "marks a distinct point in the progressive change in the character of the eruptions, and places Lassen in the category of sure enough and more or less dangerous volcanoes."

Sidney C. Eastman, trustee of the estate of the late James H. Dole, valued at nearly $500,000, filed his answer yesterday to the petition of Mrs. Frances E. Jane Addams Delivers Peace Resolutions Adopted at The Hague in Berlin.

PRESENTED BY GERARD

BERLIN, via The Hague, May 21.—Miss Jane Addams, American suffrage and peace leader, this afternoon formally presented to Herr Von Jagow, the German foreign secretary, the copy of the resolutions adopted by the women's peace congress at The Hague. Miss Addams was presented to the foreign secretary by Ambassador Gerard.

American Delegates Return.

New York, May 21.—[Special.]—Fourteen delegates to the international congress of women at The Hague returned today on the liner Ryndam.

Miss Alice Carpenter said the delegates had a definite policy and propaganda for the prevention of war, and were going to fight for it.

"It was most impressive," she said, "to see English, Belgian, and German women sitting side by side and discussing prevention of war with perfect calmness and dignity, and with no sense of hatred."

Chicago Woman Praises Action.

Miss Florence Holbrook of Chicago, principal of the Forrestville school, said that the most striking incident was when every woman rose and stood silent five minutes out of respect to the dead of all nations. "For five full minutes you could have heard your heart beat," she declared.

Mrs. E. M. Loch of Chicago traveled through Germany, and was extended every courtesy by German army officers. Hamburg she found slow and dull.

VIOLENCE JUST IF LAW IS LAX, SAYS OIL HEAD

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—John D. Rockefeller Jr. spent a long and at times uncomfortable day on the witness stand today under examination by Chairman Walsh of the federal commission on industrial relations. Mr. Walsh sought, with considerable success, to bring out from Mr. Rockefeller his real connection with the Colorado strike.

In response to relentless and note too friendly questioning, Mr. Rockefeller admitted his share in the responsibility for conditions in Colorado, although in admitting it he attempted to justify himself.

Would Not Stop at Slaying.

He admitted that if the duly constituted officers of a state should make an attempt to injure his life or his property he would use every means at his command to repel them, even if those means went to the length of taking human lives.

He admitted that statements made in a sermon preached by the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis of Brooklyn concerning the Colorado strike were manifestly untrue. This sermon was largely used by the Rockefeller interests in justifying their stand in Colorado. It was mailed to every member of the graduating class of Cornell university last year. The Rockefellers contributed $250,000 toward the construction of the chemical laboratory at Cornell, and young Rockefeller today agreed that he was personally responsible for the gift.

Approved Operators' Course.

He admitted that he approved the course of the Colorado operators in declining to treat with the miners before the strike opened, even though General Manager Bowers had informed him that such negotiations would undoubtedly prevent the strike from being called. He said, however, that had the request come directly to him he would have considered it favorably, but that he believed the officers were better qualified to handle the situation.

He admitted that he approved and that he still approves the methods of securing publicity used by Ivy L. Lee, although Lee's letters disclosed the fact that he would go to practically any extent to "put things over."

Resentment Over Criticism.

He admitted the resentment he and his father feel towards criticism of their personal actions. He said, however, that they had never used their personal influence to remove any college professor from the faculty of any institution they had favored for criticism.

He said that the most pronounced criticism his father had ever received came from the university to which he had given the most money, the University of Chicago.

"And did you ever hear of Prof. Zuehlin, who was fired out of that university for criticizing your father?" asked Chairman Walsh.

Mr. Rockefeller didn't recall him.

Walsh Retorts Savagely.

Early in the proceedings Rockefeller attempted mildly to criticise Mr. Walsh's method of examining him. The chairman cut him off savagely, asserting that he intended to conduct the examination as he saw fit, in order to bring out the facts.

"I am not criticizing the manner in which you conduct your business, at this time, Mr. Rockefeller," he said, "and I intend to conduct this hearing as I desire."

Chairman Walsh asked Rockefeller if he was interested in the lives of the men who work for his various enterprises.

"Very much indeed," he replied.

"Well, then, have you read the details of the Lawson trial?"

"No, Mr. Chairman, I have not."

The chairman and the witness here entered into a heated discussion over the efforts of the officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company "to whip the officers of the state into line." Rockefeller denied that any improper influences was used. He said everything was done for the purpose of maintaining law and order.

"Do you not know," asked Mr. Walsh, "that there was not a single death in the strike until the officers of the state, whipped into line by the officials of your company, ordered the state militia to conduct strike breakers to the tipples of the mines?"

"I do not," was the reply.

Approves Using Force.

During a further controversy Rockefeller admitted that he approved using force to repel force; that he regarded anything that interfered with the proper election of local, state, or national officials as indefensible; and that he believed in attaining law and order at any cost. Chairman Walsh cited instances where the Colorado Fuel and Iron company was charged with interfering with elections and with upsetting law and order. He challenged Rockefeller to say that he would correct such things, that he would attempt restitution.

Then Commissioner Weinstock, who was named on the commission to represent the capitalist class, attempted to elicit from Mr. Rockefeller an admission that he never would do anything to interfere with the officers of a state in carrying out the law and order of that state as they saw fit. He said he would not.

Walsh Flashes Query.

Like a flash Chairman Walsh interposed:

"But suppose the constitutional authorities failed in their duty and started after you with a gun, what would you do?"

"I should do whatever was necessary to protect my life and my property," came the answer.

Commissioner Weinstock attempted no further aid to the witness. Chairman Walsh then put the big question of the day to Rockefeller:

"Suppose you were indicted for murder for your responsibility for the Ludlow massacre; suppose the president of the United Mineworkers of America were governor of the state; suppose one of their attorneys was the attorney general; suppose a state senator from their group should obtain the passage of a bill creating a new judicial district in which to try you, and suppose that another attorney of the mineworkers were judge of that district; and suppose that employés of your office who were really spies of the mineworkers were called as the witnesses to condemn you—would you not think that the United Mineworkers should feel compelled to do something for you to guarantee you a fair trial under different circumstances?"

Not a Fair Trial.

"Mr. Chairman," replied Rockefeller, "I should not think those circumstances the best for a fair trial."

"And yet you deny having read the proceedings in the Lawson trial, where you are in a position to correct matters?"

"I have not read them."

"Well, will you read them, and will you do something?"

"As I have said before, Mr. Chairman, I believe that nothing should be done to prevent the obtaining of justice above suspicion."

"Well, Mr. Rockefeller, suppose you were in the predicament of Mr. Lawson; would you feel satisfied if the mineworkers would say that they believed nothing should be done to prevent the obtaining of justice above suspicion and let you go at that to spend the rest of your life in prison?"

Rockefeller's head drooped. His eyes dropped to his lap. Then his hands found his watch chain, and finally he switched uncomfortably in his chair.

Bowers' Letter Cited.

Earlier Mr. Walsh called Mr. Rockefeller's attention to a letter written on Dec. 22, 1913, to the latter by Manager Bowers of the coal company, in which it was said:

"If the governor had acted on Sept. 23 as he has been forced to act during the last few weeks, this strike never would have existed ten days.

"We used every possible weapon to drive him into action, but he was glove in hand with the labor leaders, and is today, but the big men of affairs have helped the operators in whipping the agitators, including the governor. Now these fellows are cursing him without regard for common decency, so everybody is giving him more or less taffy to keep him from backsliding."

"Do these letters show your policy?" asked Chairman Walsh.

"Did I write those letters?" demanded Mr. Rockefeller.

"No, but you received them," said the chairman.

"But I did not write them, so they can scarcely be said to show my policy," returned Mr. Rockefeller.

Actions Backed Up.

"I propose to call your attention to six letters written by you, in which you say that you back up these actions by Mr. Bowers."

"The letters mean," returned Mr. Rockefeller, "that there was disorder in Colorado. Naturally every citizen would use every influence to get the public officers to do their duty." He declared emphatically that it was absolutely necessary for him to "back up" the men placed in charge of the coal properties.

Asked About Massacre.

Mr. Walsh asked if Mr. Rockefeller was acquainted with the details of the Ludlow "massacre," and gave a graphic description of it. Mr. Rockefeller said he had no knowledge of the details.

"On the same day as the Ludlow massacre," Walsh asserted, "did you not learn that there was a little boy killed?"

"I heard a boy was shot," said Rockefeller.

Walsh then called attention to a company statement that the women and children at Ludlow were smothered and then read a postcard addressed to him by a Mr. and Mrs. Snyder at Trinidad, saying: "We wish to inform you that here is one of the little victims of Ludlow, not smothered, but was shot through the head while caressing his little sister."

"On the back of this card is a photograph of the little boy, Frank Snyder," Walsh said. "Do you wish to see it?" Walsh handed the card to a messenger, who offered it to Rockefeller.

Glances at Card.

"You have described it thoroughly," said Rockefeller. He glanced at the card as it was passed to the stenographer.

Walsh read from letters and reports to show that Troop A, a volunteer organization, was formed of superintendents, clerical forces, and mine guards of the coal companies.

"Do you know that this troop fired into the tents of the women and children at Ludlow and that they looted the dead and set fire to the tents of the people?" Walsh asked.

"I do not."

"As the men of Troop A were paid by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company do you not feel a moral responsibility for the Ludlow massacre?" asked Walsh.

"I would have felt much greater responsibility," Rockefeller replied, "if officers of the company had not made an effort to protect life and property."

Asked if he thought it was right for guards to loot the homes of people, Mr. Rockefeller replied:

"Certainly not, whoever they were."

"Are you prepared to establish collective bargaining in the plants of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company?"

"I think that the plan already started for coöperation between our officers and men has the elements of collective bargaining and is a nucleus to that end," said Mr. Rockefeller. "I never have had a feeling of anger against labor unions. I believe in it just as firmly and just as cordially as I believe in the organization of capital. It is just as important and just as right."

Mr. Rockefeller added that public opinion was a powerful factor in settling labor disputes.

BALKY JUROR FOILS VERDICT FOR ROOSEVELT

Finds for Barnes When "Divide Cost" Return Is Refused by Court; Again Locked Up.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 21.—[Special.]—One man is blocking a straight out verdict that Theodore Roosevelt was justified in calling William Barnes a corrupt boss. That man is Edward Burns, Republican in politics, motorman by trade.

He is obstructing a clean-cut verdict not so far as can be told because he believes that Barnes is entitled to damages, but because the idea got firmly wedged into his head that Col. Roosevelt should be made to share the expenses of the trial with Mr. Barnes.

At 11 o'clock, when the jury was locked up for the night, thirty-one hours and twenty minutes of reasoning, entreaty, and persuasion by the eleven jurors who stood up in open court this morning and voted for Mr. Roosevelt had failed to shake the stubborn Mr. Burns.

Called Roosevelt Victory.

Virtually, of course, the verdict has been found, the decision reached. That is the view, not of observers and spectators merely, but of Col. Roosevelt and of his advisers and of Mr. Barnes' following.

The colonel takes the view that eleven jurors out of twelve accepted the challenge offered by William M. Ivins and decided that Roosevelt, and not Barnes, had told the truth; that the evidence offered in justification contained the necessary proof that Barnes was a link between crooked politics and crooked business.

Attitude Burns Took.

The attitude of Burns was simply this: In the understanding of Justice Andrews, of counsel, and of all others in the courtroom Mr. Burns acquiesced in a verdict for Roosevelt after the other jurors had agreed to couple with the formal verdict a suggestion that Roosevelt and Barnes be required to divide the expenses of the trial equally. Then, when Justice Andrews, moved by every requirement of law and propriety, told the jury that no verdict with such a suggestion attached could be accepted Burns cast aside his quasi-agreement with the eleven and lined himself definitely for Barnes.

The jury had been locked up at 11 o'clock last night after failing for seven hours and twenty minutes to vote unanimously. A few minutes after 10 o'clock this morning a message was sent to the court by Mr. Somers, foreman of the jury, asking a private talk. The request was wholly improper, of course, and the justice refused the request.

Back with Faulty Verdict.

The jury returned to deliberate and at 11 o'clock the twelve men filed in for the second time. Asked if they had agreed on a verdict, Mr. Somers arose and said slowly and clearly:

"We find for the defendant with the suggestion that the court expenses be divided equally."

"Why, gentlemen," said Justice Andrews, "the court is prohibited from accepting a verdict in that form."

"May we have a rising vote?" requested Foreman Somers.

Juror Startles Courtroom.

Straight down the upper row and then upon the second row. Every man spoke out clearly, "For the defendant" until the clerk reached Edward Burns. To the utter astonishment of every person in the courtroom Burns replied:

"For the plaintiff."

Col. Roosevelt stiffened in his chair. Justice Andrews' face was a study in amazement. The clerk, thunderstruck, called out "Peter Beneke, your vote?"

"For the defendant," said Beneke, and the eleventh man had voted for Roosevelt.

The jury was thereupon sent to their room and the strife between one man and eleven was resumed.

ALIENS IN MEXICO CITY THREATENED BY OUTLAWS.

Message to State Department Pictures Conditions There as "Indescribably Loathsome."

Washington, D. C., May 21.—Outlaws in Mexico City who assaulted the German charge d'affaires on Tuesday now are threatening the lives of other foreigners, according to diplomatic dispatches received here today. One message states that "indescribably loathsome" conditions prevail, and that the government is powerless against bandits.

Several popular demonstrations because of the food shortage have occurred in the Mexican capital within the last few days. Reports to the state department today said the situation was serious.

How Italy Has Prepared Its Army to Enter the Great European Conflict.

ITALIAN VOLUNTEER ARMY—Of the 1,700,000 troops Italy is reported to have ready to put in the field the greater share is made up of volunteer corps recruited and trained since the beginning of the world war last August. These men have been in constant training for months, and are fully equipped and armed for immediate service.

TYPE OF BERSAGLIERI, "THE BLACK DEVILS OF THE ITALIAN ARMY."—The Bersaglieri are the sharpshooters of the Italian army, and were first organized in Sardinia in 1836 by Gen. la Marmora. On a peace footing the army of Italy has twelve regiments of them, and they are trained especially for mountain fighting and other difficult movements. Their extraordinary agility earned for them the name of the "Black Devils of the Italian Army." Their charging cry is the word "Savoia."

Stephen Decatur.

NOW FOR A REVENUE CAMPAIGN.

Common sense has prevailed in the Illinois house, and the joint resolution submitting an amendment to the revenue article of the constitution has been approved—decisively approved.

The amendment merely frees the hands of the legislature and enables it to classify personal property for taxation in harmony with modern ideas and facts. It commits neither the people nor the legislature to any particular scheme of classification. The adoption of the amendment will be followed by a scientific and thorough restudy of the whole question of personalty taxation. If the legislature or any group therein should attempt to put into effect an unfair or discriminatory scheme public opinion, and a hundred powerful agencies representing the great electorate, would know how to expose and defeat such an attempt. It is essential, therefore, to make it perfectly plain to the voters that the proposed amendment is wholly free from any danger and that it simply and merely removes obstacles to urgent reform along constructive and scientific lines.

There have been and there will continue to be misinterpretation and misrepresentation of the projected amendment. It was denounced even on the floor of the legislature as a "tax dodgers' amendment." Nothing could be more gratuitous and baseless, more reckless and unfair. The principle of the amendment has been overwhelmingly indorsed by the people of Illinois, and an intelligent, frank campaign in its favor between now and the general election of next year should not fail to result in the adoption of the formulated clause.

Give the voters the facts, the truth, and they will vote emphatically to abolish the impossible general property tax and make justice and honesty something other than policies punishable by legal robbery and ruthless confiscation of income.

MUCH TRUTH AT MOHONK.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., where the international arbitration conference is in session, is being so inundated by common sense that the ripples of it may spread out all over the country. We wish a favoring wind might carry this wave of rationality:

"We soldiers and sailors," said Gen. Wood, "are merely your trained servants. You create wars; we try to terminate them. Nine out of ten wars are based on trade. It is murder for you to send your boys to war untrained when it is possible to train them."

That is the unpleasant truth for the anti-preparation propagandists to try to avoid. It is murder to ask unfitted and inexperienced men to attempt what only fit and trained men can do.

SUPPORT THE UNIVERSITY.

A rumor reaches us from Springfield that there is a disposition in some quarters to refuse to appropriate to the University of Illinois the entire proceeds of the mill tax which is levied for its support. It would be a mistake, we think, to carry out such a purpose. The tax is levied for the support of the university, and the university should have it. It is true that the income from it will be considerably larger in the next two years than it was in the last two years, but the university is growing, it has never been adequately supported until recently, and it will be some years before it has caught up with the progress of some other institutions which have been more liberally supported. We cannot believe that the people of the state will approve a picayune policy in so important a matter.

OUR NEED OF OFFICERS.

One of the most pressing needs of our military defense is more officers. Even our little regular army is seriously short of officers, owing to the fact that about 20 per cent are absent from their commands on staff assignment, on the important service of militia instruction, and on leave.

This condition, the result of congressional parsimony or indifference, is demoralizing even in time of peace. But even the most casual layman, if he will stop a moment to think, must realize what it would mean if we were called upon to put a large number of men into the field. The state of mind which produces the Bryan theory of the miraculous creation of armies, "a million men in arms" springing up from nowhere, will not bother about this phase of our unpreparedness. But American common sense will recognize that if it is difficult to train raw civilians in the most favorable circumstances, it is impossible to do so without trained men to do the training.

Furthermore, when war has begun the casualties among officers are very high and constitute a grave danger unless they can be promptly covered. On this point the British Army and Navy Gazette makes some remarks worthy of congressional consideration:

"Our casualties in regimental, and particularly among company officers," says this journal, "have been extraordinarily heavy since the war commenced, even during the more or less sedentary warfare which has been so conspicuous a feature of the operations of the past few months; the offensive lately taken by us at Neuve Chapelle, and which, however successful so far as it went, was, after all, a comparatively minor operation, cost us very many valuable leaders; and it has proved to us that the ultimate forcing back of the Germans and a victorious end to the campaign cannot be achieved without casualties to which all those already suffered will be as nothing. The correspondent of an American paper declares that 'at least 50 per cent of the officers of the allies who have been killed have met their deaths from individual rifle fire, usually delivered by marksmen separated from the main body, either by being behind, to the front, or on one side of it.' He declares further that these German sharpshooters are armed with rifles equipped with telescopic sights."

At the last session of congress Secretary Garrison asked for 1,000 additional officers. Although he showed how sorely they were needed under even normal conditions, he was refused. He will return to the charge, it is said, in December. But he should ask for more. What is needed is a thorough consideration of the problem of military education, perhaps the establishment of another West Point and the organization of a system by which young Americans may be encouraged seriously to educate themselves, not necessarily for the profession of arms but for the military service of citizen soldiery. Only in this way can we be supplied, in case of a major war, with subaltern officers enough for an army of adequate size and with men fit to train raw troops in the rudiments.

ITALY.

Italy went into the alliance with Germany and Austria-Hungary when she did not know where else to go, thirty-three years ago May 20. It was the most convenient means of escape from a dangerous isolation. Italy was seeking friends and had need of them. The condition of her domestic affairs, the divisions in her public opinion, the instability of her leadership, and the weakness of her military and finance made most of Europe indifferent to her search for a stabilizing alliance.

Hostile action of France and the question of the pope's temporal power finally inclined her to make use of the willingness of Germany and Austria-Hungary to sign a treaty, and the triple alliance was formed.

So far as Italy was concerned the advantages of this alliance were relative and temporary. The natural direction of Italian sympathies would have been toward France, but in the commercial rivalry for Tunisia France had offended violently by a coup de main, and in the Italian resentment caused by the French military expedition and the establishment of the protectorate it was easier to reconcile the hostility to Austria.

The fear that Bismarck, who had need of the aid of the vatican in composing questions affecting the German Catholics, would raise in international conference the issue of papal independence was an even more propelling factor in driving the Italians to refuge in an alliance with Germany and Austria, where there might be security from the issue.

That alliance is now denounced and, although there will be an outcry against a nation guilty of what her enemies will call the perfidy of turning against her allies, it must be recognized that in the code of European principles, which is the sum of the experiences of European nations, there is nothing higher than national need and opportunity and no political immorality so inexcusable as the neglect of either.

That may be a hateful creed, but it is the one to which consistent devotion has been given. The usefulness of the triple alliance to Italy in these later years lay largely if not entirely in the ability of the alliance to preserve peace by preserving the balance. When it failed to preserve peace Italy and Austria would find that their purposes and needs were irreconcilable.

On several occasions Italy has endeavored to produce proof that Austria was bent upon dominating Serbia, and that all that was sought was an occasion. Former Premier Giolitti, who now, as an opponent of war, has fled from Rome, several months ago made public correspondence with the Italian ambassador to Vienna to indicate that Austria had intended to force matters with Serbia in 1913. The Italian green book just issued relates that Austria's demand in exchange for making any territorial concessions to Italy was a free hand in the Balkans.

The Italians would persuade the world that Austrian aggression against Balkan states and her determination to control the Adriatic and cut a way through to the Ægean was destined to bring a general war sooner or later, and that the war when it came would be disastrous to Italian interests even if Italy declined to be drawn into it with her allies.

The Italians make their claim for moral justification upon these arguments: that the alliance was used aggressively for Austrian and against Italian interests and that it was impossible to maintain even a position of benevolent neutrality and await an outcome which, without suitable guaranties and concessions from Austria, would mean the limiting of Italian growth.

The irredentists who have sought to take Trent and Trieste from Austria are in power, supported in parliament by all except the socialist group, and the dominating element was not persuaded that there was anything substantial in the concessions Austria was willing to make.

Germans will exclaim against the sordidness of a national policy which makes an opportunity of its allies' exigency and which puts aside honor to barter for profits, but now more than ever before the European principle is that the national need is the national honor.

Sentimentalists are not directing Europe's forces, and Italy was in the hard position of choosing, (1) to join with her allies against their enemies and be reconciled to Austrian aggrandizement at her expense or, (2) to stand aloof and at the conclusion of the war, whatever its result, find herself again isolated and without gain or, (3) to follow simply the direction of her own interests and gain what she might.

Any one of these three courses was full of peril. One had to be chosen. Emotion, we may be sure, had a part in the selection made, but Italian statesmanship, however wisely or misguidedly, is looking forward to the accomplishment of things which affect the future of the Italian nation.

CHILDREN OF FORTUNE.

[From the Grand Rapids Herald.]

Norway has passed a law which deserves at least passing consideration by the world at large. The new statute places illegitimate children above the melting pot and allows the opportunity of growth and development with a name on a par of those born in wedlock.

The illegitimate Norwegian child now has the right to take its father's name if it wishes. It now has equal right with the legitimate children in the matter of inheritance.

The civilized world, with this exception, is handling those children far different. They are called "nameless" and are made dependent upon a mother who is called an "outcast" or a "fallen woman."

It is true, occasionally the fathers of these children are punished with a scant fine of $200 or $300—but the scarlet letter is burned into the forehead of the betrayed mother.

Will the day ever come when the world will cease to visit the "sins of the father" upon his illegitimate child and give it to the higher power to attend to the punishing?

GREEN BOOKS, Red Books, Orange Books, and other highly colored supplements are not more informative than lawyers' briefs. They set forth a case plausibly, but the things we really wish to know we must wait months for, perhaps years. Italy's connection with current events should prove a chapter of extraordinary interest.

Lowell on Peace.

Sir: Has any one ever put it any better than Lowell did? I quote from memory:

"God give us peace!
Not such as lulls to sleep,
But sword on thigh and brow with purpose knit,
And let our Ship of State to harbor sweep,

THE Weekly Welcome says that the German forester's method of measuring the height of trees is this:

"Shut yourself up like a jackknife, making your hips the hinge; and, placing your head between your knees, and your back to the tree, sight to the top of the tree. At a distance just equal to the height of the tree, you will see the top of the tree, and no higher."

Now, wouldn't you just love to see ——— measuring the height of a tree?

No. 14.—In our humble opinion No. 14 is the most useful book in the series. It contains obituaries suitable to all classes, from the babe in the cradle to the grandmother in the sunset of life. It contains cards of thanks, resolutions, etc. Deaths are unexpected items that generally reach the printing office a few hours before the forms are "locked up," and the average editor gives them a three line local and adds: "A more extended notice will appear next week." We believe by the aid of this little book all such news can be given while it is news. You have only to insert the name and date of death and you will find an obituary in this book suited to saint or sinner, old or young. There are but few printing offices that have not had one of our former obituary books. Price, $2.00.

Dear Mr. B. L. We have a real mother who makes real shortcakes, and we hereby hand Andy a generous, luscious half of a cake—irrespective of our disappointment regarding his looks. BETH.

THE OWL CRITIC.

[Concluded.]

"Examine those eyes.
I'm filled with surprise
Taxidermists should pass
Off on you such poor glass;
So unnatural they seem
They'd make Audubon scream,
And John Burroughs laugh
To encounter such chaff.
Do take that bird down;
Have him stuffed again, Brown!"
And the barber kept on shaving.

"With some sawdust and bark
I could stuff in the dark
An owl better than that.
I could make an old hat
Look more like an owl
Than that horrid fowl,
Stuck up there so stiff like a side of coarse leather.
In fact, about him there's not one natural feather."

Just then, with a wink and a sly normal lurch,
The owl, very gravely, got down from his perch,
Walked around, and regarded his fault-finding critic
(Who thought he was stuffed) with a glance analytic,
And then fairly hooted, as if he should say:
"Your learning's at fault THIS time, any way;
Don't waste it again on a live bird, I pray.
I'm an owl; you're another, Sir Critic, good day!"

FIVE CHILDREN DEAD.

At least once every day I receive some letter intended for the health commissioner of Chicago. I have just read one such. It is a birth report. A midwife reports the birth of a girl baby with the name R. S., let us say. From the certificate as it lies before me I gather the following information:

The father, Henry S., is a workingman, 44 years of age. As his employment is one that is unionized, it is fair to assume that he belongs to a union. This means that he gets wages that are at least fair. He is not trying to maintain his family on the wages paid to unskilled laborers. They live in a part of town where the residences are two story frame cottages set on ordinary city lots.

His wife, Mary S., is 39 years of age. This is the twelfth child born to Mr. and Mrs. S. Of these seven are living and five are dead. The certificate does not give the ages of these children, but they are necessarily young. Probably the oldest is less than 20 years of age and perhaps two or three are under 5. It is a safe guess that of the twelve less than half will reach 14 years of age.

It is not fair to a hard working woman that she should bear twelve children and lose half of them at ages when they are still dependent on her. Thirty-nine years old, twelve children! Ever since she put on short dresses she has been caring for babies. Most of the time she has been bearing one and caring for another, and more times two. Outside of her children precious little time has Mary had for any pleasure except pleasure in her children. To the mother who loses more than half of her babies in babyhood, pleasure in her children is mixed with pain.

Is it necessary that half of the babies of the Marys should die? There are places where the Marys raise eleven out of their family of twelve babies. Right here in town with Mary, not five miles away from her, there are Marys who have raised some nine and some even ten of their twelve children. Then why not Mary?

She has been very busy. Probably she has never heard of the way those more fortunate mothers have preserved the health of their children. Nobody went to her with that information, and she did not have time to go out in search of it. The only people to tell her how were neighbors who had lost their six or ten babies.

Maybe her babies had to live on dirty milk. Mary got the best she could, but the best was not good enough to save her babies. Maybe her house was small, and she had to wash and cook in the room where the baby slept.

Whatever the cause, is it fair to have Mary bear twelve children and lose half of them in babyhood?

MEAT AND APOPLEXY.

J. H. B. writes: "Does the eating of beef, pork, or mutton induce paralysis? Should one eat much after 50 years of age? Why are the sanitaria eliminating the use of meat with the paralytics?"

REPLY.

Eating large quantities of pork, mutton, or beef has some tendency to produce apoplexy. Apoplexy follows a break in one of the arteries of the brain. The arterial wall does not break until it is first diseased.

The most important cause of disease in the arterial wall is syphilis. I should say that lead poisoning is second. Alcohol and tobacco operate somewhat in injuring the wall and somewhat by increasing the blood pressure. A high protein diet is a factor and a prominent one. That means habitually eating heavily of meats. Habitual overeating of foods in general also causes it. Dr. Wadekind holds that eating foods that contain too much salt and other salts and drinking hard waters is another cause.

I get the impression that you are getting off on a tangent. Excessive meat eating is an important cause, but you may exaggerate its importance.

EAR TROUBLE.

A. M. B. writes: "I have had a ringing sound on the right side of my head near the ear for the last two months. Can you tell me what it is? I have it most of the time, night and day."

REPLY.

If the eye is struck one sees stars. The optic nerve can only express shock in images. The taste nerves can only speak in terms of taste; those of smell in odors; those of temperature in sensations of heat and cold, and those of hearing in sound. In the deeper part of your right ear something is irritating a nerve of hearing. It is responding by recording sound. You must have an ear specialist locate that trouble. However, it is possible that your trouble instead of being in the receiver is in the switchboard.

TYPHOID VACCINATION.

O. S. writes: "Will you kindly tell me how to go about being vaccinated for typhoid. How many treatments does one have to take; how far apart? Are there any ill effects, and if so, does one feel them at once? Is it safe to have a local doctor give the treatment—one who has never done it—and if so, where should he procure the serum so as to be sure that it is pure? Is there any danger of contracting any other trouble if the serum is not good? Is there any danger in the treatment for a woman whose heart is not strong? Is the treatment expensive?"

REPLY.

Some physicians give the treatment in two injections, some in three. A ten day interval should elapse between injections. Most state boards of health furnish the vaccine. Your physician can obtain it from the state board or from a vaccine laboratory. The danger is very slight, practically nil in persons under 50. A few days of malaise sometimes follows the injection. I should say you would be safe in the hands of any clean, careful, level headed physician. Rarely is it necessary to lay up after an injection. Most people keep at work during the ten days or three weeks required for vaccination. The cost is small.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1915: By the Brentwood Co.]

BARON GISKRA, now minister plenipotentiary of Austria-Hungary at The Hague, and who spent many years at Washington as secretary of embassy, marrying Miss Helen King of New York, has been singularly ill advised in bringing suit in the Dutch courts against the Amsterdam Telegraaf.

The latter not long ago published a cartoon, entitled "The Waning Empire." It portrayed the venerable Emperor Francis Joseph bowed down with cares and perplexities and in the act of just having had one of his legs amputated.

The German kaiser has hold of the severed member and offers it in a jovial manner to King Victor Emmanuel, who greedily holds out his plate for more. Kaiser Wilhelm is represented as remarking to the Italian monarch, "O, for that matter, you can be helped according to your appetite, only you must give me more time."

As the Telegraaf prints daily cartoons of a rather realistic and Hogarthian character this particular one attracted no special attention until Baron Giskra foolishly took the matter up and demanded of Queen Wilhelmina and of her minister of foreign affairs that the paper should be prosecuted for lese majesty.

The baron was informed that neither the queen nor yet her government could move in the matter, and thereupon he instituted proceedings in the local courts at Amsterdam against the newspaper in the name of Emperor Francis Joseph, for libel, placing his sovereign in a most undignified position and incidentally giving no end of an advertisement to a paper which assuredly has no circulation to speak of outside Holland.

As the venerable Austrian ruler has never during all the sixty-seven years of his record reign taken any cognizance of the utterances or cartoons of a foreign newspaper, no matter how scurrilous, it is difficult to believe that either he or his government are responsible for the action inaugurated by Baron Giskra, and in the event of Giskra's example being followed, his Austrian and German colleagues in other neutral countries are likely to have their hands pretty full.

Premier Asquith may be congratulated on his selection of the committee which he nominated to consider and advise on the evidence regarding the outrages alleged to have been committed by the German troops in the present war. For in appointing Lord Bryce as chairman of the committee he gave a weight in this country to its findings which possibly no other British name could carry at the present moment.

Another of the signers of the report, namely, the Right Hon. Sir Frederick Pollock, is also well known on this side of the water and is familiar to every American lawyer of any standing as that of the editor of the "English Law Reports" for the last eighteen or twenty years.

Professor of jurisprudence at Oxford, the recipient of academic honors from Harvard and other American universities before whom he has lectured, one of the few foreign members of the Institute of France, he is descended from David Pollock, one of the most successful saddlers in England, who kept a saddler's shop at Charing Cross, in London, in the eighteenth century, and whose three sons became, one a field marshal and constable of the Tower of London, another chief justice of Bombay, and the third lord chief baron of the court of the exchequer.

It was the latter who received the barometage of which Sir Frederick is the third holder, his father having been for many years Queen Victoria's remembrancer and senior master of the supreme court of judicature.

Sir Frederick is married to the daughter of John Deffell of Calcutta, and one of his brothers, Walter, was formerly editor of the Saturday Review, and is known as the most skillful fencer in the United Kingdom. Sir Frederick himself is a particularly clever fencer, and one of the acknowledged authorities on the subject in England.

At one time he was one of the shining lights of the Unionist party, but three years ago, on his return from a long stay in this country, where he saw much of the leading Irish-Americans of New York, and of other big cities of the Union, he joined the Liberal camp.

Emperor William the other day was complimenting a German infantryman for his conspicuous gallantry under fire in France and remarked, "I know that you are very poor and that you are the only support of your aged parents. What would you sooner have—the Iron Cross or a hundred marks?"

The man reflected for a moment and then answered, "Will your majesty be so kind as to tell me the actual value in money of an Iron Cross?"

"O, not much," replied the emperor, "perhaps a couple of marks. It is the honor which it confers that gives it its importance."

"Then, your majesty," insinuated the soldier, "I would beg you very respectfully to let me have the Iron Cross and 98 marks."

It is said that William laughed heartily, gave him not only the cross, but the 100 marks in addition.

Sir Arthur Herbert, who is spending a few days in Chicago at the Blackstone hotel, with Lady Herbert, is one of the most distinguished members of the English diplomatic service, and since the beginning of the war has, at the instance of his government, made his headquarters in New York at the Plaza.

He represented his country as envoy at several of the German courts, also at that of Norway, where, owing to Queen Maude's having been the favorite daughter of Edward VII., both he and Lady Herbert were brought into intimate contact with the various members of the reigning house of Great Britain.

Lady Herbert is an American. She was Miss Helen Gammell, one of the daughters and heiresses of the late William Gammell of Providence, R. I., and is the founder and the president of the principal Anglo-British relief committee, composed of well known New York women engaged in purchasing, collecting, and shipping large quantities of clothing and other necessaries and comforts for the British troops campaigning against the Germans in both France and Belgium.

The Herberts have an only son, a freshman at Harvard, where he is receiving a sound American university training before proceeding to Oxford, thus becoming one of the half dozen Englishmen of ancient lineage who have sought a portion of their education at one or another of the great American seats of learning.

Sir Arthur, who is a Knight Grand Cross of the Victorian order, and who possesses a mastery of Russian as well as of the Persian language, belongs to the ancient house of the Herberts of Cherbury.

WATER TREATED WITH HYPOCHLORITE OF CALCIUM.

Chicago, May 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please advise me whether there is any part of the water supply of the city of Chicago treated chemically, and if so, from what intakes? Why is it necessary to restrict sprinkling, as is now done during the day? I have been obliged to place roof tanks on different buildings in order to get proper water supply during the summer months. Is this because of the small mains in the streets on which buildings are located, or are all of the mains inadequate? FRED A. GATES.

The water supply taken through the Sixty-eighth street crib, the Edward F. Dunne crib, and the Lake View crib is treated with hypochlorite of calcium to counteract possible pollution from the Calumet river and from the sewers emptying into Lake Michigan north of the city limits. This has been done for several years. It is necessary to restrict sprinkling in order to avoid an abuse of the privileges by persons who would allow their sprinklers to run at all hours. In general the distribution mains in the city of Chicago are of ample size.
JOHN ERICSON,
City Engineer.

NEIGHBORS NOTIFIED TO STOP NUISANCE.

Chicago, May 18.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The people living in the neighborhood of Fifty-seventh and Morgan streets have the habit of cutting sods out of the prairie and also depositing garbage, old cans, and other refuse, making an unsightly appearance. Kindly have the same reported to the proper authorities for immediate action and oblige.
MRS. J. MCCLURE, 5649 Morgan street.

The lot in question has been cleaned, the dirt leveled off, and the parties using this lot as a dumping place have been notified to discontinue the practice.
WALTER G. LEININGER,
Superintendent of Streets.

ORDINANCE NOT PASSED BY COUNCIL.

Chicago, May 18.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Recently an ordinance to change the name of Goldsmith avenue to Fielding avenue was introduced and passed by the city council. Can you inform me when the property owners will be given an official notice as to when change will be made?
GRACE GALLOWAY,
7705 Goldsmith avenue.

The ordinance referred to was not passed by the city council, but was referred to the committee on streets and alleys. I will recommend the passage of the ordinance at the next meeting of this committee.
JOHN D. RILEY, Superintendent of Maps.

EMPLOYES NOTIFIED TO STOP SINGING.

Chicago, May 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Permit me to call your attention to the nuisance existing in our neighborhood due to the employes of the ice company at Hinsche street and Claybourn avenue, who make it a regular habit to sing at all hours of the night, together with the noise made by the air blowers. Recently they have been throwing ice into the alley in the rear of their plant, which makes the place very insanitary. Kindly have the matter given consideration and oblige
FRED ABBATE, 623 Hinsche street.

The manager of the Crystal Manufactured Ice company states that he has given strict orders that no more singing be done around the plant at night and that the air blowers have been muffled in such a manner that he believes the neighbors will not be disturbed at night. He says that they do not throw any ice in the alley in the rear of their plant. There is a depression immediately back of the plant where rain accumulates. This hole, he thinks, should be filled by the street department.
WILLIS O. NANCE,
Chairman City Council Anti-Noise Subcommittee.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

MUST PROTEST OR WE WILL LOSE GERMANY'S TRADE.

Newell, S. D., May 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Let me warn THE TRIBUNE and through it the rest of the American press against carrying their protest over the Lusitania disaster too far. Too much of this protest will make our neutrality look all the more perfidious to the people of Germany; for that people knows accurately that we have not uttered one note of protest or resentment to Britain against the starving of 40,000,000 of women and children now actually going on in Germany; that we have not uttered one word of protest or resentment against the oft repeated threat of the British government "that it will not stop until it has destroyed Germany"; that we have not offered one word of protest or resentment against the thousands of British slanders launched against Germany; that we have not uttered one word of protest or resentment against the criminal conspiracy of three great nations to waylay and destroy Germany, which they are now engaged in; that we are engaged in the disgraceful traffic of furnishing instruments of murder for the destruction of the flower of German youth on a plea that is a perfidious piece of fiction.

What are the 1,200 people drowned on a British warship that is masquerading as a passenger steamer compared to this slaughter of German youth caused by our action? Let us not forget, lastly, that Germany has not threatened any nation with destruction, nor slandered any of them, although she is defending herself against the wanton attack from overwhelming numbers. Further, that Germany is the best friend and second best customer that the United States ever had, and we cannot afford to further increase the resentment of her people against us.
HENRY PEETZ.

AN UN-AMERICAN LETTER.

Gary, Ind., May 19.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—A letter was published in your paper by one Strong. The sentiments therein expressed are only those of an imperial German or of a sympathizer of German imperialism. The letter appears to be entirely anti-American and embodies no argument whatsoever in justification of the slaughter of the Lusitania's passengers. The less of apologists for the imperial policy of "rule or ruin" the better.

OTTO SCHMIDT.

HIS NATURALIZATION A SCRAP OF PAPER.

Chicago, May 19.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I can't understand why sensible people should get excited about the letter by Julius Meyer. This is a free country and we have a free press, so Mr. Meyer, as a German citizen, has a perfect right to speak. He has told the truth and it hurts. I have been in the United States for twenty-one years and a naturalized citizen since 1899. I have always been proud of this country, but since the horrible war started I have changed my mind and look upon my naturalization papers as a scrap of paper, thanks to the attitude of our neutral (?) government and the American press. A. L. KORF,

CHRISTIANITY AND WAR BABIES.

New York, May 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—After reading the heartless letter signed L. G. in your columns I am more than ever content to have adopted the rationalist view in opposition to what your correspondent terms Christianity. The irrationality of arguing that the "inherited tendencies" of children will be affected by the fact that their parents did or did not subject themselves to the repetition of a particular formula of marriage may escape the comprehension of "the clergy of England," but is none the less self-evident.

If Christian women applaud the persecution of innocent babies because their parents, without asking their consent in the matter, neglected to avail themselves of the services of church and state to conventionalize their love relations, so much the worse for that kind of Christianity. The talk of overpopulation comes with bad grace from the class which persecutes Neo-Malthusians and eugenists and makes in this country the circulation of birth control literature a crime.
JAMES F. MORTON JR.,

THE DEATH PENALTY.

Durand, Wis., May 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I was much pleased with an editorial which appeared in THE TRIBUNE a few days ago in which it seems that you doubt the wisdom of abolishing the death penalty in Illinois. There is too much sympathy wasted on murderers and it sometimes seems that our courts exist almost as much to help them escape punishment as they do to mete out justice. Several years ago eighty-six murders were committed in St. Louis, a city of 700,000, in one year. Of this number not one of the murderers paid the death penalty. A few were sent to the penitentiary for long terms, some others were sent for short terms, and a considerable number escaped punishment entirely. The same year in the city of London, with a population of 7,000,000, there were twenty murders committed. Of this number thirteen of the murderers were speedily tried and executed. Of the remainder nearly all received long terms of imprisonment and only one or two escaped punishment entirely. The abolishment of the death penalty has always resulted in an increase in the number of crimes committed.

AMERICANS FIRST AND LAST.

Chicago, May 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Allow me to congratulate THE TRIBUNE on that splendid editorial entitled "Americanism." It certainly was timely, coming during these trying moments when many thoughtless and ill-advised folks are mistrusting that great body of Americans of German birth or ancestry. In all our wars, dating from revolutionary times when our raw recruits, under the skillful military training of the German officers, were transformed into efficient soldiers, the German-Americans have played a most important part in the achieving of our victories. Let us be true to our country by cherishing our Americanism above everything else. May we be Americans first, last, and always in thought, word, and deed.

DEMOCRATS SEE WINNING POLITICS IN NAMING PETIT

Plan to Put Sitting G. O. P. Judge Ignored by His Party on Their Ticket.

Judge Adelor J. Petit, the only sitting Republican judge who was not renominated by the Republican county committee, may be placed on the Democratic ticket today to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of N. L. Piotrowski. Several Democratic leaders are advising this action as an effective way of making emphatic their stand for a nonpartisan judiciary, and if Judge Petit will allow his name to be used they will try to place him on their ticket.

Figures It's Good Politics.

They also figure that this would be good politics, as it would, they believe, draw to the support of the Democratic ticket a large number of Judge Petit's Republican friends. Judge Petit also has many supporters in the city administration and proponents of the plan to nominate him believe he would draw the support to their ticket of some of the city hall influence in line with Mayor Thompson's stand for a nonpartisan bench and his refusal to speak for the Republican ticket.

Congressman A. J. Sabath, chairman of the Democratic committee, intimated that he will not oppose such action if the committee thought it the wise thing to do.

National Issues Deposed.

Chairman Sabath criticized speeches at the Republican opening rally on the north side Thursday night. He was particularly aggrieved at the injection of the "full dinner pail" and national issues by David Brothers and others who spoke. "If they want the national issue, all right," said Mr. Sabath. "We will point to President Wilson and ask the voters of Chicago to support the Democratic nominees."

Opposition to naming candidates against Judge Brentano, Republican, or Supreme Justice Orrin N. Carter will be led by Chairman Sabath in the meeting today.

Peden Greeted Cordially.

Thomas J. Peden, Republican candidate for Circuit court judge, received a warm reception at the rally last night at Thirty-fifth street and Archer avenue, under auspices of the county managing committee. All Republican candidates attended and introduced themselves. The audience, mostly workingmen, gave Mr. Peden a cordial greeting. He told them he had spent his mature years touching elbows with the men who earn their bread by the sweat of their brows, and he thought the knowledge he had gained from them would aid him in trying to grasp fundamental law principles.

David M. Brothers again injected the national issue by insisting that a Republican judicial victory would be another step in the line of turning the government over to Republicans and bringing back national prosperity.

FLAILS TARIFF OF DEMOCRATS

Mayor Thompson Says Nation, However, Should Back War Policy.

HOOSIER "LOVE FEAST."

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21.—Speaking at a Republican "love feast" here tonight, William Hale Thompson, mayor of Chicago, said it was the duty of all, regardless of party, to stand behind the president in his foreign policy.

"I hope my remarks will not be interpreted as a criticism of the foreign policy of the administration in power," Mayor Thompson said, just after he had concluded a severe arraignment of the Democratic party on its tariff policy.

"Patriotism is nonpartisan, and it is the duty of all, regardless of party, to stand by the president in an altercation with a foreign power and in the maintenance of peace.

Must Guard Internal Policies.

"Because there is a war in Europe, however, we are not bound to be indifferent to internal policies upon which we are dependent for our business success and national well being as a people, and through which we sincerely believe the country is in commercial distress, by reason of which our fellow citizens are suffering."

After discussing the Wilson tariff measure passed by the Democrats at the Fifty-third congress and which he said "prostrated the country," the Chicago executive said:

"Heedless of their former errors and apparently indifferent to the history of the party, another tariff law was framed in accordance with Democratic theories, and, sigularly coincident, the bill was prepared under the direction of another Prof. Wilson, although not a member de facto of congress.

"As a result we again have able-bodied men and women walking the streets looking for employment; again industry is paralyzed; again soup houses and bread lines have become national institutions, and the hand of poverty is laid upon our people amidst the most bounteous crops our fertile farms have ever yielded.

Message of Hope and Cheer.

"I come not, however, as a bearer of doleful tidings, but with a message of hope and cheer. In the city where our beloved party was split in 1912 it was reunited this spring and galvanized into a mighty force for clean government, while the unprecedented vote which swept our party nominees into office is generally accepted as a forecast of what the people intend to do in the next national election.

"Republican national rule and prosperity go hand in hand and we cannot hope for a complete restoration of good times until our national economic laws have again been adjusted to the vital needs of the country."

Mr. Thompson said a protective tariff and an adequate merchant marine, protected by a powerful navy, "are clearly necessary if we are to maintain our position among the important commercial nations of the world."

The mayor spoke of the many respects in which Indiana and Illinois are similar, and added, "So it is that I am persuaded that the two states will be together in the vanguard of the procession next year which will move upon Washington under the banner of the grand old party."

PLAN REFORM IN PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY LAW

Scheme Is to Vote Directly for Delegates; State Lawmakers Will Adjourn on June 12.

Springfield, Ill., May 21.—[Special.]—Direct election of national convention delegates, pledged to a certain and specified candidate for president, is the latest development of the contest in the legislature for election reform.

The house committee on elections has agreed upon a radical change in the presidential preference primary, placed on the statute books largely through the efforts of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE four years ago, and the composite bill to be reported out Tuesday is said to have a good chance for passage.

Instead of voting directly for the men who are presidential candidates, the house bill provides for a system of voting for individual delegates in the districts and in the state at large.

The voter marks in a square to the left of the group he favors so that he registers simultaneously for his presidential favorite and for delegates.

Voters Must Sign Petitions.

Delegate candidates must file their petitions with the secretary of state to be signed by a certain number of voters. Accompanying the petition must be the delegate's pledge to support in convention the candidate named in his petition. There is no restriction regarding the number of delegate candidates who may file under the colors of any one candidate for president.

Provision is made, however, that a presidential candidate may file a certificate with the secretary of state "disavowing" any or all delegate candidates running under his name, the idea being to permit a presidential candidate to designate the candidates for delegates who have his backing.

It is also provided that delegate candidates may elect to run as "unpledged."

Set Future Primary Dates.

Agreement was reached in the house committee to hold the presidential preference primary in 1916 and thereafter on the day of the annual township elections throughout the state, which, in Chicago, is the date of the aldermanic elections. This was a concession to those who want to eliminate some of the elections in Chicago.

The house committee also abolished the state convention as it is constituted at present, and provided in its stead an assembly of nominees for state offices, congress, and the general assembly for platform making purposes.

The house worked busily on second reading bills and advanced nearly sixty measures, most of which were of minor importance. Business was carried on by unanimous consent, although there was a quorum present for the first time on a Friday since the session opened.

The administration waterway bill will be on third reading probably Wednesday. Its backers are confident now that it will be passed by a big majority. Representative Shurtleff's minor waterway bill was advanced to third reading.

The Moore bill increasing the salaries of members of the general assembly to $3,500 for each two years instead of $2,000 as at present was advanced to third reading, after an amendment to place them at $3,000 was defeated.

The senate was not in session today.

PRESBYTERIANS PRAISE WORK OF 'BILLY' SUNDAY

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Rochester, N. Y., May 21.—[Special.]—Two deliverances brought tumultuous applause today at the Presbyterian general assembly. The first was the linking of the name of "Billy" Sunday with an increase of 20,000 members in the Presbyterian denomination for the last year, the largest gain for many years. The second was the five hundredth anniversary address by the Rev. Francis L. Patton, former president of Princeton Theological seminary and for fifty years the champion of orthodox Calvanism in the Presbyterian church.

The first reference to Mr. Sunday was made by Dr. William Henry Roberts, the stated clerk, whose home is in Philadelphia. He did not mention the evangelist by name, but the reference was so unmistakeable that the assembly broke out in vigorous applause.

Praise Work of Sunday.

"The increase in the presbytery of Philadelphia has been 7,000," Dr. Roberts said, "owing to the labors of a certain minister of our denomination who is a member of the Chicago presbytery."

The Rev. John R. Davies, pastor of the Bethlehem Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, spoke of Mr. Sunday by name and called the recent revival in Philadelphia "the most marvelous revival which any commonwealth ever passed through."

"The city," he said, "has been absolutely transformed. One young woman who gave Mr. Sunday the names of thirty-seven persons she said she would like to see converted had the joy of seeing thirty-four of the number become Christians."

Every seat was filled in the church to hear Dr. Patton at the John Huss memorial at 4 o'clock. The occasion was considered second in interest to the members of the general assembly only to the address on temperance for which Secretary of State Bryan is announced for Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Patton Assails Critics.

"There is a drift," Dr. Patton said, "towards secularizing Christianity. For this kind of Christianity I have no use. Here is a recipe for a preacher of such theology:

"Take a few tablets of doctrine in a gallon of rosewater. Put a little of the solution into an atomizer and then let the minister spray the congregation while he prates about the sweetness of Christianity and the fragrance of benevolence."

Willis Baer of Los Angeles was appointed vice moderator of the general assembly and presided during part of the session. Other important actions of the assembly were:

Approved of employing only one firm of certified accountants for the auditing of the accounts of all the church boards.

Gave permission to the boards having permanent funds to invest in farm mortgages. This was adopted only after a long and lively debate over the comparative value of farm and other mortgages.

Approved the principle of establishing a fund for the purchasing of land for church building sites, but declined to authorize at this time a fund of $250,000 deemed necessary for its establishment.

Declared in favor of maintaining the reading of the Bible in the public schools.

MISS ELLA WATERMAN

The best dressed senior co-ed at Northwestern university, and the best looking to boot, is Miss Ella Waterman.

These important selections were announced yesterday at senior chapel, held for the first time in Patten gymnasium by Chester Hanson, statistician in extraordinary to the senior class.

Statistician Hanson also made known the fact that the average age of the young women and men who will be graduated from Northwestern next month is 22 years. The youngest senior is Arthur Nethercot, who is 19. The most "typical college woman," it developed, is Miss Margaret Wilcox. Among the men that honor also fell to Maurice James.

ASSASSINATION THREAT IN LETTER TO THRASHER.

Committee of Fifteen Attache Hears "There Will Be Repetition of Twenty-second Street Affair."

A letter received at the office of the Committee of Fifteen yesterday, addressed to S. P. Thrasher, mailed from Chicago, refers to the committee as "long haired stiffs who are trying to kick the underdog while he is down," and among other things says:

"Continue your operations and it will be but a matter of a few days when there will be a repetition of the Twenty-second street affair of last summer, only this time it will be farther south, and it won't be a man in uniform."

Mr. Thrasher said he is continually receiving anonymous letters containing veiled threats of one form or another, but this is the first one he has received containing a direct threat of assassination. He said he would not ask for police protection, but would continue his activities against the vice interests.

BOOKS AND THE PEOPLE WHO WRITE THEM

Ruggles' Experiences in Red Gap Society.

BY ELIA W. PEATTIE.

HARRY LEON WILSON, amusing himself and others with the story of "RUGGLES OF RED GAP," has told the tale of an English valet who, the forfeit of his master's unlucky gamble, is sent to America. He goes from the scrupulous proprieties of London to the scene of Red Gap, vaguely situated in the "far west," and in spite of his earnest endeavor to remain in the humble position for which he considered himself "designed" he finds himself celebrated as Colonel Marmaduke Ruggles, "our distinguished visiting Englishman." He soon becomes the arbiter of fashion at Red Gap, and, what was hardly less important, the restorer of peace between rival social factions; even, in time, he becomes the husband of an American wife. Moreover, from being the contemptuous patron of American barbarians, he achieves enthusiasm over his American citizenship.

The story moves jocularly, but Mr. Wilson's farcicality does not exclude good, warm human feeling; and with friendly perversity he makes the reader and Ruggles like the best of those characters of whom the proper set of Red Gap approve of least. Indeed Ruggles appears to love best those who shock him most. He is an admirer of "the real thing," and has the faculty of overlooking almost any offense save that of pretense.

The fun of the story lies, of course, in the contrasts offered between the preconceptions of Ruggles as to what is civilized and the customs and manners which are offered to his startled consideration at Red Gap. That town contains a stimulating lot of folk, to say the least, and although Ruggles is "quite almost rather" boresome at moments, yet on the whole the reader finds the story diverting. It seems particularly well adapted to the stage. (Doubleday Page & Co.)

Saved by Whitman.

Anonymous works of fiction are not common nowadays. The novel is the very particular and especial art of the time and few so modest that they are not willing to try their pens upon it and to let the product of their brains go abroad branded with the name of the author. "THE SEAS OF GOD" (Hearst International Library company) is an exception. No name appears upon the title page save that of Walt Whitman, which it attached to the quotation, "Are they not all the seas of God?"

Readers of "The Anthology of Spoon River" will remember how Caroline Bransom, the victim of a sudden satiety of life, having gone to her suicide's grave, begs for another incarnation and cries, "Save me, Shelley!" If Shelley's eager philosophy could reconcile this violently excursive woman to another experiment with life, so the spirit of Walt Whitman and that alone could remove from Lydia Lambright, the heroine of "THE SEAS OF GOD," the stigma which she herself had placed upon it. She had an inheritance of unchastity—but none of vulgarity. Sensitive, yet insurrectionary, idealistic, yet an intense devotee of materialism in its more exquisite forms, she fell quite easily in temptation. Indeed she appeared to think that temptation was something expressly created to yield to, but she paid heavily for her joys and adventures—paid as only a woman could who continually visioned beautiful things. Finally, in the height of her worldly fortune, she repudiated her life of ease and sensuality. She was saved by Whitman—by his lines, "To a Common Prostitute." "Not till the sun excludes you do I exclude you," he wrote. "Not till the waters refuse to glisten for you and the leaves to rustle for you——" and so on. "Whoever you are, you are he or she for whom the sun and moon hang in the sky." "The earth remains jagged and broken only to him or her who remains jagged and broken."

The story makes its appeal. It is very sympathetically presented and the character drawing is exceedingly good. Lydia Lambright is rather a pitiful heroine, but it takes all kinds of heroines to make a literature, and one can at least be thankful that she is not of the paper doll variety (Hearst International Library).

On the Desert's Rim.

American desert stories usually concern themselves with the southern wastes, but Ada Woodruff Anderson in writing her latest novel, "THE RIM OF THE DESERT" (Little, Brown & Co.) has chosen the Columbia desert in the state of Washington. Her characters are the men of grit and brawn who ask for nothing better than to develop the waste places of the earth—men who have had their Alaskan experiences and who understand all the problems of utilizing the natural resources. And her women are the sort who admire and bulwark such men.

Those who find in the study of decadence the only proper theme for an artistic novel will not derive very much satisfaction from this vigorous, humorous, anecdotal story brimful of the far north and the far west and saturated with the essence of Americanism, but any one who likes to read of real men, real loyalty, and constructive adventure will delight in it.

Rest Cure Story.

Ruth McEnery Stuart in a humorous mood has written "THE COCOON," the somewhat flighty description of a rest cure. Mrs. Stuart can always be relied upon to depict nice, faulty, amusing human beings, and no one has a lighter yet sympathetic touch than herself. The book is recommended to lessen the tedium of other rest cures. (Hearst International Libraries.)

More of the Cloak and Suit Trade.

That peculiar idiom used by the Jewish suit and cloak merchants of New York City, which seems to be the exclusive property of Mr. Montague Glass, who also appears to understand most intimately their unique business ethics and varying modes of thought, gets somewhat on the readers' nerves in the course of 350 consecutive pages, although Mr. Glass' fertility of invention is admirable and his characters and action are undoubtedly true to life. His latest collection of stories, "THE COMPETITIVE NEPHEW," introduces us to a wide range of the Jewish mercantile population of New York City, many of whom are quite the equals of Potash and Perlmutter in business sagacity, sly humor, and real soundness of heart at the core. (Doubleday, Page & Co.)

Connie Mack Says They Are Good.

Those baseball fans who like to supplement their experience season by season on the bleachers by reading fiction dealing with the national game may find something of the kind in Harry Beach Needham's "THE DOUBLE SQUEEZE," a three part story which gives its name to the book, or in "The Jinx," a two part tale of the same sort, which helps to make up the volume. Mr. Needham's technique is vouchsafed for by no less an authority than Connie Mack, which writes an enthusiastic introduction to the stories. (Doubleday, Page & Co.)

Camera and Rifle in Central Africa.

BY JEANNETTE L. GILDER.

THE combination of James Barnes and Cherry Kearton was a great one. Barnes is an American who comes from a family of sailors and men of adventure. Kearton is an Englishman who knows wild life and knows how to photograph it. Barnes is a sportsman, Kearton is a naturalist. The two got together and the result is a highly entertaining volume called "THROUGH CENTRAL AFRICA" (Appleton).

Mr. Barnes, being a humane man, resolved that there would be "no wounded, trapped, or harassed" animals taken; "that slaughter would be conspicuous by its absence," and that, so far as possible, animals would be seen "moving undisturbed in their natural habitat, and that the native life would be represented unstaged and truthfully." So the reader will not find in this book any details of massacred animals. Moving pictures are made of this expedition and many of them have been seen in New York and other cities of this country. A great many people whom I have met prefer the Barnes moving pictures to those taken by Mr. Paul Rainey, for, excellent as the latter are as pictures, some of them are very horrible.

I think that I would rather read about adventures among the wild animals of Africa than to be an eye witness. Enraged elephants, fierce lions, and man eating leopards do not appeal to me as an attraction of tent life or country walks. Mr. Barnes tells us of a leopard that would come right through the wall of the flimsy native huts and pick up a child and go off. This particular leopard generally seemed to choose those children who were under 8 years. Fritz Schindler, who was later pawed to death by a lion, gave pursuit to a particularly vicious leopard one night and although he intended to keep awake, Fritz must have fallen asleep.

He was awakened by a great outcry. The headman, with a couple of distracted women, rushed into the hut that Fritz was occupying. The leopard had taken another, a little child of 3, and the son of the headman himself. Fritz got his rifle, and with men and torches and spears, went down to where the leopard had jumped over a low wall and had entered the bushes. They could hear the child's cries very plainly. He evidently was not badly hurt and the leopard was carrying him in his mouth.

It was a very dark night and the bush very thick. Half a dozen times the leopard with the shrieking infant allowed them to come within a dozen yards of him before he moved on, but he never put the child down. At last the child's cries ceased, and they had no way of locating the animal at all. Daylight came and they found one of the poor little victim's hands on the opposite side of the road—a very well traveled highway. The leopard had simply walked around the village and had never gone more than a hundred yards away.

When one takes into account that human prey is the easiest that a lion or a leopard can take, "it is wonderful," writes Mr. Barnes, "that there are not more man eaters or children eaters, for the trials between the villages are filled with perfectly helpless unarmed people all day long. Up to the Samburra country, where the lions were plentiful, we have seen flocks and herds tended by women and many children apparently unafraid. But once let a lion or lioness or leopard taste human flesh and it becomes a confirmed killer, and if it is old and its teeth worn it will touch nothing else."

Prohibitionists Should Look Him Up

Evidently the Prohibitionists, who have recently failed in congress as well as in their efforts to have the Democrats adopt their idea as a national issue, should have employed the hero of James Hay's novel, "THE MAN WHO FORGOT" (Doubleday, Page & Co.). That persistent and magnetic gentleman could have told them how to turn the trick, for he actually succeeds in getting a bill for national prohibition through congress.

Good for Girls.

Of the Elsie book type, but far more readable to grownups is Elsie Singmaster's "KATY GAUMER" (Houghton Mifflin company), a story of a rather willful and headstrong Pennsylvania German girl who wanted a career and got a husband. Recommended for the library of girls from the sixth grade in grammar school to the sophomore class in college.

A little story of the Red Cross flag in Belgium, founded on a supremely pathetic and supremely heroic occurrence during the masterful retreat from Mons.

"It is true in its main details," writes Mrs. Barclay, "given as it reached me, in the sublime simplicity of a soldier's letter from the front."

SINGLE BY TOMMY DALY GIVES FABER VICTORY

Hit Breaks Up Game After Red Shuts Out Enemy for Ten Rounds.

RECRUIT HOLDS HOSE.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Chicago's White Sox and Boston's Red Sox made baseball history yesterday at Comiskey park in their first combat of the season when they struggled for seventeen innings, the gallant Chicagoans driving in the winning run shortly before sundown and gaining the conquest by a count of 3 to 2.

It was the greatest and most exciting game of ball Chicago's fans have seen in years and although it was long past the supper hour when the end came, the crowd of about 6,000 persons stuck to see the victory which they seemed sure of from the start. It was the kind of game that tested the White Sox strength and nerve to the limit and they came out looking like champions.

Daly's Single Brings Victory.

Early in the contest the White Sox scored two runs. They came in the second inning. They didn't score again until the last half of the seventeenth, when with the bases filled and no one out young Tommy Daly went up to the plate as a pinch hitter and slammed a single down the left foul line. Buck Weaver, who was on third base, trotted in with the much desired run and it was all over.

The Red Sox scored one in the sixth and one in the seventh, and thereafter were suppressed round after round until their own finally battered them down and carried off the honors. It was a season's record in the American league and was as long as any game played on the south side in ten years.

Faber's Pitching Features.

Brilliant fielding by each side featured the game, but it was the great pitching of Red Faber, the Cascade boy, which stood out above everything else. Red didn't enter the contest until seven innings had been played and when he went in the score was 2 to 2. For ten rounds he labored against the heavy hitting Boston boys and his work was the best he has shown.

After pitching himself out of tight holes in the eighth and ninth, Red went along like a tremendous machine that never tires, and at the finish he appeared able to continue another ten rounds, if necessary. From the tenth to the seventeenth he allowed only two hits and walked nobody. Both hits were made by Forrest Cady, the stalwart catcher of the Hose. One was a single in the tenth and the other a three bagger in the fifteenth. Two were out when the latter blow was struck.

Russell Goes Seven Rounds.

Before Faber was drawn into the combat Reb Russell was on the slab. For five innings he set down the enemy without a run, but in the sixth and seventh he was nicked for four hits and two runs. Russell might have stuck longer, but when it was his turn to hit in the last of the seventh the Sox had a runner on third with one out, and Zeke Demmitt was sent to hit for the big pitcher.

Opposed to Russell and Faber were two of Boston's best hurlers, Ernest Shore going for seven innings before he gave way to a pinch hitter. This brought young Carl Mays to the slab, a recruit hurler whom the Sox never before had seen, and the youngster handed them a stylish assortment of underhand curves that had them greatly distressed until the last half of the seventeenth.

Great Support Saves Mays.

However, the young Boston slabman never would have extended the game to such length if he hadn't been given support that sparkled. The veteran Heine Wagner and the youngster, Everett Scott, at second and short, respectively, pulled out several plays that dazzled, and had it not been for this pair the Sox would have pushed the needed run over in the fifteenth. Weaver was on second and Schalk on first, with one out, when Faber cut a sharp grounder down toward the third baseman. Scott skidded over into the grass of deep short, dug the ball out of the earth, and fired it to Wagner on second just in time to force Schalk.

The Sox fans have only one regret over the game. Boston didn't have all its stars on the field. In the sixth inning Tris Speaker was banished by Umpire O'Loughlin for kicking too strenuously on a decision at first base and the great outfielder had to watch the balance of the game from the grandstand. In the same inning Hoblitzel, the speedy first baseman, was slightly injured and the young third baseman, McNally, was taken out for a pinch hitter. Del Gainer played first thereafter, with Hal Janvrin on third and Olaf Henriksen in center field.

Weaver Starts Decisive Rally.

It was the tail enders of the White Sox batting order that accomplished the great deeds all through the contest. They produced the two runs in the second round and they made the attack in the seventeenth which won the game. Buck Weaver was first up in the winning attack and pulled a two bagger down inside first base, barely out of Gainer's reach. Quinlan, who had entered the fray in the ninth, was hit by a pitched ball.

Then the decisive play occurred. Schalk laid a bunt down toward third base. Big Cady yanked his mask and pounced upon the ball. He fired to third for a force play, but Weaver was there ahead of the ball, and the bases were filled with no one out. It was Faber's turn next, but after a moment's deliberation Manager Rowland waved him back and called upon Tommy Daly. The young catcher picked out the second ball pitched to him and rammed it down past third for a single, which sent Weaver home.

Schalk Drives in Runs.

Three hits were used in making the two runs in the second. Fournier started with an infield single, but was forced by J. Collins. Weaver got a scratch hit, but was forced at second by Brief, J. Collins going to third. Brief then stole second, and both he and Collins tallied on Schalk's single.

A pass to Hoblitzel after two were out in the sixth was followed by a double by Scott and produced the first Boston run. Three singles in a row by Hooper, Wagner, and Janvrin after two were out in the seventh were the cause of the visitor's second count.

War will be resumed with the Red Sox today and tomorrow.

It doesn't seem possible but our Eddie Collins was at bat seven times in the long combat and got nary a base hit.

Doc Slattery of Dubuque, old time friend of Charles Comiskey, was present with Mrs. Slattery. Both pronounced it the greatest game of ball they ever had seen.

Al Meltzer, who has dispensed red hots at the Sox park for a number of years, procured his release yesterday, and today will open a shooting gallery on South State street.

Jack Fournier was credited with only one hit. He died on a terrific line drive to Henriksen in the sixth. In the sixteenth he got to second when Henriksen muffed another drive after getting both hands on it.

Tommy Quinlan was sent in to run for Brief in the ninth when Bunny was on first with two out. Quinlan then played left field and Fournier took the first base job for the balance of the siege.

Jake Stahl, former manager of the Red Sox, but now a prominent Woodlawn banker, watched the game from a box back of the Boston bench. Tris Speaker sat with him after being put out of the game.

Forrest Cady was the clouting hero of the battle, with three singles and a triple in seven times at bat. When he made his triple in the fifteenth, the call was three balls and one strike and Faber laid one in the groove for him.

Heine Wagner started a smart double play in the fourteenth. Fournier was on first with one out when J. Collins bounced to Heine. He grabbed the ball and attempted to tag Fournier. When Jack turned back toward first Heine shot to Gainer, getting J. Collins out, then Gainer pegged to Scott and Fournier was tagged sliding for second.

BUMMING A RIDE ON THE DRIVE.

BIRMINGHAM QUITS AS INDIAN MANAGER

Turns In Resignation on Request of President Somers; Fohl Temporary Leader.

Cleveland, O., May 21.—Joe Birmingham resigned as manager of the Cleveland Americans today. According to announcement by President Charles W. Somers, Birmingham's resignation was requested. No successor has been named.

Birmingham succeeded Harry Davis as manager in 1912. He had played in a Cleveland uniform as an outfielder since 1906. Poor showing of the team last year and so far this season led to his retirement.

HARRY LORD, FORMER SOX, GOES TO JOIN BUFFEDS.

Portland, Me., May 21.—Harry Lord, former captain of the Chicago White Sox, left today to join the Buffalo team of the Federal league. He will report tomorrow and sign the contract, the terms of which have been agreed on.

Lord came to Chicago over a week ago and secured his unconditional release from President Comiskey of the White Sox on May 12. He announced at the time that he intended to purchase an interest in the team at Portland, Me., his home town, and manage and play there.

Lord's desertion of the Sox in the middle of last season caused considerable talk. It was reported that he was flirting with the Federal league, but left the Sox before completing arrangements for a berth with the independents.

Lord jumped suddenly one night while the Sox were in Washington. He told no one but his roommate, Hal Chase, that he was going. Chase said nothing about the matter until the next morning, when Manager Callahan inquired for Lord. Harry tried to secure his release from Comiskey shortly after that, but the Old Roman refused to relinquish his claim to the player.

HENDRIX DRIVES FIVE RUNS HOME; BEATS BROOKLYN

Poles Triple and Homer and Also Stops Brookfeds After First Round.

BY J. J. ALCOCK.

With a no-hit game to his credit in his last previous out, Claude Hendrix came back yesterday and gave a perfect exhibition of how a pitcher can win his own game. Claude supplemented excellent pitching with some high class batting and the Whales licked the Brooklyn sluggers, 9 to 2.

Brooklyn gathered a two run lead right at the start. Two double plays kept the enemy in front till the third, then Hendrix stepped up with two mates on the lines and soaked out a triple for a pair of runs. He scored himself a moment later. Smith was on second, with two Whales interned, in the fourth when Claude got to bat again. This time the Whale Moose beaned an innocent bysitter in the left bleacher with a home run.

Tom Seaton Given Beating.

Those five tallies, due mostly to Hendrix's ability as a slugger, were more than sufficient to insure him a victory. Merely as a matter of practice the Whales slammed Tom Seaton for four more scores in the fifth chapter. Awry bunts produced three counters after Dutch Zwilling had pulled a home run over the right fence to start the frame.

Everybody expected a pitchers' battle when Seaton and Hendrix were announced as the hurlers. What followed bore out the old saw that you never can tell in the national pastime. Seaton had more than enough by the end of the fifth inning, and he was withdrawn by Manager Magee for repairs. Joe Finneran finished the slabbing without allowing any more runs.

Finneran Goes to Mound.

Apparently the Whales were out to disprove the statement that the Tip Tops are the batting marvels of the third league. They soaked Seaton, ranked with the best Fed pitchers, for nine swats in five attacks. Finneran yielded four more blows, and the thirteen hits accumulated by the north siders were good for twenty-two cushions.

Things looked so dismal for the visitors that Magee began trying out his reserves in the sixth session. When Finneran went in to pitch Lester Pratt was given a chance to catch, and Dave Howard, a former Cornell university star, replaced Alva Halt at short. Even the ancient Danny Murphy broke into the statistics in the eighth, taking Magee's job at second base.

Double Plays Stop Whales.

Double plays via Halt, Magee, and Cooper nullified two Whale walks in the first two rounds. Farrell was passed to start the third, and when Beck hit over second another twin killing looked certain. Halt booted that one, however, and Hendrix drove a triple to center which counted Farrell and Caruso. Zwilling sent in the pitcher with a single to right.

Magee dropped an easy pop from Smith's bat in the fourth, and after Farrell and Beck went out Hendrix smashed a fast one into the left bleacher for two runs. Zwilling's homer into Sheffield avenue started the bombardment in the next stanza. Flack, Wilson, and Fritz followed with safe bunts, filling the corners. Smith's single scored a pair of counts and two more were registered on Seaton's punk throw of Farrell's sacrifice and a long fly by Beck.

All Chicago Clubs Press Top Position.

A GLANCE at the baseball standings printed this morning should make all Chicago's fans feel proud. Although none of Chicago's three teams is in first place, all three are so close to the top that it makes a fellow dream of pennants. The White Sox, with a percentage of .600, are second, five points back of New York. However, the Sox have won twenty games and lost twelve while New York has won only seventeen and lost ten, so if one rates according to games won and lost the Sox really are a half a game ahead of the New Yorkers, having won three more and lost only two more. The Cubs are in second place, seven points behind Philadelphia, but if one figures on games won and lost the two teams are tied, for the Cubs have won eighteen and lost twelve while the Phillies have won seventeen and lost eleven. The Whales with eighteen games won and thirteen lost are in third place, only a game and a half behind Pittsburgh.

Brooklyn today for the last game of the set.

Down in the sun boxes it was fairly comfortable despite the terrific wind that swept over the park.

It was "Ladies' day," and with the fair fans there were over 3,000 out to see the fray. Many of the women paid their way in, apparently not knowing they could have gone through the pass gate.

Lester Pratt, recruit catcher with Brooklyn, acquired his job much as a clerk would land a place in a department store. Lester applied at the players' gate in Brooklyn when the season opened, inquired for Magee, and asked the manager if he needed any catchers. Magee was so surprised he took Pratt on for a trial, and Les is still adorning the Tip Top pay roll.

The fans were surprised to note that the scores of the Sox and Cub games were not posted. It wasn't because Weeghman has any new grouch, however. Tinker has been complaining that the left handed hitters looked into the ciphers on the scoreboard when the other local games were hung up, and Weeghman left the space blank to see what effect it would have. The result makes it look as if a new place will have to be found for the Sox and Cub scores.

ERROR STARTS ROGERS ON WAY IN GELID GAME

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Boston, Mass., May 21.—[Special.]—Joe Connolly's muff of Cy Williams' snaky fly in the fourth inning gave the Cubs a triumph today in a hard fought battle with the world's champions, and practically put them even with the leaders. Score, 3 to 2.

By that small margin did Jim Lavender register a victory over Dick Rudolph in weather that was so gelid it was difficult to hurl a spit ball without producing icicles.

Each slabman was touched for seven safeties, but they kept them so well scattered that only one run would have resulted on each side but for the generosity of the defense. The Cubs earned a counter in the seventh with a double and single in succession, and the Braves merited one of their pair in the eighth on the same kind of a combination. The other was the result of a pass.

Finish Before Storm.

The game was finished just in time to beat the storm, which has been gumming up various schedules for some time, and which threatened to drench Plymouth Rock at any minute all day. In addition it was beastly cold. Only a few baker's dozens of fans thought there would be a ball game, but to please them and perhaps slip one over on the Cubs Manager Stallings insisted on playing. He is sorry now.

In spite of the conditions, the affair was well played, and the decision rested "on the knees of the gods." Each team made one boot, but that perpetrated by Heine Zimmerman did not cost a thing, because Heine himself came to the rescue right afterward with a double play that beaded off trouble. Connolly did not have any such chance to retrieve his blunder.

Phelan Opens with Single.

Manager Bresnahan started on Rudolph with a rushing sort of attack. Phelan cracked a single to left for a starter and the Cubs tried to run Rudolph off his feet. Fisher took a toe hold and smashed a warm one, but it went straight at Rudolph, who wheeled and forced Phelan at second. Schulte then tried for a home run, but it fell into Moran's hands. Fisher perished stealing.

The next opening the Cubs had was in the fourth round, which opened with a walk for Schulte. Bresnahan switched his attack and played for one run. As a result he got two. Zimmerman sacrificed Schulte to second. Saier grounded out, putting the runner on third. Williams lifted a fly over left. Connolly went back under it, but muffed the pill and let Fred to second, Schulte scoring, of course. Archer followed up with a clean single, which drove Williams home. Knisely also picked one safely, but Lavender struck out.

Fisher Drives Winner Home.

The Cubs scored the winning run after two were on in the seventh. Phelan walloped a double to center and Fisher drove him home with a single straight out over second. Schulte skied the side out.

Up to that time it did not look as if the Cubs would need more than one run to win, for Lavender had the Braves stopped for several innings. In that time they made four widely scattered singles and the only time he was in trouble was in the second. Magee opened that with a hit. Zimmerman fumbled Schmidt's bounder and Smith sacrificed, putting men on third and second with one down. Maranville walked and the sacks were loaded. Gowdy smashed one to Zim close to second and he pulled a quick double play, retiring the side.

Braves Rally in Eighth.

The Braves made their only real rally in the eighth. Moran drew a pass with one out. Egan smashed a liner at Fisher, who held it, then Connolly poked a double along the left foul line, scoring Moran. Magee sent a single to right, driving Connolly across the plate, but Lavender stopped that attack by striking out Schmidt.

CUB SYDELIGHTS.

Boston, Mass., May 21.—[Special.]—Two more games with the Braves this trip.

The Cubs have won five out of ten games so far on the trip, with six more to play.

The victory while Philadelphia was idle practically tied the Cubs with the skidding Phillies, although the percentages give the latter a small margin.

As the war scribes were leaving the park a taxi driver hailed them and asked if the game was over. He had been waiting until the crowd came out hoping to pick up a fare, but there wasn't any crowd to come out.

Manager Stallings took a long chance when he sent Cather to bat for Tragresser in the ninth inning. If the Braves had tied the score in that round Stallings would have had no one to catch. Gowdy, Whaling, and Tragresser had been in the game and been taken out.

ILLINOIS TEAMS TO MEET MAROON ATHLETES TODAY.

Illinois and Chicago athletes will have a battle royal on Stagg field today when the baseball and track teams meet in the annual outdoor dual clash. The Illinois nine will start play favorites over the Maroons, but Stagg's track stars will have have an advantage over the visitors, according to the dope.

Coach Stagg yesterday would not grant his team this advantage. He said the outcome of the meet would depend on the scores in a few events—the dashes, high jump, and weight events.

Three Maroon stars will run their last races before the home rooters. The men are Capt. Francis Ward in the hurdles, Duerson Knight in the dashes, and Roy Campbell, last year's captain, in the middle distance runs. All have lowered former records this year, and totaled high points for the Maroons in every meet this year.

Coach Page's ball players will play with a determination to sidetrack the Illini from a runaway race for the Big Nine flag. Des Jardien probably will pitch.

Squeeze Play Sends Home Run Which Beats St. Cyril in Long Battle.

Evanston Star Fans Eleven and Holds Hawkeyes to Six Safe Hits.

Iowa City, Ia., May 21.—[Special.]—By bunching hits in the third and fourth innings Northwestern defeated Iowa, 4 to 0. Juel held the Hawkeyes to six scattered hits and struck out eleven. He had Iowa at his mercy when hits meant runs.

Northwestern counted two more in the fourth, Quigley scoring on his double and Locher's single. Locher scored on Ingham's error and a passed ball. After that Ingham braced and held the visitors.

An incipient Hawkeye rally in the ninth was nipped when Juel struck out Sieverding with Iowa runners on third and second. Score:

H. N. SCOTT WINS HANDICAP PRIZE AT CHICAGO GOLF

Hosick and Crews Tie for Second Honors in Heyday Tournament.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

A cockney might have had troubles of his own at the Heydey tournament of the Chicago Golf club yesterday, as Harold N. Scott of the home club won the low net score of the handicap with a card of 90-10-80, while Harry N. Hosick of Flossmore tied with Ralph Crews of Riverside for second low net prize, the former having a card of 92-10-82, the latter notching 94-12-82.

Mason Phelps of the Chicago club, twice holder of the western amateur championship, had low gross of 84, playing from scratch. His card was ten strokes over par for the 6,500 yard course. He landed sixth in the net column, but tied with A. B. Eaton, a clubmate, for low gross total on the eighth, ninth, tenth, and eleventh holes, each taking eighteen strokes. Frank Smith of Skokie and Walter Egan of Exmoor tied with similar totals for the guest prize for these holes.

Wind Bothers Players.

Seventy-five members and guests appeared for the opening play of the two day event. It might be more appropriate to say they blew in, as a forty mile "zephyr" was doing its best to dry up the overnight rain. It would have been hard going for even the par players, and the scores of the veterans were "bullish." Several of them failed to finish.

John Reid Jr., vice president of the U. S. G. A., was among the guests, but came within three strokes of being a centurion.

Collegians Play Today.

University of Chicago golfers will meet the University of Illinois in an eighteen hole match at the Beverly Country club this morning. The downstate team is exceptionally strong this year, containing Howard Walton, champion of central Illinois; J. Simpson of Galesburg, former champion; "Chick" Weems of Quincy, F. White, Olson, and Ramey. Director George Huff is acting manager. The Illini will compete in the eastern intercollegiate event in September. The Maroon team will be led by Charles Grimes, the western junior champion, the other players being "Josh" Stevenson, A. Ingwersen, D. Donahue of Joliet, and "Pinky" Davis.

Glen View Ready to Start.

The Glen View club will open its competitive season this afternoon with the qualifying round for the Frazier cup and an eighteen hole class event.

PRINCIPALS MUST RESTORE PREPS TO GOOD STANDING.

Suspended athletes of the Chicago High School Athletic league must await action by the Principals' association before the bans are lifted. In other words, the faculty board of control at its meeting yesterday refused to clean the slate until the principals took the responsibility off their hands.

As matters now stand the entire Hyde Park basketball team stands suspended for violating the rules last fall. One member of this team is on the baseball club, while another is with the golf quartet. At the last principals' meeting it was moved that all past suspensions be dropped and that with next September the league would start a clean sheet.

Drink or Drug Users Beware of Frauds

Pending official investigation of facts, which we have reported to proper legal authorities for the arrest and prosecution of some unprincipled individuals who have been defrauding drink or drug users, we hereby notify the public that the head Neal Institute—formerly the Chicago Hospital—at 811-T East 49th St., Chicago (Oakland 439), and Neal Institute located in beautiful grounds adjoining the Country Club at Springfield, are the ONLY PLACES, and the high class physicians in charge are the ONLY PHYSICIANS authorized or competent to administer the Neal Treatment for drink or drug users in the State of Illinois.

DE PALMA SPEEDS UP ON TRIAL SPIN

BY REED L. PARKER.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21.—[Special.]—Ralph De Palma today drove his four cylinder Mercedes once around the two and one-half mile speedway in 1:31:7, an average of ninety-eight miles an hour, proving that by reducing the piston displacement limit for the 500 mile race here on May 29 from 450 cubic inches to 300 cubic inches the officials had reduced the speed of the cars little, if any.

De Palma was given his first elimination trial under anything but favorable conditions. There was a strong wind blowing across both stretches, which, it is believed, materially reduced the speed of the cars. Yet the Italian, with a motor two-thirds the size of that which Boillot last year turned up to a speed of 99.9 miles an hour for a lap, almost equaled the record.

New Carburetor Increases Speed.

De Palma's car, he said yesterday, was made at least five seconds to the circuit faster by the use of a new Packard carburetor, which J. G. Vincent, chief engineer of the Packard company, fitted to the car today. So far as is known by Vincent, De Palma's trial was the first test of a carburetor of his design on high speed cars, although one like it will be used on stock cars in 1916.

De Palma's wonderful effort was easily the feature of today's trials, which resulted in the qualification so far as speed is concerned of Barney Oldfield's Bugatti, Tom Orr's Maxwell, and De Palma's Mercedes.

Try Many Machines Today.

The real excitement, which always attends the elimination trials when big fields are entered, is expected to begin tomorrow, when the three Stutz cars, at least two more Maxwells, the Porter Knights, and the Duesenbergs are promised as attractions. It is not unlikely the Darius Resta will give his Peugeot its first time trial, while Porporato, Grant, and Graham are expected to find the real speed of their Sunbeams.

The Porter Knights arrived today. They were accompanied by Findley R. Porter, the designer, and Hughie Hughes, Charles Kreig, and Neil Whalen, who will drive them.

Porter Cars Are Mysteries.

The Porter cars still are mysteries. Certain information from sources said to be unquestionable that has come to those gathered here for the race is to the effect that the cars may develop a speed of 110 miles an hour. If that is true, they are almost as fast as De Palma's Mercedes and a merry fight for the world's speedway record for cars of the 300 inch class will develop.

COMMERCIALISM.

That, we haven't room to say it again, is the cause, according to President Lannin of the Red Sox, of the present apathy of the bugs toward the national pastime. He refers, of course, to the com. of the athletes, not the owners.

Now Mr. Lannin ought to know more about baseball than we (cries of "No, No!"), but we'll give him a stick of candy for every fan he can point out who remains away from a game that Johnson's billed to pitch because Walter did the double jump; every fan who applauds Benny Kauff's achievements less heartily because he tried to better his financial condition by hopping to the Giants, and every fan who despises Rankin Johnson because he wouldn't stand for a salary cut at Cleveland and signed with Tinker's Whales. But perhaps he doesn't eat stick candy.

CHICAGO PREPS QUALIFY.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 21.—[Special.]—Chicago schools placed a majority of their athletes in today's preliminaries for Michigan's annual interscholastic meet.

Graham of University High and Smart of La Grange, next to Kimball, the Muskegon crack, were the stars of the meet. These three boys came through with a trio of qualifications each. Flote of Chicago won the 100 yard preliminary and the 220 yard dash.

Detroit Eastern High promises to be the school that the Illinois boys must beat. The Michigan institute tied University High and Lewis institute with eight qualifications. La Grange followed with seven.

Mayor Will Not Grant Permits for Shows Before the Big Race.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21.—[Special.]—The Freddie Welsh-Milburn Saylor bout, scheduled for Speedway eve, the night before the big 500 mile race, at which time thousands of visitors will be in the city, has been given a solar plexus punch by Mayor Bell.

The mayor tonight declared no permit would be granted for the fight. The George Chip-Jack Dillon bout for the afternoon of the same day also must be declared off.

It is understood the Welsh-Saylor bout was to have been allowed, but when a permit was refused for the Dillon-Chip clash the trouble among the promoters resulted in the ruling against both affairs by the city administration.

WILLARD COMES BACK TO CHICAGO AS RING LEADER

Returns to City Today, Fulfilling Prediction He Would Win Title.

BY RAY C. PEARSON.

A little more than three months ago a tall, rangy fellow, appearing all arms and legs, shouted a farewell to the gang in a Madison street gymnasium, stooped to pass through the door, and soon was aboard the rattler and on his way to El Paso, Tex. There were some folks in that gymnasium who smiled satirically, while others, the kind who possess a sympathetic strain, said nothing. Their thoughts were of the big "misguided" athlete who had just left them, for they could see nothing ahead of him but a beating and pugilistic oblivion.

That was the Jess Willard of three months ago, and as he left he whispered into the ears of his friends: "When I come back to Chicago again it will be as champion of the world." Today this same Jess Willard returns to Chicago as champion of the world, just as he predicted before he departed, and his triumphal entry is expected to be greeted by many of those skeptical friends who "never gave him a chance" to defeat the great Jack Johnson, who had held the crown for nearly eight years.

Willard in City Today.

There's nothing really new about how Willard knocked the colored man out in the twenty-sixth round of their battle at Havana, Cuba, on April 5, the battle being staged on the island because Johnson refused to go through with the original program for a fight at Juarez Mex., on March 6. But interest is certain to awaken today when the new champion, the first white man able to defeat the negro in many years, puts in an appearance. Willard is now reaping his reward for his achievement, for he is the star performer with the "101 Ranch" show, which is billed to start a two day run in Chicago today.

Tom Jones, Willard's manager, came to the city in advance of his champion, and the show last night, and Tom, voluble as ever, tore off several reams of conversation about his champion.

Draws $1,200 Ea... Day.

"Are we making money?" came back Jones when asked if Willard was cleaning up as the result of his ring prowess. "Well, say, let me tell you something. Jess is drawing a guarantee of $1,000 for every day and his contract calls for 100 days. He is given more than that when the gate returns show above a certain amount, and he hasn't drawn less than $1,200 for any of the eleven days he has been on the road. That, too, in spite of the fact that we've run into rain everywhere."

Having unburdened himself of this important item, for money topics always interest "Noisy Tom," he changed to the other reel, that concerning the big battle in Havana.

Tells Story of Fight.

"There never was a fight like it," said Jones. "I saw that terrific slugging battle between Wolgast and Nelson in California, and it was fierce, but just imagine what punishment Willard and Johnson inflicted with their powerful wallops. Time and again both fighters drove terrific rights to the stomach, which would cave in a stone wall. I cannot figure how the battlers ever stood the blows, but they did.

Negro Wishes Jess Luck.

"For many years Johnson did not speak to me, but after the fight he came to me, extended his hand, and said: 'Let's be friends. I wish you and Willard all the luck you could wish for yourselves.'

There's going to be a little event tomorrow that isn't for the benefit of the public. The new champion is going to see Mrs. Jess Willard for the first time since he won the title.

When Willard leaves Chicago he will travel in his new private car, which has just been finished by the builders. Manager Jones describes it as a "palace on wheels," so it must be some affair.

COLUMBIA YACHT CLUB LOSES ITS PROPERTY.

A bill to foreclose on the properties of the Columbia Yacht club for alleged default of payment of outstanding bonds totaling $3,950 was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by the Chicago Title and Trust company. The yacht club went into bankruptcy early in the year and E. H. Allen was appointed trustee in February. The bill, directed against both Mr. Allen and the club, asks that the lien held by the trust company be adjudged a prior lien upon the building and that in default of payment the building and improvements may be ordered sold.

Five Moore Brothers Appear in One Ring.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 21.—[Special.]—Four victories and one defeat was the record hung up by the Moore family tonight when the five brothers participated as 50 per cent of the mitting at the National A. C. before a jammed house. In the last contest Willie defeated Reddy Butler of Kansas City. Jimmy Murphy outboxed Pal Moore. Frankie Moore scored a hair line decision over the tough K. O. Joe O'Donnell. Reddy Moore shaded Eddie Wagond. Al Moore made his professional debut against Frankie McCarty and outboxed him.

CARD OF 6 RACES FOR CYCLE STARS BILLED TONIGHT

New Riverview Velodrome to Be Opened with "Pro" and Amateur Events.

Cycling gets a place on the Chicago sporting map tonight when the new Riverview Velodrome opens with a card of races which promise interesting competition. The program, which includes six races, three for professionals and a like number for amateurs, should result in plenty of speed thrills, for the star performers of the country are listed among the entries. The events will be divided into heats, due to the big entry, with the result eighteen contests will be run off.

A feature will be the twenty mile motor paced contest in which four of the star professionals in the country will compete. These are Oscar Egg, the Swiss unpaced champion; Jimmy Moran, the Chelsea Irishman; Peter Drobach the south Boston German, and Eddie Root of six day fame.

LAKE FOREST CADS WIN.

Lake Forest academy defeated Crane Tech. High school in a dual meet yesterday at Lake Forest, 71⅓ to 51⅔. A strong wind prevented fast time in the distances and hurdles. Capt. Bauer of Lake Forest ran the hundred in :10, with Capt. Peetz of Crane a close second.

Rogers of Lake Forest was the individual point winner with 19 points, winning firsts in the 220, low hurdles, broad jump, and high hurdles; second in the pole vault, and third in the high jump.

NEW SCHOOL OR CHILDREN STRIKE, MOTHERS ASSERT

Tell Board They Do Not Want Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan Home Rooms.

Twenty-five mothers of children in the Albany Avenue school notified the buildings and grounds committee of the board of education yesterday that they will call out their children on strike in September, if the board does not provide a new school in the meantime. The women said they were willing to have their children housed in portables while a new building is being erected. They are now in rented quarters in the Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan home.

The women made veiled charges that the children are being kept in the home because of political influence. They said they had been told by friends of the asylum that they were taking the bread out of the mouths of the orphans when they fought to get another school.

Kept There Three Years.

"We have been kept in that building for three years," said Mrs. Hattie Schorr, president of the Mothers' Albany club. "If I had heard of the fire in the school the other day before I saw my children, I would have died of fright. At the last meeting of the mothers it was decided that we would keep our children on the streets next fall, if the board decides to send them back there."

Mrs. Sadie Rubinsky, secretary of the club, spoke in the same manner. The delegation was led by Miss Annette Chapin, principal of the school.

$6,100 a Year Rent.

"The board pays $6,100 a year rent for the building during school hours," she said. "The rest of the time it is occupied by the asylum. It was never meant for a school building. It is a fire trap. It is insanitary. It is improperly ventilated. It is a menace to health."

Joseph A. Holpuch told the delegation the board is securing land for a site for the school.

Objections to naming the Albany avenue school in honor of Mrs. Amelia Dunne Hookway, a former teacher in the public schools and a sister of Peter Finley Dunne, author of the Mr. Dooley stories, were successful.

Court Allows Composition of Gallagher Company, Which Issues Three Year Notes to Creditors.

Danville, Ill., May 21.—The petition for a composition in the bankruptcy case of the Lorimer-Gallagher company was granted by Judge Wright in the federal court here today.

For five hours J. T. Gallagher, business partner of the former senator, was busy writing notes for creditors. The notes, aggregating $800,000, are for 100 cents on the dollar and payable within three years. All are guaranteed by claims held by the company.

The arrangement leaves the entire outfit, consisting of steam shovels, cars, and other construction apparatus, in the hands of the company, which is free to accept and execute new orders.

TUNNEL PHONE SEIZURE ORDER STIRS UP STORM

Bankers and Corporation Heads Condemn Council; Citizens' League Approves.

MAYOR WILL NOT VETO IT.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

When the city council at its meeting last Monday ordered that legal steps be taken to forfeit "the telephone rights and properties of the Chicago Tunnel company" it brought to a climax one of the most tangled and sensational stories in the history of Chicago.

The telephone system of which the city council wishes to take possession is popularly known as "the automatic," being operated without the services of "hello" girls, and is part of the property of the Chicago Utilities company.

Dominated by Armour.

The same corporation, which is capitalized at about $60,000,000, also owns sixty miles of freight tunnels under the streets of Chicago, reaching from Illinois street on the north to Eighteenth street, and running as far west as Halsted street. The control of the company is reported to be in the hands of J. Ogden Armour and the estate of the late E. H. Harriman.

The order of the city council applies only to the automatic telephone system and has no direct effect on the freight tunnels and other property of the company.

Protests and Approvals.

The attempt to forfeit the franchise of the Automatic Telephone company and to take possession of its plant in the name of the city has aroused a tremendous storm of opposition, as well as a loud chorus of approval.

The president of almost every large bank in the city, many investment brokers and bond houses, and the heads of many large corporations have written to THE TRIBUNE denouncing the council action as an unfair and unjust attempt to "confiscate and destroy the property of people who have honestly invested millions in an effort to give Chicago a good telephone service." They declare it has no justification in law or ethics; that it will "besmirch the name of Chicago" and injure the credit of the city.

Big Force on Other Side.

On the other hand stand the majority of the city council, backed by letters and resolutions of approval from women's clubs, individuals, and various organizations and leagues of citizens.

Persons who favor the action of the council declare the original ordinance of the Illinois Tunnel company, which has spawned a number of corporate children, was conceived in bribery and fraud, and that the company has frequently attempted to deceive the city authorities, that it has for years played a game of delay and evasion with the city council, and that to forfeit its franchise at the present is in plain and only too long delayed compliance with the provisions of its ordinance.

Two Opposite Courses.

For three or four years two distinct and opposite courses of action have been pending most of the time in the city council. Every now and then one or the other of them would come to a boil, splutter over in the columns of the newspapers, and result in nothing.

The first was a proposal that all the telephone properties of the automatic company be sold to the Chicago Telephone company, which would thereby become an absolute monopoly so far as phone service in the city is concerned.

Several times such an enabling ordinance has come near to success. The argument which has apparently been effective in preventing council approval of the proposed sale is that the Chicago Telephone company would be investing from $4,000,000 to $6,000,000 in property which probably would prove of little real use in the conduct of its business. Such an addition of unproductive capital to the stock of the company would make it necessary to collect perhaps $280,000 more annually from phone users to pay interest charges. The only benefit to the telephone company, it was charged, was that it would thus finally remove a potential competitor from the field.

The Forfeiture Clause.

The second proposal which has stirred the city council from time to time is that the franchise of the Automatic Telephone company be declared forfeited and its property taken over by the city. This, too, came close to success several times before it was finally passed by the council last Monday.

The clause in the ordinance, on which the city council acted, follows:

"If said company . . . shall fail to construct and install a telephone system . . . adequate for the services of 20,000 subscribers, prior to June 1, 1911, or if at any time after June 1, 1911, said company shall not have in operation or shall cease to operate a telephone system serving 20,000 bona fide subscribers, . . . said company . . . shall forfeit to the city . . . all rights acquired under said ordinance . . . together with its plant and equipment for telephone purposes."

Lack 20,000 Subscribers.

It is admitted the company has not in operation telephones serving 20,000 subscribers. But when the question of forfeiture came up in the council during the administration of Mayor Harrison, Corporation Counsel Sexton rendered an opinion that the ordinance provided only that the company should have a plant, equipment, and all facilities for serving at least 20,000 subscribers, which it seems to be admitted it has, and that its franchise could not be forfeited because, for one reason or another, sufficient people refused to subscribe to its service.

This opinion is backed up by those of several other eminent legal authorities, most of them, it is true, employed by the automatic company. They all take the same position. If a company has built a plant to handle 20,000 subscribers, and, because people object to patronizing two telephone systems, is unable to persuade 20,000 subscribers to install its instruments, it cannot be held guilty of negligence or failure to do its whole duty.

As one of the lawyers puts it, "they also serve who only stand and wait."

MANUFACTURERS PROTEST.

Nine directors of the Illinois Manufacturers' association yesterday signed resolutions urging reconsideration of the council's action directing that forfeiture proceedings be brought against the telephone rights and properties of the Chicago Tunnel company.

The signers were Samuel M. Hastings, president; George R. Meyercord, Alfred H. Mulliken, Fred W. Upham, E. Tyner, Milton S. Florsheim, Charles Piez, Paul Schultze, and Peter S. Theurer.

Corporation Counsel Folsom returned to his desk at the city hall, but announced he would have nothing to say about the council action until he had had an opportunity to read the formal record in the journal of the council proceedings and to consider the subject.

Mayor Undecided on Phone Veto.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 21.—[Special.]—Mayor Thompson of Chicago, following his address at the Republican love feast here tonight, was asked by a CHICAGO TRIBUNE representative if he will veto the council order for the forefeiture of the automatic telephone franchise, and if he had been asked to do so. He said:

"I have not made up my mind what my action will be regarding the telephone situation. You may say for me, however, that no one has asked me to veto the forfeiture order. There may be protests, but as yet I have received none."

Further than this Mayor Thompson would not discuss the situation. He expected to leave on a late train tonight for Chicago.

HERALD OF NEW MEDICAL SYSTEM HAILED TO COURT.

Dr. George Starr White, "Taps" Health Investigator, Is Charged with Practicing Without License.

Dr. George Starr White of Los Angeles, disciple of spondylotherapy and herald of a new system of diagnosis wherein lights, colors, and music play important parts, was summoned yesterday to answer a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

The summons followed a visit to the doctor by O. O. H. Weidner, a sleuth from the office of Thomas S. Hogan, counsel for the state board of health. The investigator made a report in which he said:

"I visited Dr. George Starr White in room No. 538 Hotel Sherman. I told him I was dizzy and suffering. He had me stand on an aluminum plate and tapped my abdomen with his finger and also with an instrument. Then he darkened the room. Then he made a pencil mark on my abdomen where he had been tapping. He told me I was suffering from falling of the stomach and prescribed some medicine for me, but told me I needed one of the belts he is selling for $6 each."

Dr. White, who has been demonstrating his methods to local physicians, said he did suggest a belt would aid Weidner, but denied he is selling the belt himself.

OPEN AIR FETE BRINGS IN $5,000

Women in Gay Colorful Gowns Flit Among Picturesque Scenery.

With two stages in action, clear skies and balmy breezes, fully $5,000 was realized by the open air vaudeville fête given yesterday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. John Borden of 1020 Lake Shore drive.

The Chinese pagoda in miniature, which graced the center of Mrs. Borden's garden, was gay with a brilliant coat of Chinese blue, with orange and pale yellow trimmings, and topped with a huge red ball.

All about the rectangle were erected seats covered with a canvas pavilion, which was painted in flaring sections of lavender and blue and yellow and green and hung about with unique Chinese lanterns that swayed in the wind.

Received by Interesting Group.

But the guests were first received in the house by a large and interesting group of women who have been eagerly assisting Mrs. Borden in her efforts for the French fund, which her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Borden Turner, is so actively engaged in fostering.

Across the banisters that led to the dressing rooms above was stretched a wide Red Cross banner on a white ground, and all the members of the various committees wore Red Cross badges.

Mrs. Borden wore on her exquisite gown of midnight blue taffeta and chiffon the now famous diamond and sapphire brooch which she donated and which was sold at auction at 11:30, bringing to the fund thereby $2,400.

Charles W. Collins, dramatic critic of the Evening Post, was awarded the brooch on the fifth slip drawn out of a vase by Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman. Two policewomen were detailed to the Borden residence to watch for raffles. They were Lulu B. Burt and Mary C. Reilly.

Ethel Barrymore in Stripes.

Ethel Barrymore came, wearing a coat suit trimmed with dashing black and white stripes and a huge, wide brimmed sailor hat; Valli Valli came, enveloped in a huge coat of brown mole skin and wearing the daintiest of green and pink poke bonnets, in which she sang on the stage in the drawing room, while the Douglas Cranes danced in the gardens.

And in the gardens Mrs. Ray Atherton, who was chairman of the music committee, lionized Peggy O'Neill over the tea cups, and the two made a striking picture, for Mrs. Atherton was also in black and white, wearing with her suit of black satin a huge white fox scarf.

Countesse de Hemptinne of Belgium was there, and among the other prominent women were Mrs. Henry Dibblee, Mrs. Joseph Winterbotham, Mrs. Roy O. McWilliams, Mrs. Secor Cunningham, Mrs. Aldis F. Browne, Mrs. James B. Waller, Mrs. Frederic Eames, Mrs. E. S. Worthington, Mrs. Henry Knott, Mrs. W. J. Bryson, Mrs. Moses J. Wentworth, Mrs. Chauncey Blair Jr., Mrs. Joseph G. STATE'S HEALTH LAWS HELD LAX Federal Report Declares Illinois Lives Are Weakly Guarded.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 21.—[Special.]—The Illinois state board of health, the health laws of the state, and the attitude of Illinoisans towards the betterment of health conditions are condemned in a report which will be made public tomorrow by the surgeon general of the United States public health service.

The report was prepared by Dr. S. B. Grubbs of the federal service after a three months' investigation of conditions in Illinois.

"After a careful study of the public health administration of Illinois," the report says, "the conclusion is reached that the present state board of health is merely a licensing board, that its public health functions are not sufficiently developed, and that some of the responsibilities that should devolve on it have either been assumed by other state departments or left undone."

Makes These Recommendations.

The report makes recommendations intended to place Illinois on a sound health basis. It says:

"The state department of health should be reorganized by establishing the following divisions:

"Division of communicable diseases, division of sanitation, divisions of vital statistics, division of publicity and education, and division of examinations, registration, and accounts."

The state outside of Chicago should be divided into at least eight districts with an inspector in each, a sanitary engineer should be named, births and deaths should be registered, the state board should be notified of certain diseases, vaccination should be required as a prerequisite to school attendance, occupational diseases should be studied and factories inspected to detect them, and communicable diseases should be placed under a stricter control.

The system of permitting itinerant venders license to sell their wares throughout the state is condemned vigorously. Aside from the physical detriment and financial loss caused by unrestricted drugging, the report traces an outbreak of smallpox to an itinerant patent medicine seller who had a profuse smallpox eruption and explained that it was caused by the impurities of the blood that were being driven to the surface by the blood purifier he sold.

Notwithstanding the present loose organization, a number of communicable diseases showed marked decreases in 1914 over prior years. The recommendation is made that both typhoid and diphtheria antitoxin should be placed within the reach of all, without any cost to the persons receiving it.

Dairy Inspection Under Fire.

The present system of dairy inspection is not liked by the federal authorities. It recommends that the state board of health should be given supervision over the entire subject, with permission to call on the food and live stock boards for such information as it needs. The present system of employing local physicians, with private practices, to act as sanitary inspectors on a per diem basis is condemned.

The people of Illinois, according to the report, have not received progressive health legislation with favor. A vigorous campaign of education is recommended.

ADVICE TO NIECE LOSES HIM WIFE

Attorney Langworthy's Burning Sermon Letters Are Read in Court.

A series of philosophical love sermons written by Attorney Joseph B. Langworthy to "My Own Darling Little Girl and the Sweetest Baby on Earth," otherwise known as Mrs. Lila Langworthy, his nephew's wife, won a decree of divorce in Judge Sullivan's court yesterday for Mrs. Rose Langworthy of Forest Park.

Mrs. Langworthy testified the letters often numbered two and three a day even after her husband had quarreled with his nfece and the niece had come to her to "make up."

"Crabbed Old Uncle J."

Mr. Langworthy's attitude in his letters to his niece was that of the sweetheart, the philosopher, friend, guardian, and the "Crabbed Old Uncle J." he signed himself. He wrote that her happiness and that of her baby were his greatest concern, and that if she found she could be happier with a younger man he would gladly sacrifice himself. Overlooking the fact that he was a married man, he warned her against "jeopardizing" her reputation and the "future respect" of her baby by allowing herself to associate with men who did not care for her as he did.

"I don't want you to come to me impelled by any sense of gratitude," he wrote at another time. "I want your heart, and your whole heart, or nothing."

Tidbits of "Philosophy."

"Freedom on the part of a woman is not the same as friendship. On the contrary, freedom on the part of a woman never makes for her friends among men."

"If a woman would have the respect of men, she must compel it, and this she does by being dignified and ladylike, not by being free and permitting liberties of talk or action."

Parts of hotel registers from Toledo, O., and Fort Wayne, Ind., were introduced as evidence. Mrs. Langworthy testified she had visited none of these places with her husband on the dates in question.

"Silver Top" Loses Wife.

Another divorce was that granted Mrs. Bertha Herbert of Half Day, Ill., from Martin B. Herbert, grandson of the late K. G. Schmidt, millionaire brewer. The evidence showed that in 1910, after Herbert, known to his friends where the bright lights shine as "Silver Top," had dissipated his own allowance and had spent practically all his wife's small fortune inherited from the late Conrad Fola, Cook county jailer at the time of the fire of 1871, he sent his wife to live with her sister.

Herbert's father, who was the Schmidt coachman, jumped into fame years ago by eloping with Miss Katherine Schmidt, daughter of the wealthy brewer.

DRAW ONE FOR JOHNNY!

Moving Picture Comedian in Dryest Dowagiac, Sends S. O. S. for "Some Beer."

When Johnny Slavin, movie comedian, emigrated to Dowagiac, Mich., with a film company a couple of weeks ago, he was unaware of the dread drought that had fallen on Dowagiac and neighboring towns at the recent election.

U. S. JUDGES BACK CITY FILM BOARD

Unanimous Against Injunction Permitting Offensive Movie Pictures.

The city's right to censor films was upheld yesterday in a decision handed down by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The decision was unanimous. It was signed by presiding Justice Francis E. Baker, Judge Kohlsaat, and Judge Landis, the latter sitting as a Circuit judge during consideration of the case.

The case was that of the Mutual Film company and the H. & H. Film corporation, which one year ago filed a suit in the United States District court for an injunction to restrain the city and the board of censors operating under Second Deputy Funkhouser from interfering with moving picture exhibitions.

The complainants set up that the city's censorship was an abridgement of the rights guaranteed by the federal constitution and that it abridged freedom of the press and freedom of speech. The late Judge William H. Seaman, sitting as a District judge, heard the arguments and decided the case in favor of the city.

Offensive Films Issue.

The decision of the Court of Appeals is an affirmation of the late Judge Seaman's ruling. Cutouts of white slave pictures and other offensive film features ordered by the city's censors prompted the filing of the suit.

The arguments in the Court of Appeals were made six months ago by Assistant Corporation Counsel George L. Reker in behalf of the city. He insisted the city had a right to censor films under its general police power.

"The city has the same right to censor moving pictures that it has to establish and maintain a health department," Mr. Reker argued at the hearing. "Censorship is the department of the city which looks after the moral health of the people, particularly the children and the youth of the city."

The decision upholds this view.

Forestalls State Move.

Mr. Reker said the court's ruling was sweeping in its nature, and left no further room for doubt as to the right of the city to censor and prohibit objectionable or immoral movies.

"The decision means much," he said. "Legislation is now pending in Springfield which contemplates the destruction of Chicago's censorship. The plan is to take that power away from the city and place it in the hands of the state authorities.

"The state is not as well qualified to censor Chicago's moving pictures as is the city itself. I believe the decision of the Court of Appeals will do much to frustrate the attempt to take this necessary power away from Chicago."

"Twilight Sleep."

The city won another censorship victory in a case argued before Judge John P. McGoorty in the Circuit court. The hearing was on a petition of the Motherhood Educational society of New York for a writ of mandamus to compel the city to permit the exhibition of a series of moving pictures entitled "Twilight Sleep."

Mr. Reker appeared in behalf of the city and Attorney Herman Frank for the petitioning society. In his argument Mr. Reker contended the writ should not issue because the society had no standing in an Illinois court, it being a "foreign" corporation and not licensed to do business in Illinois.

Attorney Frank demurred to this contention, saying it was technical, and that the question at issue was whether or not the pictures are immoral. Judge McGoorty overruled the demurrer and declined to issue the writ.

State Arbiters Renew Offer to Settle Strike

Ask Carpenters and Contrac ors to Let Board Decide.

WANT WORK RESUMED

Intervention of the state board of arbitration was yesterday's unexpected development in the strike which paralyzes Chicago's building industry. The board addressed letters to the Carpenter Contractors' association and the Carpenters' district council asking if they would submit their differences to arbitration and resume work while negotiations were in progress.

Four more unions, No. 416 in Chicago, No. 461 in Highland Park, No. 1128 in La Grange, and No. 1307 in Evanston, voted down the wage proposal last night. Two and possibly five more will vote on the measure today. Among them are Nos. 80 and 181, two of the largest in the city.

While the unions continue to vote down the contractors' proposal leaders in the two hostile camps expressed hope of a settlement before it becomes necessary to submit the matter to the state board. During the day some progress was made in smoothing over differences between the locked out lathers and their employers and the street car employés and the Chicago Surface lines.

Proposal of State Board.

The letter of the state board of arbitration to organizations involved in the carpenters' strike recites its former effort to settle the trouble, which the contractors avoided either accepting or refusing, and the failure of other agencies to bring about an agreement, and continues:

"We now respectfully ask of each of you that you inform us definitely by Monday, May 24, at 10 o'clock a. m., whether you will submit the matters in controversy to this board, in conformity with the law relating to arbitration. If you decide so to do, you will please respectively sign an application which shall contain a concise statement of the grievances complained of and a promise to continue in business or at work until the decision of the board, provided the decision is announced within three weeks.

"Should you or either of you decide not to submit the matters in controversy to this board we request that you submit the matter to arbitration by your respective boards, and by an umpire, on or off this board, that you may agree upon, and if you do not by that time agree upon an umpire that you agree to let this board name one."

Asserts Strike Is Nearly Won.

John A. Metz, president of the carpenters, declared the strike practically won. He said that unon men already are being employed on certain buildings at 70 cents an hour. He said that the unions would persist in their demands and that the striking out of certain clauses in the contract proposed would not alter them.

This was not the positon of others, however, who said that the striking out of certain provisions, with a further concession in wages by the contractors, would be acceptable to the unions.

This was the settlement indicated by statements in yesterday's TRIBUNE by George H. Lakey, general organizer of the carpenters, and John Griffiths of the contractors. L. A. Ashbeck, president of the contractors' organization, expressed willingness to concede the disputed clauses.

The contracters' mediation committee, headed by W. E. Barnard, again took up informally the proposal for beginning new negotiations on the basis of the uniform agreement entered into between the Building Construction Employers' association and the Building Trades council.

The first indication that lathers and the Employing Lathers' association were about to come to terms on the uniform agreement came with the request for the mediation committee of the union to meet with that of the employers. Another meeting will be held on Monday.

"We made some progress and the outlook is good," said G. J. McNulty of the employers.

Street Car Men Meet Again.

Representatives of the street car men's union conferred with Leonard A. Busby, president of the Surface Lines, working conditions alone being discussed. The men are demanding that they be compelled to work but ten hours out of twelve consecutive hours. At present they work a maximum of ten hours in sixteen. The company declares that its operating conditions are such that it cannot meet the demand.

"I told the men that I would formulate a proposition which would be an improvement over existing conditions," Mr. Busby said, "and would submit it to them Monday. We will do all that we can to better conditions."

Employés of the elevated lines began to lay plans to press demands for a new wage scale as soon as the surface line scale is settled.

Runaway Cars That Will Not Stay Coupled Collide with the Train Ahead.

NONE IS SERIOUSLY HURT.

A half hundred rush hour "L" passengers got home last night bedecked with court plaster and limping as a result of a freak rear end collision which spattered the vicinity of the Adams and Wabash station with broken glass and tied up overhead loop traffic long enough to let thousands of waiting dinners grow cold.

As a Kenwood-Ravenswood train was rounding the Congress street curve at 5:40 o'clock a draw bar broke and the first two cars parted company with the last three. John Potter, the emergency man stationed on the Congress street platform, ran up the track.

Through Van Buren street rumbled an empty train. Potter gave it right of way. He was waiting for another train from the south side to come along and give the deserted Ravenswood cars a lift.

Coupling Breaks Again.

Less than a minute later the three cars, hastily coupled, were being pushed toward the Adams and Wabash station. Potter stood on the front platform signaling to the motorman of the "rescuer." A few hundred feet south of the Adams street platform he wigwagged an order to shut off power and put on brakes. The motorman obeyed. The result was unexpected. Instead of slowing up under the restraining influence of the train behind, the three unlucky Ravenswood cars continued on their way. The coupling had parted.

Beside the platform the loop train was lying, already comfortably filled and with swarms of passengers still struggling at each gate.

Into the rear of the loop train smashed the runaway cars. At the last moment Potter had stepped from the train on to the platform and saved himself.

The runaway Ravenswood cars were of steel and they and their passengers suffered much less than the train ahead. There was a crash of glass as the trains came together and the seats of the wooden rear car crumpled up, hurling their occupants on to the floor.

Four Taken to Hospital.

Several women fainted and many other passengers were cut and bruised. Four of the most severely injured were taken to the Iroquois hospital, but all were able to proceed to their homes after their hurts had been cared for. The four are:

HE CERTAINLY CAN FLY!

This South Chicago Man Swims Across Calumet River and Escapes.

While Special Officer J. W. Palmer of the Belt railroad was hot on his trail, pumping a revolver at him, a man who had given the name of William Lee of 9454 Muskegon avenue, South Chicago, stripped himself of his shoes, hat, and coat, plunged into the Calumet river, swam across to the opposite bank, and escaped yesterday. His shoes and other discarded articles of clothing were taken to the South Chicago police station.

FLICKERINGS from FILM LAND
by KITTY KELLY

Wilmuth Merkyl a Gentle Villain.

WHEN soon you see Wilmuth Merkyl villaining in the forthcoming United Photo-Plays picture, "The Victory of Virtue," rest you assured that he is not so bad as he may seem.

In truth, he is a very amiable, likable young man who gets up early of the morning—showing that he has not been up overlate of the night before—to be interviewed, and who is not possessed of the conventional a. m. grouch.

His ambitions villainward are very mild. Said he: "I am to be a villain, but I shall try to make him a sweet villain, a lovable one, you know.

"I like work in pictures," he enthused, "even better than on the stage, I think. There is that infinite variety that keeps one from getting mechanical and there are the nice hours. Why, I feel like a regular working person, don't you know, busy all day, and with my evenings free. If I make good in this," he deprecated modestly with a continental shoulder shrug. "I think I shall stick to pictures. It is a new art, different from that of the stage, and it takes a while to learn it, but it is a real art."

Mr. Merkyl's continental shrug is honestly derived, for he spent some ten years, and at that, he is only 28, grand opera-ing in Germany, England, and the far east. The last two years were his first introduction to America professionally, an acquaintance he has found thoroughly delightful.

He dipped first into pictures when they needed some one in a rush to go on with Betty Nansen, and he did his first film work while still continuing in an engagement at the Knickerbocker theater. Since then, among other things, he has played with Marguerite Clark in "Gretna Green," and Helen Ware in "The Price."

"I don't really like to be a villain," insisted Mr. Merkyl, returning to the subject. "An actor can't ever do his best until directors give him a chance to play the things that most suit him. Now, I really like to play strong, virile roles. I like to be a lover. There's the heart interest about that that appeals to the people. I have had some very pleasant love scenes," mused he, looking quite the matinee hero with his big dark eyes and his mobile mouth.

"I like Chicago very much. I think I shall like it more than New York. The people seem so friendly here."

Mr. Merkyl is to play the lead, opposite Gerda Holmes, in the United Photo-Play's first picture. He arrived in town on Monday, but has been climatically prevented from doing any villaining yet. Meanwhile he lives at the Hotel Sherman getting used to Chicago and her ways.

The Cynic Cynicizes.

"Why are you wearing corrugations in your brow?" quoth I as the Cynic dropped into the chair belonging to the adjacent desk.

"I've just been seeing some pictures," quoth he, "pictures you would call good, and the corrugations in my feelings are a lot worse than those in my brow. These are the things that make intelligent people read magazines or Doris Blake."

"They were Mutual pictures, and I don't deny the stories were good and the outdoor scenes. Men can't spoil nature's setting, and they have sense in getting good angles on it, but when they go inside—that makes corrugations in onlookers.

"In 'The Stay-at-Homes' (Beauty) there was that hideous artificial wall paneling that defeats absolutely all of the home effect produced by the most careful furnishing. There was also a pistol at hand for the pretty girl to grab onto. No pawnshop has as many pistols handy as do picture homes.

"'In the Purple Hills' (American) had the beautiful heroine cooking with her curls streaming gracefully over her shoulders. It had a good log house on the outside and a painted log wall for the interior. The closeup of the note was written on a clean piece of paper and when pinned on the lady it was an old envelope. And the note, written by the unshaven, dissolute villain, was done in the copper plate manner of an engraved card.

"They talk about 'realism.' There's other places for it besides fist fights. Now, haven't I reason to be corrugated?"

On the Boulevard.

Frinstance:

"Graustark" continues at the Fine Arts.

[Copyright: 1915: By Lillian Russell.]

IF the average man dreams of "that old sweetheart of mine" I cannot imagine him picturing her in a soiled kimono, her hair unkempt, pouring coffee at the breakfast table. Nor will there appear in his day dreams an untidy figure extending him a spiritless greeting as he enters his home in the evening. The women about whom men are apt to dream are the ones who are just as particular as to their appearance when expecting to see only members of their families as when they anticipate meeting strangers. It is not necessary to wear a costly gown to make a presentable appearance at the breakfast table, nor an expensive one to look pretty in the evening. But it is necessary to be neat and tidy and to always look your best, no matter who may be around. Remember, if you neglect your appearance and figure in anybody's dream they will not enjoy the "nightmare."

My increasing fat had detracted from my appearance for so long, and so many reducing methods had ended in failure, that I was feeling much discouraged until I accidentally discovered a way to improve my figure by a novel but simple exercise. While in the country I was watching the dog do the weekly churning with a tread mill, and it occurred to me that this might be a good way for me to restore my girlish figure. I began practicing this exercise for ten minutes twice daily and in a short time could notice an improvement. At the end of three months I had attained the coveted slenderness of figure. B. F.

Did you transform yourself from an ugly duckling by a beauty trick? Write and tell me what that beauty trick was. "The Tribune" will pay $1 for every letter published. Address Lillian Russell, Chicago Tribune.

Fashions from London

LONDON.—[Special Correspondence.]—Thoroughly useful tailor mades consist of a short plaited skirt and a knee length semi-military coat, the latter displaying bright brass or bright silver buttons. Coats and skirts of this order are admirable when made of black and white checked cloths or of the ubiquitous navy blue serge.

Taffeta is the favorite material for afternoon gowns. The best evening dresses are made of chiffon—plain or embroidered—and of the new silk tulle, which is as substantial as crepe de chine. One of the most famous dressmakers is making a specialty of girls' evening frocks made of flowered taffetas and chiffon or tulle.

These frocks have an old world flavor. The full skirts are flounced from waist to hem or finely tucked with narrow gathered flounces appearing at regular intervals. The corsage may be described as simplicity itself, comprising a modest length of chiffon mounted over taffetas, which molds the figure and is not trimmed at all. Then a velvet ribbon sash is added and at the waist a nosegay of bright colored flowers. With such a gown as this cobwebby silk stockings should be worn and Cinderella shoes made of silver tissue and ornamented with a tiny rose instead of a buckle.

For ordinary evening wear lace frocks—I am still thinking of girls—will be fashionable all through the summer. The other afternoon I was interviewing simple evening frocks, and one or two of the lace models pleased me very much. For example, there was a little robe made of cream lace which was in reality, so far as the skirt was concerned, a wide gathered flounce. There was an underslip made of lemon yellow taffetas, and the bodice was of the crossover order, confined at the waist with a sash made of Nattier blue ribbon, which had loose ends fringed with moss rosebuds. It was the sweetest little frock the latest thing, and yet a model which could be made at home or by any intelligent little dressmaker.

A delightful cotton frock for indoor and outdoor wear. It is in blue linen with touches of cotton colored embroidery. Both the collar and the sleeves are of white organdie.

MARION HARLAND'S HELPING HAND
by MARION HARLAND

Music Book for Beginner.

"YOUR letter received regarding the mother who could not support her infant daughter, having been deserted by her husband, besides leaving her with another 2 year old baby to care for. I called upon her and brought a large shawl with me. References were, of course, exchanged, for I felt it was going to be "my baby," and it is! We went our different ways—the poor, little, brave mother, and I with my treasure—thanks to the Helping Hand Corner. I am most grateful. I have a music book for beginners. I will send it to any one who will pay postage on it.

Is not this a charming story of everyday life and love? The Helping Hand Corner may feel honest pride in the share it had in bringing about action and denouement. At one dash of the pen we have the picture of the two women, each with her "treasure," going their different ways. May heaven's best blessings attend them both. The music book will be thankfully received when the "beginner" has secured your address.

Eager to Help.

"I saw in the Corner that a widow would like some pieces to embroider. I will send her a piece if I may have her address. The signature was 'L. E. B.' Another woman wants embroidery to do whose signature is 'D. L.' I love to help all I can and always watch the Corner closely. I hope to get an early reply, for I am eager to help. MRS. L. E. M."

The addresses went to you as soon as we had your offer. It is good to see your signature again after so long a silence, and to know that you are "likeminded" as of old. We are the richer for your help.

Their Best Friend.

"I wish to tell you that Miss G. D. called to see me last week, saying she had received my address from you. She has been the best friend to me that I ever met! It's only a week since she first came to see me, but she got a stove for me, a hand washer, clothing for the children and some for my husband, and helped us in every way possible. There was never a time in my life when I needed assistance more. She is trying to get work for my husband. We both appreciate the great interest she has taken in us and are most thankful to her and the dear Corner for sending her to us. MRS. G."

The children of her bounty "arise and call her blessed" on every side. No fresh illustration of her continual benefactions surprises us. I print your letter that others may rejoice in what fills my soul with a great peace. Likewise, that I may emphasize one branch of our work. I mean that which finds employment for the host of respectable men and women who never were in need before this "dark and cloudy day." She who does this is worthy of double honor.

Scarce and Hard to Find.

"If Mrs. E. W. were near me I am sure I could get her a sewing machine, and I have but little doubt that if it should be suggested in your Corner some one with an extra machine on hand would give her one. I gave a good machine away several years ago when I bought a new one and I am sure others would do the same if they knew of a woman wanting the extra one. MRS. I. M. W."

I wish I had your optimistic faith in the appearance of the machine. It inspires me to print your letter and to trust that "what has been may be again." Sewing machines and typewriters are scarce and hard to find. Yet they are so sorely needed that I must plead for the gift.

Must Live Out of Doors.

"I have a dear young fellow who is tubercular. The disease is not in the infectious state. He has been in a sanitarium, but is pronounced well and ready to leave. He needs to go on a farm, where he can live out of doors, have milk and eggs for a while to build him up. Do you think any one would take him for the summer? He is quiet and refined and could do a great many things to help any one who would take him. I am employed at housework at $6 per week and have a little 6 year old girl besides to care for. I will furnish his clothes. MRS. N. L. B."

I have in mind another dear boy who was pronounced in danger of early death from tuberculosis, and ordered to the mountains as a last hope. His parents were not willing to send him so far from home alone, and they could not go with him. A near relative invited the lad to spend the summer upon his farm. He worked there alongside of the gardener for three months, in all weathers, and returned to the city in the autumn well and brown and hopeful. He is now a vigorous man, doing a man's part in life. I tell the true tale to encourage some country resident who can use a willing lad upon farm and garden to apply for the address of the writer of this letter.

Reading Matter for a Girl.

"Is there anybody in your Corner who has nice reading matter for a girl about 20 years of age? I will pay postage and pass the books on to another after reading them. I. M."

There should be quantities of reading matter in the gift of our H. H. C. and suited to the wants of a girl of 20. Our junior chapters will please see that she gets all she needs and of the right quality. Send for her address.

Looking for a Girl Chum.

"I have been reading the Helping Hand Corner for several months and should like to know if you could help me find a girl chum about 18 years of age. She must be respectable. My sister and myself "chummed" together, but she got married. Now, I should like another girl friend. I have some magazines to give to any one who will be good enough to call for them. Please call evenings, as I work all day. GERTRUDE G."

Children for Adoption.

"Occasionally your Corner contains a letter from some one who would like to adopt a child. When such inquiries come from Catholic people I should like to assist them in securing the child they would like to bring up. There are many children in the Catholic institutions of this state who are eligible for placement in homes of this faith. If you will refer all such to me I should greatly appreciate it. "MAURICE R. R."

Several of our applications for children the writers would adopt have stated that the homes into which the friendless waifs are to be received are those of Roman Catholic families. With this in mind I make room for the foregoing from the responsible superintendent of a home for this class of injuries.

BRIGHT SAYINGS of CHILDREN

Little Tom had eaten most plentifully of the good things, and ended the day of feasting by curling up in a corner and embarking for the Land of Nod. When some one discovered him and picked him up to carry him off to bed he opened one eye and sleepily cautioned, "Put me to bed, but don't bend me." M. W.

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The sayings may be sent in either by children or their parents. The only condition is that the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper, as it is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Address bright sayings to Aunty Jane, "Tribune," Chicago.

Joey, upon being told that a young woman was coming to see him, said: "I like her if she brings me some candy." "But you must not like people just because they give you something," his mother remonstrated. "O, but that is when the satisfying comes in," was his prompt reply. M. B. M.

The TRIBUNE COOK BOOK
EDITED BY JANE EDDINGTON

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

The "Cool" Green Cucumber.

THE particular advantage of having cucumbers for cooking is that in ten minutes you may have a savory cooked vegetable on your table which will keep hot like a soapstone, be gratifying to the eye, and particularly good for those who want to eat a certain bulk of food and at the same time get little nutriment or fat making material. There is no green vegetable which will keep so well in the icebox as the cucumber, and it is therefore a good emergency vegetable, even better for cooking than for an appetizer or salad.

The quick preliminary operation in cooking tomatoes is almost always the blanching of the cut up vegetable in boiling hot water for five minutes. Sometimes they are cut in short lengths and sometimes sliced lengthwise, according to the demand of the second part of the recipe. After being blanched you can treat them in almost any of the ways in which you may treat English marrow.

Cucumber Cutlets.

Choose the short, bulky cucumber which have been in the market since spring, although not usually seen until fall. Cut off ends and peel, then cut in three equal slices and blanch. Do not allow them to boil much more than five minutes, otherwise the seeds will be loosened and the slices break. Drain and cool a little, then dip in the slightly beaten yolks of eggs, then in cracker crumbs and then fry, turning once rather gently in butter. You may serve with a tomato sauce if you choose, but this is not needed.

The Gardener at Work

Ferns and Foliage Plants.

FERN lore and the habits of ferns is as interesting as the story of flowering plants.' The fern bed at the north wall, where it is shady, or between the houses, gives the woman gardener as much pleasure as her blossoming borders.

Ferns brought home from the country bear transplanting. Examine the plot near the house to see if it is deep black soil or only a thin layer of earth on top of refuse and plaster from the building. This happens oftener than the gardener realizes. It is wise to explore deeply when planting a vine, rose tree, or fern bed near the house. Excavate, bury manure, or fill in with fertile soil, and the earth is made good for the future.

Ferns should not wither in their journey from the woods. A wilted plant must use energy to recover. Try to gather soil around the roots and carry the plant in a damp newspaper until it can be set in its new home. Heap the loose earth around the stems and let them alone unless a dry spell demands some water. The ferns will spread their roots and grow more rapidly underground than is apparent at the top.

Plumosa Nanus (lace ferns) may be started in the border from seed. Sprengeri grows from seed.

Artemisia or summer fir, Kochia or summer cypress, and Old Man are liked for their feathery green.

The War's Legacy of Hate!

By Walter Adolphe Roberts

THE author of this article was living in Paris when the war broke out, and since then has used his eyes and ears to advantage in France, Germany, Belgium, and England. Racial hatreds, he says, have been revived with an intensity unparalleled in civilized times. Frenchmen and Belgians hate the Germans unforgivably. Austro-Hungarians regard the Slavs with loathing. Germany does not hate France, but is delirious with fury against England, which, in turn, detests but does not hate the Germans. The analysis the author makes is not only illuminative, but carries intense interest and conviction. Read the article in The National Sunday Magazine that accompanies

Mrs. Lathrop Plans Relief for Poles.

BY CINDERELLA.

MRS. BRYAN LATHROP is the organizer of a Chicago movement for the relief of the Poles. A preliminary meeting was held this week at her house in Bellevue place, where there was more interest and animation than could have been expected on top of so many other relief societies.

Paderewski wrote to Mrs. Lathrop in behalf of his compatriots, who are in misery beyond belief. Much of Poland is trackless forest full of wild beasts and owned by great nobles. At Skierniewicz, where heavy fighting has been going on all winter, the czar has a shooting lodge on the edge of one of the most impenetrable forests in Europe.

The large towns and villages of Poland are scattered and ways of communication are scarce. So there is practically no escape for the Polish refugees as they flee from the Russian, German, and Austrian armies in turn.

People who have been much abroad feel great admiration for the Poles, knowing their political history, and admiring the brilliancy, the patriotism, and the sympathetic quality of the race, as well as the hopelessness of its situation.

Loving their own language, the Poles may not speak it, and loving their country, they see it the most backward among the European nations, owing to politics.

Mrs. Lathrop, warmly sympathetic and widely influential, was a wonderful selection of Paderewski to help his country.

And the Italian relief! Will that be our next problem?

One of the prettiest tables was that of Mrs. Sowers of Washington, who was formerly Ruth Felton, the second daughter of Samuel M. Felton. Mrs. Sowers, who is home for the first time since her marriage, had a party of her old friends, including Mrs. Mark Willing, Miss Mabel Dick, Mrs. H. H. Porter, and Mrs. Charles Counselman. A pretty blue eyed baby daughter came on with Mrs. Sowers to visit her grandparents.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. R. Hall McCormick closed their Rush street establishment and left for Bar Harbor with their youngest daughter, Mildred. Miss McCormick stays on at the Virginia hotel until June. It is rather early for Bar Harbor, but it seems people are opening their cottages there earlier and closing them later every season.

Early this week Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bryant returned from Lake Worth, Fla., where they have been since January, going directly to their Lake Forest house. The arctic wave that met them on arriving home made them regret Florida and its tropical wonders.

Harold Bryant is an Englishman, Mrs. Bryant an American, and the children's governess is French. In the culinary regions was a Belgian cook; the laundress was Swedish, a nurse Scotch, and a housemaid German. And this time Belgium won!

Seek Members for Ravinia Club.

The Ravinia club began its spring campaign on behalf of Ravinia park yesterday with a meeting at the Evanston Country club of the Evanston branch of the Ravinia club, at which Mrs. O. B. Tennis presided.

In announcing plans for the season, Mrs. A. A. Alexander, who is vice president of the club and its acting head during the absence of the president, Mrs. Frank R. McMullin, in Europe, said that a series of public meetings would be held in each town along the north shore, from Edgewater to Waukegan, with the object of doubling the membership of the club.

"A community is known by the kind of public amusement it seeks," Mrs. Lucian Cary said. "The north shore can well afford to be known as the community which created and which supports Ravinia park. Now that Ravinia is an established institution, it is becoming so known. But the possibilities of Ravinia have only begun to be realized. The park already has the finest orchestra in the United States for ten weeks every season. It is within the power of the Ravinia club to give it an audience for opera unequaled anywhere else in the world."

U. of M. Alumni to Banquet.

James Burrill Angell, the venerable president emeritus of the University of Michigan, will speak before the Chicago Alumni association banquet at the Hotel La Salle tonight.

Dr. Angell, who was president of the university from 1866 to 1909, and who also served in a high capacity in China and Turkey for the United States diplomatic service, will discuss some of his experiences for the local graduates. He is now 86 years old.

President Harry B. Hutchins, Dean Henry M. Bates, and Professors Sadler of the engineering college, Jesse Reeves of the political science, and Turner of the history departments will attend the meeting. Frank F. Reed, John M. Zane, and Homer Tinsman will represent the 1,000 Chicago graduates of Michigan.

Celebrate Linne Birthday.

The Swedish people of Chicago will celebrate the two hundred and eighth anniversary of the birth of Carl von Linné, the botanist. The Swedish Singers' union has charge of the arrangements for the celebration. The program includes a meeting at the Linné monument in Lincoln park tomorrow evening. After the program there will be a banquet at the Svithiod Singing club. There will be a chorus of 200 voices at both places.

Will Lecture on Christian Science.

William R. Rathvon, C. S. B., of Denver, Colo., member of the board of lectureship of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will lecture for the Twelfth Church of Christ, Scientist, in Temple Sholem, 3760 Pine Grove avenue, today and Monday at 8 p. m. The lectures are free to the public.

Prairie Club Hike.

The Prairie club will walk this afternoon from Flossmoor to Matteson in two parties, five and eight miles. Strangers wishing to join either walk may take the 1:20 p. m. train, Illinois Central, Randolph street station.

At the Irish Fellowship Club.

Former presidents of the Irish Fellowship club and their wives and daughters will be guests of honor at the weekly luncheon of the club at the Hotel La Salle today.

MRS. J. LANGFORD STACK.

MR. and Mrs. J. Langford Stack, who were married in Los Angeles in February, and who have just returned from their honeymoon journey to Honolulu, are located in their summer home at Wheaton, near the Chicago Golf club. Polo Farm is the name of Mr. Stack's country place and he is the captain of the Chicago polo team which is already beginning to make ready for the summer season.

Miss Helen Danforth Next Week's Bride.

MISS HELEN DANFORTH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Danforth, will be married to Halsey George Prudden on Saturday, May 29, at 3:30 p. m. at the summer home of the Danforths at Round Lake, Ill. Miss Margaret Wilkins of Des Moines, Ia., will be maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Gladys Prudden, Miss Mildred Prudden, Miss Zita Murphy, Miss Margaret Hayes, Miss Marjorie Bell, and Miss Barbara Hadley. The father of the bridegroom will be best man.

Others in the wedding party will be Harold Myers, Howard Armstrong, Dr. L. K. Patton, and Ralph S. Danforth. The Rev. Henry Hepburn will perform the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. McDonald of 4814 Sheridan road have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Alla Mildred, to Louis G. Raggio, son of Charles A. Raggio of 4718 Sheridan road, on June 8, at the family residence at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Eugene Cananna of 2749 Hampden court gave a tea yesterday afternoon for the young women of the bridal party of Miss Jean MacFarlane, whose wedding to William T. Jones will take place June 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Emory Albright will entertain the Art institute alumnae association and the Edgewater Drama club and the officers of the North End Woman's club at "The Log House," Hubbard Woods, this afternoon.

Proceeds of an entertainment to be given this evening at the Eli Bates Settlement house at 621 West Elm street, under the auspices of the Good-Fellow-Ship club, will go toward defraying the expenses of the institution.

A number of features are included in the program. Among these will be Miss Lenore McCartney, who will appear as a dashing Spanish senorita. She will dance and sing a piece entitled "In Sunny Spain." Others who will appear are Miss Malvia Mae Davidson, Myra Roberts Kadow, Lydia Ross, Florence Little, and John J. McIntyre.

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity of the University of Chicago will hold its annual banquet this evening at the Midway gardens, followed by a dance. Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. McMillan of the university faculty, the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Cook of Tokio, Japan; Dr. Anna Holm, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Webster will serve as chaperons. There will be forty couples.

FOR A LOW-COST VACATION TRY COLORADO

With the very low fares in effect daily after June 1—only $30 for round trip from Chicago; $25 from St. Louis—and the possibility of good board as low as $7 or $8 per week, Colorado has proven to be the place of places for a real out-of-doors vacation.

The turquoise sky, constant sunshine, invigorating air, cool nights, wonderful snow-capped mountains, canyons, lakes, streams, the unusual opportunities for outdoor sports, make one wonder how anyone has ever failed to visit Colorado.

If you don't care to go all the way to the Pacific Coast this year, by all means visit Colorado—the nation's playground.

The "Rocky Mountain Limited," "Colorado Flyer," "Colorado-California Express" and other fast trains via Rock Island Lines provide the best in railway travel.

Dry clean them yourself with Putnam Dry-Cleaner. It's quicker,—easy—just as effective—much more economical. It will clean and renovate without altering the shape, changing the color, wrinkling or shrinking the fabric. Makes the dress or suit look like new again at a really trifling cost.

Putnam Dry-Cleaner is an invaluable household article. It will clean laces, silks, gloves, curtains, neckties, furs, and a hundred other articles. Makes you independent of the professional dry cleaner and saves seven-eighths of his charges. Don't accept imitations.

Doris Blake Says

"The peaches and cream girl needs a lot more of love's sugar to keep her palatable than the hardy apple type of girl."

Have you a perplexing love affair? Do you need the advice of a sympathetic, capable woman? Write to Doris Blake, care "Chicago Tribune." Inclose a stamped, addressed envelope if you wish a personal reply.

She's to Be Bride.

"Dear Miss Blake: What is a proper menu for a wedding luncheon? I expect forty or fifty guests. I am to be a June bride and my home is small. We expect to depart soon after we are married in the evening. Would you advise us to buy our own furniture for a flat or rent one ready furnished? H. G. M."

A salad, dainty sandwiches, an ice, fancy cakes, nuts, and coffee is as simple a menu as is served at a wedding reception. It can be managed in two courses easily. If you are not sure where you will be located, it would probably be a little more sensible to rent a furnished apartment, but you will miss all of the pleasure of getting pretty things for your home if you do that.

Took Her Money.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young girl of 18 and have kept steady company with a fellow of 21 for about seven months.

"About one month ago, coming home from a show, I asked him to hold my purse. Playfully he took out a certain amount of money and put it in his pocket. I told him to return it, but he wasn't working at that time, and said that he needed the money badly, and that he would return it the next day.

"The following week I met him again, but he did not mention the money. I haven't heard from him since. I wrote to him about a week ago to return it, but he did not answer. Kindly advise me how to get it back.

What do you think of a man like this one? Please do not think me a pest, as I have no one to ask advice from.

"MILDRED."

I am sure that the young man must have forgotten that he took the money. No that. When you see him remind him of tha. When you see him remind him of the matter. I can't understand why he didn't answer your note. Perhaps he didn't receive it.

OBITUARY.

JOHN W. MOORE, president of the Chicago live stock exchange and the Drovers' Commission company, died yesterday. He was born in Bedford, Ind., Aug. 15, 1847. He moved to Adams county, Illinois, when he was a boy, and was a member of the legislature from Pike county. He was graduated from the Abington university and taught public school. Mr. Moore later became one of the best known shorthorn cattle raisers in the state. In 1891 he came to Chicago and organized the Drovers' Commission company in the stockyards. Crown Co-ed Queen of May.

With an audience of 1,500 watching and listening—their attention, perhaps, somewhat distracted by the presence of a troupe of bare armed co-eds disguised as spring flowers, autumn leaves, sunbeams, and raindrops—a new Northwestern university queen of the May was crowned in Patten gymnasium yesterday. The new queen is Gertrude Nizze, a junior. The "fitting words" which were spoken by her predecessor, Miss Clara Patley, as the crown jewels were handed over came from the pen of Miss Eleanor Perkins, a co-ed of literary inclination.

Mayor's Wife to Attend Festival.

Mrs. William Hale Thompson and Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe will attend the festival of the Civic Music association tomorrow afternoon at the Carter Harrison High school at 3 o'clock.

CENTRAL DIST. GETS FACTORY

Structure to Be Built in Ashland Leased by Union Bag and Paper Co.

INVESTMENT $250,000.

An important transaction has been closed in the Central Manufacturing District involving the erection of another large manufacturing plant in that territory. The location is on the east side of Ashland avenue between Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh streets with a frontage of 127 feet and a depth of 500 feet.

The trustees of the district, John A. Spoor and Arthur G. Leonard, are to erect a mill contructed building, two-thirds of which will be two stories and basement and the front section three stories and basement. Over all it will be approximately 90x495 feet and will contain 148,000 square feet. The total investment represented by the land and building is placed at about $250,000.

Leased for Twenty-five Years.

The trustees have leased the property to the Union Bag and Paper company for a term of 25 years on the usual 5 and 8 per cent basis. The lease also gives the lessee the privilege of purchasing the property at any time within five years at a figure said to approximate $250,000. In addition the lessee has taken an option of purchase for a year on a plot containing 62,357 feet adjoining on the south.

Plans for the proposed building are being prepared by S. Scott Joy, the architect of the district. The Union Bag and Paper company has large plants in New York state, Wisconsin, and pulp mills in Canada and elsewhere. Edgard G. Barratt, consulting engineer of the company, represented the lessee and H. E. Porento the lessees.

Acquire Acre Tract.

Record has been made of the acquirement by Mills & Son of the tract of 140 acres comprising their "Greenfields" subdivision, bounded by North and Armitage avenues and Seventy-second and Seventy-eighth avenues. The grantor was James M. Brown of Brooklyn, N. Y., title being taken by Anna F. Crane for Mills & Son. The tract has been subdivided into 280 lots of a half acre each and will be placed on the market at once.

River Forest and Oak Park are to the south of the tract and the Oak Park Country club to the west. On the east is the eighty acre tract, the acquirement of which by the city for park purposes has been talked of. To the east of this is the Westward Ho Golf club. The consideration in connection with the transfer of the property is not disclosed, but it is said the property across the street is held at about $2,000 an acre.

Here's Latest Wrinkle.

The latest wrinkle in the subdivision business is the $500 gold prize contest started by Frederick H. Bartlett & Co., in which a prize of $200 is offered for the best letter of 1,000 words in answer to the question: "What would you do with one-half acre in Portia Manor?"

For the second best answer $100 is offered, and $50 for the third, with $5 for each of the thirty contestants whose papers contribute most in the way of practical suggestions. The firm has not yet disclosed the location of the subdivision.

Another acre deal in the outlying south part of the city has been closed and made a matter of record. It comprises the tract of twenty acres at the southwest corner of Seventy-ninth street and Paxton avenue, which was sold by Charles H. Waterous to Alex M. Harroun for an indicated consideration of $40,000, which is at the rate of $2,000 an acre.

New Flats Sold.

The new twelve apartment building at the southeast corner of Lakewood and Loyola avenues, on 50x151 feet of ground, has been sold by William H. Banford of H. H. Banford & Co. to Lula A. Howard for an indicated consideration of $45,000, subject to an incumbrance of $25,000. It is divided into apartments of four and five rooms, which rent at from $40 to $50 a month. The sale was negotiated by Finley & McGuire.

The manufacturing property at the northwest corner of Clybourn and Wabansia avenues, with ground dimensions of 110x124 feet, has been conveyed by E. S. Rice to Alfred O. Blaich for an indicated consideration of $45,000, subject to an incumbrance of $15,000.

The twelve apartment building at the northwest corner of Maryland avenue and sixtieth street, with 48x125 feet of ground, has been sold by Murray Wolbach to Christen Nielsen for an indicated consideration of $43,500, subject to an incumbrance of $22,000. Nielsen conveyed in part payment property in Armour avenue, at the northwest corner of Thirty-seventh street, of an indicated value of $6,000, and the property at 7101 Ingleside avenue.

Union Avenue Deal.

The property at the southwest corner of Union avenue and Sixty-ninth street, lot 50x100 feet, with flat improvements, has been sold by Manus Reid to Julia T. Cartinhaus for an indicated consideration of $24,500, subject to an incumbrance of $9,500.

William Bultmann has conveyed to Augustino Busaten the property in West Ohio street, seventy-five feet west of Claremont avenue, lot 73x100 feet, with brick improvements, for an indicated consideration of $17,000, subject to $10,000.

Oscar H. Haugan is trustee in a refunding loan of $100,000 to the Independent Brewing association, secured by property at the northeast corner of Broadway and Diversey boulevard and other property. The loan is in the form of a 6 per cent bond issue.

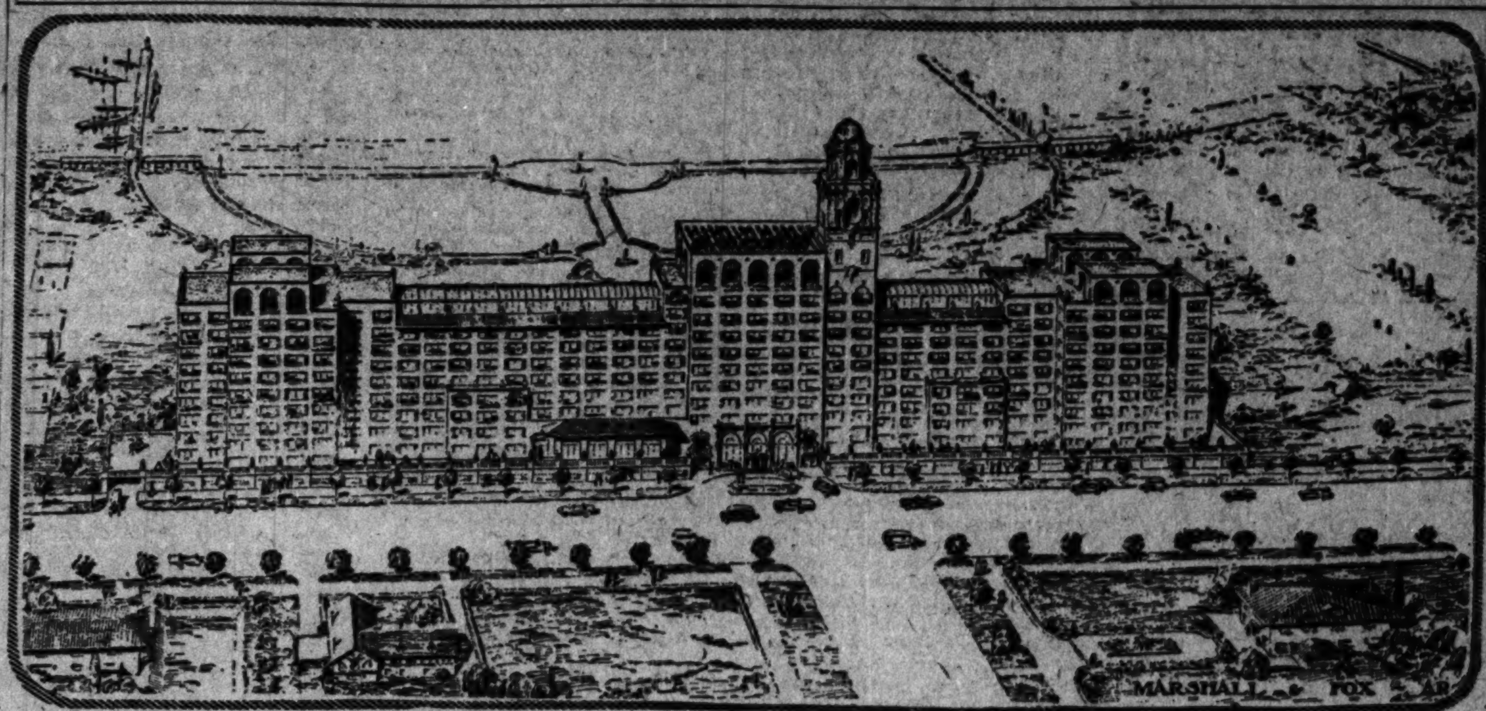
Friedrich Zoch has conveyed to Ernst Kiehl the property in Fletcher street, 341 feet west of North Clark street, 51x115 feet, with flat improvement, for an indicated consideration of $22,700, subject to an incumbrance of $12,700.

Will Build on Michigan Avenue.

Philo Otis is to erect a building to cost about $40,000 for the Willys-Overland company at 2417-23 Michigan avenue, on a lot 64x160 feet, to be occupied by the Overland Company of Illinois, of which Charles W. Price is president. The company are distributors of the Willys-Overland product for Illinois and will use the building, which will be one story, for showroom purposes only. The company is now located at 2426-28 Michigan avenue. Willoughby & Co. were the brokers.

Max Slepner has sold to Isador Goldstein the property at the northeast corner of Grace street and Ashland avenue, with store and flat improvements, for a reported consideration of about $40,000, seventy-five feet in North avenue being conveyed in part payment. Tox & Mincer were the brokers.

Big Hotel Project for the North Shore.



It is reported the $1,000,000 hotel project announced about a year ago for the lake shore at the foot of Balmoral avenue has been revived. Tentative plans for the building are being prepared by Marshall & Fox and it is said ground may be broken within two months.

The architects' sketch provides for a ten story fireproof structure, essentially of the summer resort type, while the plans are said to include in addition to the conventional features of the resort hotel, sleeping porches, sun parlors, and roof gardens overlooking the lake.

It is also said that in addition to private automobile and surface and elevated trains, there will also be provided a fast motor boat as well as motor bus service to the loop, the hotel company to manage both lines.

The grounds are also to be made attractive with lawns, flower gardens, fountains, etc., in addition to which there are to be athletic grounds and a bathing beach.

The plans for the hotel contemplate a structure in the form of a cross, every room to have one or more outer windows, while the entire east side, overlooking the lake, will be of glass and steel as far as possible. The grounds, as now planned, contemplate a plot about 900 feet long and 250 to 300 feet wide. It is said Corbett & Connery, real estate operators in that part of the city, are behind the project.

Fauntleroy, Esq., Special Master, filed in said cause in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern Division of the Eastern District of Missouri on December 12, 1913, and to the record and testimony filed therewith.

As provided by the above mentioned foreclosure decrees and orders:

The above mentioned railroads, property, rights, franchises, privileges, immunities and appurtenances to the same belonging, rolling stock, bonds, stocks or interest in stocks, debentures, contracts, choses in action, property, premises and rights, of every kind and description, will be sold in one parcel and as an entirety.

The Special Master has the power and right to adjourn said sale from time to time by announcement at the time and place appointed for said sale as aforesaid, or for such adjourned sale or sales, and may without further notice proceed with the sale on any day to which the same may be so adjourned.

The Special Master will receive no bid from any one offering to bid at said sale, unless such person so offering to bid shall have deposited with the Special Master prior to the day of the sale fixed by this notice, as a pledge that he will make good his bid in case of its acceptance, the sum of $1,700,000 in cash, or by certified check upon any bank or Trust Company acceptable to the Special Master, or bonds secured by said First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage, or a Certificate of Deposit representing the same, in the principal amount of $3,500,000.

The sale will be made without appraisement.

The Special Master will accept for the property offered for sale the highest bid therefor, provided that such bid shall not be less than the amount sufficient to pay the costs, expenses and compensations mentioned in paragraph [a] of Article XVII. of said foreclosure decrees; and the principal and interest of all Receiver's Certificates then outstanding, and that the purchaser at said sale shall, as part of the consideration and purchase price of the property sold, assume the payment of and take the property purchased on the express condition that it shall be charged with the satisfaction of the costs, expenses, fees, compensations, liabilities and advances mentioned in paragraph [b] of Article XVII. of said foreclosure decrees; and provided, further, that the manner and conditions upon which such sale is conducted, and the amount of the highest bid accepted thereat, shall be reported to the Court for its consideration and action in connection with any application for the confirmation of such sale, and that such sale shall only become final when confirmed by the Court.

By the terms of the above mentioned order, entered on April 22, 1915, in said cause by the District Court of the United States for the Eastern Division of the Eastern District of Missouri, and certain orders ancillary thereto entered in each of the other District Courts of the United States above named, the Receivers are directed to file with the Clerk of said District Court of the United States for the Eastern Division of the Eastern District of Missouri at least five days before the day fixed for said sale, an approximate statement, as nearly correct as they are able to make the same, of the amount of all Receiver's Certificates outstanding and of the costs, expenses and compensation mentioned in paragraph [a] of Article XVII. of said foreclosure decrees; and the Special Master will read said statement at the time of offering the property for sale.

By said foreclosure decrees the Recivers are directed to file with the Clerk of said District Court of the United States for the Eastern Division of the Eastern District of Missouri at least five days before the day fixed for said sale, an approximate statement, as nearly correct as they are able to make the same, of the amount of moneys in their hands, the moneys owing to them, and all their liabilities [fixed and contingent] resulting from the operation of the mortgaged property, and the Special Master will read the same, or a brief summary of said statement, at the time of offering the property for sale.

Upon the acceptance of any bid and the confirmation of such sale, the purchaser or purchasers, his or their successors or assigns, shall, after the application thereto of any amounts theretofore deposited in cash, make payment in cash to the Special Master of such an amount as shall be necessary to pay and satisfy the costs of the above mentioned cause and all proper expenses of said sale, including the compensation of the Special Master appointed to make the sale. The purchaser or purchasers, his or their successors or assigns, shall also make payment in cash to the Special Master at or before the maturity of all of the certificates of indebtedness issued by the Receivers in said cause and which may be outstanding and unpaid at the time of said sale, of such sum as shall be necessary to pay, satisfy, and discharge the amount of all of said certificates. The balance of the purchase price not required to be paid in cash as aforesaid may be paid either in cash or by delivery and surrender to the Special Master of First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage Bonds and unpaid past due coupons appertaining thereto found by said foreclosure decrees to be entitled to share in the distribution of the proceeds of said sale; and such purchaser shall be credited therefor on account of the purchase price with such sums as would be payable in cash on such bonds and coupons out of the proceeds of sale if the whole amount of the purchase price were paid in cash. Payment of the purchase price, as in said foreclosure decrees and in this notice provided, must be made within sixty days after the confirmation of said sale, unless the court shall otherwise direct; and if any sale in respect of which a deposit has been made or a portion of the purchase price paid shall not be confirmed by the court, such deposit or portion of the purchase price will be returned to the bidder, and the deposit of any unsuccessful bidder will be returned to him when a bid other than that made by him shall be accepted. In case any bidder shall fail to make good his bid upon its acceptance by the Special Master, by making the additional payments as hereinbefore and in said foreclosure decrees specified, then the sums paid or deposited by said bidder will be forfeited as a penalty for such failure and will be applied towards payment of the expenses of a resale and towards making good any deficiency or loss in case the property shall be sold at a less price upon such resale, and for any other and further purposes which the court may direct. Any party to said cause, or The Equitable Trust Company of New York as trustee of said First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage, or any holder or holders of said First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage Bonds, may bid and purchase at such sale. Any deposit with or payments to the Special Master, as herein or by said foreclosure decrees required to be made in cash, may be made by delivery of a certified check or checks or a certificate or certificates of deposit upon or issued by The Equitable Trust Company of New York, or upon or issued by any national bank or trust company in favor of or to the order of the Special Master and satisfactory to him. The Special Master is permitted, in his discretion, to accept temporarily, instead of bonds and coupons, the certificate or certificates of The Equitable Trust Company of New York, or any other trust company approved by the Special Master, that it holds First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage Bonds or coupons subject to the order of the Special Master, and will deliver the same to him for cancellation or other disposition, according to the terms of said foreclosure decrees. The Special Master is also permitted to receive, in lieu of cash, in payment of amounts found by said foreclosure decrees to be payable in cash, Receiver's Certificates of Indebtedness therein mentioned, at their face amount with accrued interest thereon.

The purchaser or purchasers at said sale, or his or their successors or assigns, shall, as part of the consideration and purchase price of the property purchased, and in addition to the sums required to be paid as aforesaid, take said property and receive the deeds and instruments of transfer therefor, upon the express condition that said property shall be charged with the payment, satisfaction, and discharge of the obligations, liabilities, and charges in said foreclosure decrees and said order of April 22, 1915, specified as follows:

The costs, expenses, fees, compensations, liabilities, and advances mentioned in paragraph (b) of Article XVII. of said foreclosure decrees.

Any taxes which may be a lien upon or chargeable against the property and franchises sold, and all unpaid current liabilities, indebtedness, and obligations, if any such there be, of the Receivers in the above-mentioned cause legally contracted or incurred by them in the operation of the railroads and property covered by and embraced in said First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage at any time before said property is delivered to the purchaser or purchasers, his or their successors or assigns (not including, however, the indebtedness and obligations of said Receivers represented by their certificates of indebtedness); also any just and legal indebtedness of The Wabash Railroad Company payment whereof was provided for by the order of Court appointing the Receivers in said cause, and which became due and payable prior to the appointment of said Receivers and which shall not at the time of the delivery of possession of the property sold at said sale have been paid or satisfied by the Receivers upon the same being adjudged in the manner provided by said foreclosure decrees to be prior and superior in equity to said First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage and directed to be paid. Also such further amounts, if any, claimed by petitions now filed in the above mentioned cause, or which may be filed therein prior to the sale for which the receivers may be adjudged to be liable or which may be adjudged to be prior and superior in equity to the lien of said First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage and chargeable against said property.

In the event said purchaser or purchasers, his or their successors or assigns, shall refuse on demand to pay any indebtedness or liability specified in said foreclosure decrees and order as aforesaid, the person or persons holding the claim therefor, when established by a court of competent jurisdiction, may, upon ten days' notice to said purchaser or purchasers, his or their successors or assigns, file a petition to have the said claim enforced against the said property, and either party shall have the right to appeal from any judgment, decree, or order made thereon or with respect thereto; and the Court reserves the right to retake and resell said property in case the purchaser or purchasers shall fail to comply with any order of the court in respect to the payment of such indebtedness or liability within thirty days after service of a certified copy of the judgment, decree or order requiring such payment, subject, however, to all rights of appeal and stay of proceedings provided by law or in said foreclosure decrees set forth.

Upon payment of the purchase price by the purchaser or purchasers of said property, or his or their successors or assigns, or upon the making of such provision for the payment thereof as the Court shall approve, the Special Master will execute a good and sufficient deed or deeds or instrument or instruments of transfer, conveying and transferring the property purchased to the purchaser or purchasers, or his or their successors or assigns; and upon the execution and delivery of said deed or deeds or instrument or instruments of transfer, the grantee or grantees therein named will be let into possession of the premises thereby conveyed and transferred, and the receivers or any party to said cause who shall be in possession of any of said property or premises will deliver the same over to said grantee or grantees. All revenues and compensation for services rendered to any party or parties by the receivers in the operation of the mortgaged premises subsequent to the date of said sale, as well as any and all material, supplies, and other property acquired by said receivers during said period in the operation of the mortgaged premises, shall belong to and be enjoyed by said grantee or grantees. Such possession shall, nevertheless, be subject to the condition that the Court may retake and resell the property so conveyed or transferred, upon such notice as the Court may direct, in case the purchaser or purchasers, or his or their successors or assigns, shall fail to pay any balance of the purchase price remaining unpaid or to comply with any other provisions contained in said foreclosure decrees or the above mentioned order of April 22, 1915.

The purchaser or purchasers, or his or their successors or assigns, shall have the right to, and are required by the terms of the foreclosure decrees, at or before the time of the delivery to him or them of the property sold, to enter his or their appearance in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern Division of the Eastern District of Missouri in the above mentioned cause, and he or they shall have the right to contest any claim, demand or allowance which would be chargeable against the property purchased in addition to the amount paid by such purchaser or purchasers at such sale and may appeal from any decision relating to any such claim, demand or allowance and shall have and enjoy all rights to stay of proceedings as fully as if a party to said cause.

Said sale and said conveyance and transfer of all property to the purchaser thereat shall be and said purchaser shall become and remain subject to the jurisdiction of the Court so far as necessary to protect the rights and equities of The Equitable Trust Company of New York as trustee under said First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage, or otherwise, in case, in obedience to said foreclosure decrees or other order of said Court, said Trust Company shall make delivery of any securities or other property and shall at any time be directed or required by any Court to take, and shall take, any other or different action with respect to said securities or other property, or to make any payment of money or do any other thing in respect of said securities or property by reason of the delivery thereof in obedience to said foreclosure decrees or other order of said Court; and said Trust Company has the right, before making delivery of any securities in fulfillment of said sale, to apply to the Court, on notice to such purchaser, for further protection as to the Court shall seem just; and as a further protection to said The Equitable Trust Company of New York the purchaser or purchasers at said sale shall, as a further condition of the acceptance of his or their bid, agree to abide by and fulfill all the terms of said foreclosure decrees and of all orders or decrees heretofore made and to save said Trust Company harmless in respect thereto.

For further particulars, including those relating to the mortgage debt, priorities of liens, defaults, descriptions of property to be sold, the deeds to the purchaser, and the nature and conditions of the purchaser's possession, reference is hereby made to said foreclosure decrees, to said order of April 25, 1914, and said orders ancillary thereto, to said order of April 22, 1915, and said orders ancillary thereto, to the report of the Special Master filed in said cause, and to the record and testimony filed therewith.

AMSTER'S VIEWS ON ROCK ISLAND

DEUTSCHE BANK FIRM.

N. L. Amster, chairman of the Rock Island stockholders' protective committee, has issued a statement discussing five important points in the Rock Island situation. He says:

"Wall street interests are now urging the formation of a refunding bond committee, which will make the fifth committee of its kind. We shall, however, continue our efforts regardless as to the number of committees the Wall street interests may put in our way.

"The latest excuse given for the receivership is a clause in the refunding bond which prohibits placing second liens on the property. This is about as absurd as most of the claims coming from the Wall street source. Can any one figure out the value a second lien security would have when the company's first and refunding bonds, practically a first lien, are selling at less than 66 cents on the dollar?

"If a clause permitting junior liens would be of such great help in financing the company, why not issue now $30,000,000 collateral trust bonds secured by an equal amount of the company's first and refunding and other first mortgage and terminal bonds, of which there is free, approximately, $30,000,000, subject to only $1,000,000 short term notes? Such bonds secured by these first lien bonds would certainly be a far better marketable security than any second lien of the Rock Island could possibly be.

Would Help Raise $30,000,000.

"If the Reid-Moore interests, the various protective committees, the directors and their banking affiliations will take their pro rata, our committee and the stockholders we represent will gladly take their proportion of such an issue of well secured $30,000,000 collateral bonds. That would give the company (after paying all its short term notes, totaling $11,000,000) from $13,000,000 to $19,000,000 (depending upon the price decided for these bonds) cash working capital. It would obviate foreclosures, reorganizations, or any burdensome assessments, but will the Wall street interests indorse such a simple plan of financing and give up the possible large profits there would be if the property could be forced through a foreclosure and reorganization?

"Criminal" to Default Interest.

"The recent request of President Mudge as receiver, which the court granted, is permission to tear up sixty miles of eighty-five pound rails, most of which have been in place only since 1907-'9, and to replace them with new 100 pound rails. This is another straw showing the way the wind is blowing, especially when we realize that the Great Northern, not in the receiver's hands, which hauls an average train load twice the weight of Rock Island, has few if any 100 pound rails on its line. The Reid-Moore management contemplates urging Receiver Dickinson to indorse an expenditure of $5,000,000 for freight cars.

"Such expenditures would soon accomplish for the Wall street interests their desire of having the company default on its interest. It would be nothing short of criminal to make the company default on any of its interest, in view of the fact that it has never in its history earned the interest charges more completely than this year."

Deutsche Bank's Year.

The annual report of the Deutsche bank of Berlin for the fiscal year ended Dec. 31, 1914, showing the effects of six months' operations under war conditions, arrived in Chicago yesterday.

"Our bank's forty-fifth year will remain a memorable one," Rudolph von Koch, chairman of the board of supervisors, says. "Its first half was marked by the largest increase on record of our capital and reserves; the second half year put the strength of the Deutsche bank to the severest test it has had to stand.

"The facts and the figures show that the bank, like Germany's economic structure in general, has proved up to the test. The success of two war loans aggregating $3,000,000,000, issued in the midst of the war, raised the German people's economic achievement to the level of their military success. War and war loans notwithstanding, German banks' savings deposits have increased by about $220,000,000 during the year under review."

Net profits for 1914 were $9,779,638, including the previous year's undivided profits of $873,432. The dividend was 6½ per cent, against 12½ per cent the previous year. There was a decrease in gross business from $30,700,000,00 in 1913 to $27,000,000,000 in 1914.

Deposits Were $486,214,000.

Among other items the balance sheet shows the following: Capital stock, $59,500,000; reserve funds, $42,500,000; deposits, $486,214,473; profit and loss, $9,779,638; cash, $56,297,778; foreign coin, etc., $11,170,684; and cash balances with banks and bankers, $17,550,894. The total assets are $640,100,850. The profit and loss account shows a gross profit for 1914 of $17,722,525, of which $12,023,162 represents interest, discount, dividends, and exchange, and $5,699,363 commission. General expenses including taxes amounted to $8,257,899.

The merger with the Bergisch-Markische bank, bringing with it thirty-eight new branch systems, was made during the year, adding a surplus of $15,119,047 to the legal reserve of the Deutsche bank.

Detroit Edison Bonds.

Stockholders of the Detroit Edison company will hold a special meeting on June — for the purpose of approving a mortgage for an issue of $75,000,000 twenty-five year bonds. The bonds will be sold from time to time as the proceeds may be needed. Earnings of the company for the twelve months ended April 30 show an increase of 16.9 per cent in gross compared with the previous twelve months.

Dividends Declared.

The General Chemical company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 1 to holders of record June 21.

The Standard Oil Company of Ohio declared the regular quarterly dividend of $3 and an extra dividend of $3, the same disbursement as made in the last five quarters.

The Chesebro Manufacturing company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 6 per cent and the customary extra dividend of 4 per cent, payable June 21. Books close June 4 and reopen June 22.

The Ohio Oil company declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 and an extra dividend of 75 cents, payable June 21. Books close May 27, reopen June 14.

FOREIGN BILLS AT LOW MARKS

Exchange Situation Is Chief Factor in New York Stock Market.

WAR SHARES ADVANCE.

Total sales of stocks, 396,000 shares.

Total sales of bonds (par value), $2,045,000.

New York, May 21.—Developments in the foreign exchange markets today were regarded as of more importance than the day's rather inconclusive session on the stock exchange. Demand sterling fell to 4.78; francs declined to the lowest quotation within the memory of exchange dealers, and Italian remittances were virtually unsalable. Later London bills recovered a trifle on rumors that arrangements had been concluded for the release of more gold at Ottawa.

Trading in stocks was almost twice as large as in the early days of the week, but a large percentage of the turnover was in one of the low priced war specialties—Crucible Steel—which rose 4⅝ points to its highest price.

Steel Stocks Show Firmness.

Bethlehem Steel and Westinghouse gained as much or more, and other specialties in the same class were prominent. United States Steel more than held its recent recovery despite denials of "war contract" rumors. Coppers and a score of unclassified stocks rose 1 to 3 points, the best prices being made in the final dealings. Northern Pacific was the only investment issue to manifest heaviness, but minor roads like Missouri Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Rock Island showed increasing weakness for reasons more or less obvious.

Banks Make Gains in Cash.

Bank returns indicating another cash gain were a factor in local money markets, call loans declining to 1 per cent, the lowest quotation in two years.

Bonds were heavy in the main noteworthy exceptions being Westinghouse convertible 5s and Distillers' Securities 5s, which made material gains. United States coupon and registered 3s advanced ¼ per cent on call.

Mercantile paper, 3½@4. Sterling exchange, steady; sixty day bills, 4.7550; for cables, 4.7875; for demand, 4.7825. Bar silver, 49⅜c. Mexican dollars, 38c. Government bonds, firm. Railroad bonds, heavy. Time loans, steady; sixty days, 2¾@3; ninety days, 3; six months, 3¼@3½. Call money, weak; high, 2; low, 1; ruling rate, 2; last loan, 1¾; closing bid, 1; offered at 1¼.

BOSTON STOCK TRANSACTIONS

BOSTON, Mass., May 21.—There was no material change today in the local stock market situation. The zinc and copper issues monopolized attention, with zinc stocks far in the lead Butte and Superior and American Zinc were higher, the former rising above 70 and at all times showing an advance of more than a point, while the latter sold above 47 and was active. Among the copper shares the best gains were made by Wolverine, St. Marys, Quincy, and Miami. Calumet and Hecla on limited trading touched 590, a gain of 5 points. Call money ruled at 3@3½ per cent; time loans, short dates, 3½@3¾ per cent; time loans, six months, 3¾@4 per cent; time loans, one year, 4¼@4½ per cent.

UPWARD TENDENCY SHOWN IN PROMINENT INDUSTRIES.

Dun's Review, published today by R. G. Dun & Co., will say:

"The prominent activities sustain the upward trend and dealings generally reflect seasonable character, although adverse effects are caused by the building trade troubles and unsettled weather. Bank payments again show a slight comparative decrease and trading defaults run high among small dealers. A larger use of money has advanced the minimum discount rate and the banking position in this district is shown to be strong in deposits and reserves.

"Aggregate demands in iron, steel and equipment were not conspicuously large, but the outlook is strengthened in these branches by numerous inquiries of railroads and heavy consumers. Specifications gained in rails, rolling stock, motive power, and structural shapes, indicating early closing of heavy tonnages for western systems and improvements.

"Additional special orders from abroad are stimulating factory operations. The international situation does not cause apprehension in trade circles and monetary conditions remain conducive to expanding enterprise. There is further lessening of idle capacity and labor. Chicago steam roads report more reduction of idle cars and larger calls from the furnaces, rolling mills, mines, and jobbers.

"Bank clearings, $307,931,361, show 2.9 per cent less than in corresponding week of 1914, and compare with $303,283,842 in 1913. Failures reported in the Chicago district numbered 45, against 35 last week, 33 in 1914, and 36 in 1913. Those with liabilities over $5,000 number 20, against 11 last week, 14 in 1914, and 17 in 1913."

Bradstreet's Weekly Report.

New York, May 21.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"While trade and industrial conditions continue to move along generally favorable lines, the week's developments disclose some irregularity. On the one hand wet or cool weather has checked distributive trade, and the unsettled international political matters tend to cause wholesale buyers in some lines to go slow, while the same factor holds up certain speculative projects. But on the other hand industry is more active, employment is increasing, and war orders continue to cause extraordinary speed at a number of centers.

"Railway traffic is increasing, buying of steel by the railroads is larger, bank clearings, though lighter than last week, display gains over one and two years ago, and in some places collections seem to be better. Bank clearances for the week $3,269,953,000."

MARSHALL FIELD CO. REVIEW.

"Current shipments of dry goods total about the same as during the corresponding week a year ago. Sales by our traveling organization show an increase over those of the same week last year. The volume of business that is being booked for fall delivery continues to show a gain. Collections are satisfactory."

Cities Service.

C. B. L.—The Cities Service company is a holding corporation controlling fifty or more subsidiaries, some of which are subholding companies. The subsidiaries include a wide variety of enterprises, such as heating, lighting, electric power, natural gas, and oil. A wide variety of financial conditions is represented in them. General business conditions have been poor in regions where several subsidiaries are located and the earnings of these particular companies have been unsatisfactory. Some subsidiaries have needed financing and, while rates for money are not high, loans are refused altogether if credit is not excellent, so the holding company has been doing the financing with its earnings instead of paying dividends. In the meantime, published statements of earnings show the preferred dividends deducted as if they had been paid to stockholders. The balance sheet, however, shows the accrued dividends as a liability, while the corresponding asset is included in $3,556,094 of "advances to subsidiaries." One such advance was made in February when the Cities Service company paid $350,000 of notes of the Empire District Electric company then falling due. The position of the combination is evidently somewhat speculative, but the withholding of dividends is improving it. There is no reason why the stock should sell on as high a level as that of a holding company which not only earns dividends but pays them.

Western Cooperage.

R. J. G.—The Western Cooperage company manufactures barrels and cases for many different lines of products. Its earnings in 1914, notwithstanding the business depression, were more than two and one-half times the interest on its bonds. The bonds are now maturing at the rate of $25,000 every six months, and $50,000 of the issue of $750,000 have been retired thus far. The bonds are a first lien on mills, machinery equipment, and standing timber in Washington, Oregon, and California, all the property being valued at nearly $3,000,000. In view of the large earnings in a poor year and the wide margin of security, the bonds are attractive, though, being partly an industrial and partly a timber issue, they are not so conservative as railway or utility bonds.

Creamery Package.

D. A. J.—The Creamery Package company has paid dividends since 1888. The rate has been 6 per cent on preferred stock to date. On common it was formerly 8 per cent, but beginning in 1913 it has been 6. The net earnings have fluctuated between $351,031 in 1907 and $252,736 in 1912. In the year ended Nov. 30 last the net was $379,600 and the surplus after dividends and depreciation, $110,510. The balance sheet shows total surplus and undivided profits of $669,789. There is outstanding $269,900 of preferred stock and $3,000,000 of common. Evidently a purchase of common stock is a participation in a successful business venture rather than a savings investment.

Stock Dividends.

W. J. R.—Stock dividends naturally reduce the market price of shares. Each stockholder owns just the same fraction of the company's property after receiving a stock dividend that he owned before. As he has more shares, the shares must be worth less. Sears, Roebuck & Co. common sold at 202 on Saturday, March 13, and at 132 to 135⅞ the following Monday because a 50 per cent stock dividend had become effective. At its present market level the stock yields a low income return.

Buck and Rayner Bonds.

T. A. L.—The $300,000 bond issue on the new Buck & Rayner building ranks well among Chicago leasehold loans. It is secured by mortgage on the building, which, it is announced, will cost completed twice the amount of the loan. The leasehold has a bonus value of $140,000, as shown by the fact that it cost Buck & Rayner that amount. The bonds are further the direct obligation of the company, whose annual net earnings are several times the interest charge.

Brief Answers.

R. L. C.—A purchase of the stock of a life insurance project is not a safe investment. Some proposed companies never get to the point of writing insurance and a considerable proportion of those that begin writing never get on a paying basis. The particular company you ask about is still a long way from the point where it can get a license.

L. J.—The Giroux Consolidated Mines company stock is a speculation. It controls a number of mines which have been worked, but not at a profit. The stock is listed on the Boston exchange.

J. C. H.—Advertising literature of the Atascadero colony indicates that it is essentially a real estate speculation. Letters to the company have brought no further information.

J. V. FARWELL CO. REVIEW.

The John V. Farwell company weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade says:

"In spite of the extremely unseasonable weather dry goods business has kept up remarkably well, showing a gain in shipments over last year. Dry goods accessories business has been characterized this season by dullness in so called luxury lines and activity in the practical and staple lines. White goods, underwear, hosiery, and dress fabrics continue very active, especially the light weight midsummer dress fabrics.

"The prestige given to palm beach fabrics for men's wear last summer has caused a big demand for these fabrics in lighter weight for women's wear. American travel and the dye situation have also added to the popularity of these cloths, both with the manufacturer and consumer, and manufacturers have been working to full capacity on orders placed over two months ago.

"Wool dress goods orders booked for fall show a large increase over last year. Cream fabrics are unusually active. The tendency toward greater simplicity in dress is reflected in the large demand for women's broad flat Quaker collars and windsor ties. Many orders are being received for sheer tissues in black and white, also color and white awning stripes. Solid color dress linen and linen color suitings are selling well."

Will Discuss Evanston Bond Plan.

The fifty thousand dollar bond issue which will be submitted to the voters of Evanston June 7, giving them an opportunity of beautifying the lake front by adding piers, will be discussed at the noon meeting of the current events class of the First Congregational church, Evanston, tomorrow.

DEMURRERS IN BANK CASE.

William Lorimer, Charles B. Munday, Henry W. Huttig, and Joseph P. Gallagher yesterday filed demurrers to federal indictments charging violation of the national banking laws in connection with the affairs of the La Salle Street National bank. Judge Landis permitted withdrawal of pleas of not guilty to allow filing of the demurrers. The defendants set up that the indictments are insufficient and faulty. In the case of Lorimer it is contended that he could not have misapplied the funds of the institution because the only power authorized to disburse funds was the board of directors and it had never delegated this power to the defendants.

DERING COAL LANDS SOLD.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 21.—The coal mining properties of the J. K. Dering Coal company of Chicago, located in Sullivan, Vigo, and Vermilion counties, were sold here at auction today to the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago for $400,000. The sale followed a decree of foreclosure in the federal court at Indianapolis on petition of the bondholders.

Bids for Removing Wreck.

Four bids for the removal of the steamship Iowa, which sank in Lake Michigan, three miles off the Grand avenue pier, on Feb. 4, were opened yesterday by Assistant Engineer W. T. Blunt, in charge of the local United States engineering corps in the absence of Col. William V. Judson. Oscar L. Anderson of 2246 Armitage avenue bid $5,348, the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company $6,980.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY

To holders of extended three year six per cent, secured gold notes due June 1, 1915:

The deposit of a majority of the above notes (including those held by the Gould Estate) under the agreement providing for an extension until June 1, 1916, having been assured, the company again calls attention to its circular of April 10, 1915, copies of which may be obtained from any of the depositaries or from the company at its offices at New York and St. Louis. The directors are proceeding actively with the formulation of a plan for the readjustment of the financial structure of the company in which it is contemplated to make provision for the payment of the above notes in cash. They expect at an early day to submit this plan to the security holders for their action, provided the extension of the above notes is accomplished. If the company is to have the opportunity of carrying through this voluntary readjustment, thereby avoiding the expense, loss and delay which would be involved in a receivership and a forced reorganization, it is essential that the extension of the above notes should be effected. No arrangements have been made for the payment of non-assenting notes.

As the notes mature on June 1, it is imperative that they should be deposited at once with Union Trust Company of New York, or one of the other depositaries designated by it and named below.

BAD CROP NEWS CAUSES UPTURN

CORN HAS LATE RALLY.

Commission houses were good buyers of wheat yesterday as the result of more bad crop reports. The reports from the experts were less favorable, and there appears to be a greater disposition to take stock in the advices from Illinois, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, and Indiana. The rains improved conditions a great deal, but there has been no letup in the stream of bad reports. Final prices were 1⅞@3¼c up. The May was strong here and also much higher northwest.

With the strength in May here and at Minneapolis the stronger tone in the cash markets at the two places was regarded as significant. At Minneapolis premiums were higher and a small premium for No. 2 hard in store was bid here. Cash wheat was in good demand, but was again hard to buy in the local market.

Modern Miller Bullish.

The Modern Miller report was regarded as particularly bullish, as it confirmed damage reports from the leading winter wheat states. It placed the Kansas crop at about 120,000,000 bu. In Oklahoma, Illinois, Missouri, and sections of other states it stated the prospects for a bumper crop had disappeared. Reports from Snow from Indiana and Illinois, from Inglis from Missouri, and from Le Count, who wired from western Missouri, were all a little bullish.

There were many good reports also, but the crowd appeared more willing to accept the bad reports at their face value. In the northwest conditions are still fine and there are few complaints. There were general rains throughout the spring and winter wheat belts. Temperatures were more moderate in nearly all sections and higher temperatures were predicted.

Liverpool Shows Steady Tone.

Liverpool cables were unchanged to ½d higher. The advance was due to the better continental demand and to the firmer tone on this side. Argentine shipments were larger than expected at 4,712,000 bu, and India shipped 1,376,000 bu. From this country and Canada clearances for the week were 7,657,000 bu, against 4,787,000 bu a year ago. For the day clearances were 1,098,000 bu. Primary receipts were 564,000 bu, or 52,000 bu more than a year ago.

Receipts here were 55 cars, with 45 cars inspected, and northwest points had 115 cars; last year, 185 cars. Winnipeg had 212 cars, against 107 cars a year ago. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 590,000 bu for the week. Duluth stocks decreased 587,000 bu for five days. Russian wheat stocks at Odessa and ports along the Dnieper are said to be about 10,000,000 bu. Receipts from the interior are said to be small.

Corn Rallies After Setbacks.

Corn was weak at the start, but closed strong. There was good buying by commission houses on the break, and when wheat turned strong shorts were forced to cover. Last prices were ½@1c higher. The cash demand was moderate and sales were 75,000 bu. Offerings from the country were small, but receivers look for some increase in the movement as soon as farmers are through with planting.

Receipts were 64 cars, with 57 cars inspected yesterday. Primary receipts were 435,000 bu, or 25,000 bu more than a year ago. Clearances were 292,000 bu for the day and 1,200,000 bu for the week. Plate shipments were 1,474,000 bu. Liverpool was unchanged to 1d off, Plate corn being offered freely. Better weather in Argentina also was a factor. The corn belt has had a good wetting down the last two days.

Oats Buying of Good Sort.

Buying of oats appeared to be of an influential kind, and the market showed a quick response to the demand, especially when wheat gained rapidly. Resting prices were ⅛@⅜c up, the May leading. Cash prices were ¼@½c higher, and shipping sales were 175,000 bu.

Weather and crop conditions continue favorable as a rule throughout the belt, and thus far there have been few complaints in regard to the oats crop. Receipts were 78 cars, with 83 cars inspected today. Primary receipts were 498,000 bu, against 500,000 bu a year ago. Clearances were 559,000 bu. Argentine shipments for the week were 680,000 bu.

Hog Products Are Steady.

Provisions were irregular, but there was a steady tone as a rule, and on the dips there was fair buying. Hog prices were 5@10c up early, but were shaded later. Receipts were 17,000 here, with 10,000 the estimate for today. Primary receipts of hogs were 72,700, or 2,500 more than a year ago.

Liverpool cash lard was 9d higher; Cumberland sides 1s higher; hams and bacon, 3d up. The export demand was reported light, but there is a brisk inquiry for sugar cured meats. Receipts of products were 20 cars and shipments were 92 cars.

Rye Prices Advance.

Timothy seed was quiet at $6.65 bid and $6.75 sellers for September and $4.50@6.25 for cash. Cloverseed was dull at $8.00@12.50 for cash.

Duluth flax closed ½@1½c higher, with cash on track $1.93¾; May, $1.93¼; July, $1.96¼, and September, $1.99¼. Receipts, 10 cars. Minneapolis was ½c higher at $1.90¾@1.91¼ for cash on track. Winnipeg closed 1⅛@1⅞c higher, with May, $1.77⅜; July, $1.79⅝, and October, $1.83¼. Receipts, 5 cars.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

The Modern Miller said: "There has been rapid deterioration in wheat condition throughout the entire wheat belt and we confirm heavy damage. In Oklahoma 25 per cent of the wheat acreage is infested with fly, and in this area damage is estimated at 40 per cent. Heavy rains have lodged wheat. Production estimated by correspondents indicates a 40,000,000 bu crop. Kansas is badly infested with Hessian fly; rains have checked chinch bugs. Some principal counties report damages as high as 40 per cent. Average damage is much less. Too early to estimate accurately, but advices indicate crop not exceeding 120,000,000 bu. Missouri shows greatest deterioration. Principal wheat sections of southwest, southeast, and central Missouri show heavy damage. Some sections of north central Missouri not materially hurt. In southern Illinois, principal wheat counties producing normally 40 per cent of the crop have been badly damaged. Central Illinois shows some deterioration and crop along Illinois river is reported good. Western and southern Indiana have been hard hit by fly. Many fields have been plowed up. Central and eastern sections have been but slightly affected. Ohio has some fly, but immaterial damage and favorable weather conditions. Kentucky reports show low average condition compared with last year."

Bids were raised a little for wheat in store yesterday. Bids from the country from here met with poor response, but in the southwest offerings of old wheat are liberal and on Thursday 100 cars were carried over at Kansas City unsold. There is a considerable amount of old wheat back in the southwest, and farmers and dealers appear more willing to sell. Locally the cash market was strong and at Minneapolis cash premiums were higher, some choice No. 1 northern selling at 9c over the May, with lower grades also selling at high figures. May was 6¼c higher at Minneapolis at one time, and May wheat here was 3¼c higher. Duluth reported the sale of 100,000 bu spring wheat to go to a Minnesota miller.

Crop reports were such yesterday as to create more uneasiness on the part of shorts. There was good class of commission house buying and offerings were light. Since the general rains of the last few days there has been free selling of wheat by local traders and yesterday a good many of the local shorts covered. While the rains undoubtedly have improved conditions materially, it is feared the fly damage was more extensive than fully realized. Traders look for the market to be governed mainly by crop reports the next few weeks, but there were signs of a better cash demand as well, which has been lacking for some time.

Buenos Aires: "Wheat closed strong with offers lighter. Arrivals are smaller and export bids, other than the United Kingdom, higher. The continent is bidding freely. Corn easy on favorable weather and improved quality. The demand for export is large, but bids lowered."

Bradstreet's reported exports of wheat and flour from both coasts this week at 7,657,000 bu, an increase of 969,000 bu. Corn exports were placed at 1,200,000 bu, increasing 534,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	Wheat and flour.	Corn.
This week	7,657,000	1,200,000
Previous week	6,688,000	666,000
Last year	4,787,000	80,000

Argentine shipments of wheat this week were 4,712,000 bu, increasing 1,096,000 bu. Corn exports totaled 1,474,000 bu, showing an increase of 173,000 bu, while oats increased 240,000 bu to 680,000 bu, and flax exports decreased 1,021,000 bu and were 765,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	This wk.	Last wk.	Last yr.
Oats	680,000	440,000	440,000
Flax	765,000	1,786,000	518,000

	This wk.	Last wk.	Last yr.
Wheat	8,280,000	8,280,000	760,000
Corn	3,910,000	3,324,000	2,975,000

The general freight agent of the Union Pacific is authority for the statement that Kansas will raise 90 per cent as much wheat as last year along the lines of the Union Pacific and its branches.

Adolph Kempner wired from Wichita, Kas.: "Some damage has been done by fly, but Kansas will raise a crop of 120,000,000 bu. There is a large amount of old wheat back in farmers' hands."

Kansas City wired Keusch-Schwartz: "Cash wheat is developing a better undertone. Three of the elevators are buying No. 2 hard at 1c over May. One miller bought a little."

Russian reports indicate about 8,000,000 bu wheat at Odessa and along the Dneiper ports, 2,000,000 bu.

All United Kingdom markets will be closed today. Winnipeg will be closed Monday.

Hog prices at Chicago yesterday opened at an advance of 5@10c and averaged 8c higher than on Thursday, although closing with part of the early gain eliminated. Receipts were only 15,000 head, and a good clearance was made, in spite of packers' reluctance to meet higher prices. Top sales were made at $7.80, with the bulk at $7.60@7.70. Shippers bought 1,500 head and packers took 15,000.

Sheep and lamb receipts of 5,000 head met with a brisk demand at steady to 10c higher prices, with lambs showing the appreciation. Final values were sharply lower than a week ago, but the market was in good condition, with shorn lambs topping at $10.15. Woolskins were quotable up to $11.25.

Only 1,000 beef cattle were reported in and they met with a narrow demand at Thursday's prices. Most of them were cows and heifers of poor quality, and they sold at a reduction of 25@50c from Monday's prices. Veal calves met with a brisk call and were firm to 25c higher, with prime vealers at $9.50.

COURT CONSIDERING MOTION TO QUASH RIGGS BANK CASE.

Government Urges Dismissal of Suit Against Treasury Officials—Temporary Injunction Denied.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—At the conclusion of five days of argument Justice McCoy of the district Supreme court took under advisement today the motion of the government to dismiss the suit brought by the Riggs National bank to enjoin Secretary McAdoo, Controller of the Currency Williams, and Treasurer Burke from alleged unlawful persecution of the bank. The justice indicated that he would endeavor to dispose of it before July 1.

In denying the prayer for an injunction pending litigation, Justice McCoy said that, without considering what evidence might hereafter be presented, there was nothing in the record which showed the government officials had exercised arbitrary power or power arbitrarily in regard to the refusal to select the Riggs bank as a reserve agency.

"It seems to me, on the record as it stands, that the government officials would be remiss in their duty in selecting it as an agent for new applicant banks," said the justice. "The evidence here is of persistent violations of the law, and those violations did not begin when Mr. Williams came into office and they have continued to this day."

The court also considered the charge that Secretary McAdoo showed malice in an interview in his office with Riggs bank officials. The justice said it appeared to him that the malice was rather "on the other side."

Samuel Untermyer made the concluding argument for the government after former Senator Bailey had closed for the bank.

SHOPPING FOR FUN COSTLY TO STORES, SAYS PARSONS.

The increase in the cost of doing business is due to the growing desire for luxury, the tendency in large businesses to disregard the "personal element" that old time merchants found successful, and the advent for the fun of it shopper, according to J. R. Parsons, advertising manager for Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., who spoke at the weekly luncheon of the Executives' club in the Hotel Sherman yesterday.

"Our desire for more ease, comfort, and convenience is now termed 'high cost of living,'" said Mr. Parsons. "It is really the cost of old fashioned, simple living plus the modern conveniences and the choice pieces of beefsteak. This insistence that convenience shall be part of practically every business transaction has placed its item high on the list of costs."

The "shopping for the fun of it shopper" was criticised by Mr. Parsons. He said this class of shopper costs some stores $50,000 a year—mostly by wasting the time of clerks.

Sent to Prison on Girl's Charge.

James Bajois, a Greek and keeper of a rooming house at 316 South Halsted street, was fined $50 and sentenced to one year in the bridewell yesterday by Judge Arnold Heap in the Morals court. He was charged with pandering by Grace Martin of Michigan.

BANKERS FAVOR WATERWAY PLAN

Group 8 at Ashland Hears Gov. Dunne Explain the Project.

WILL PAY FOR ITSELF.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Ashland, Ill., May 21.—[Special.]—Gov. Dunne today gave it as his opinion, based upon engineering estimates, that the proposed Illinois waterway will pay for itself without any direct tax upon the state except for interest on the bonds and overhead expenses for the first two years of the construction period.

Bankers from all over central and western Illinois, in attendance at the group eight meeting of the Illinois State Bankers' association, immediately suggested to the governor that this interest undoubtedly would be met by the premium which state of Illinois bonds would command at this time.

The governor thereupon revised his forecast with the expression that the $5,000,000 project can be completed and paid for at the end of twenty years without any direct expense to the state. He carried the assurance that the income from water power and from tolls will raise the sinking fund necessary to pay off the necessary bond issue.

Indorse Waterway Plan.

So convincing was the governor's argument that the bankers immediately adopted a resolution as follows:

"We wish to indorse the plan for a deep waterway and respectfully recommend its adoption by the Illinois legislature."

The resolution was reported by E. E. Crabtree of Jacksonville and carried by a unanimous vote of the 200 bankers present.

Gov. Dunne was in the heart of a country reported in Springfield to be hostile to the waterway plan, although much of it is directly tributary to the Illinois river cities and towns which would benefit by the development of the scheme.

Sentiment seemed to change in an hour after the governor had spoken and the proposition is now considered to be much stronger than it has been at any time since the bill was introduced in the house.

Chicago Bankers Arrive.

The Chicago delegation of bankers touring the state in the private car "Rainbow," visiting the different group meetings, arrived in Ashland early this morning. They were joined by a big party from St. Louis and a deputation of a dozen Springfield bankers.

"We take this opportunity to express to President Wilson our unbounded confidence in his patriotism, judgment, and ability in handling the present trying situation and we pledge to him our hearty support in the policy he has taken or may take for the maintenance of the honor and integrity of our nation."

Minneapolis Discount Rate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—The federal reserve board today approved a rediscount rate of 4 per cent on sixty day maturities for the Minneapolis reserve bank.

LEGAL NOTICES.

EWALD IRON COMPANY.

"The Fidelity and Columbia Trust Company, Executor and Trustee under the will of L. P. Ewald, will, on Wednesday, June 2, 1915, at eleven o'clock A. M., at the Exchange Hall of the Board of Trade in Louisville, Kentucky, sell at public auction to the highest bidder 2,950 shares of the capital stock of the Ewald Iron Company, of Louisville, Kentucky, a corporation organized under the laws of Kentucky.

"The total capitalization of the Company consists of 3,000 shares of common stock, of which there has been issued 2,955 shares, each share being of the par value of $100. Forty-five shares remain in the Treasury of the Company to be issued in accordance with the terms of a contract between the Ewald Iron Company and A. J. Sills.

"The sale has been authorized by the Jefferson Circuit Court, Chancery Branch, Second Division.

"No bid of less than $214.17 per share will be entertained, and the Executor and Trustee reserves the right to withhold from sale 770 shares, if, after the final acceptance of a bid, it elects so to do. Each bidder will be required to deposit with the Executor and Trustee, in advance of the bidding, a check for $60,000, certified by some bank or trust company doing business in Louisville, Kentucky, as an evidence of good faith, and in order to assure compliance by the successful bidder with the terms of sale. Checks deposited by unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them and the check deposited by the successful bidder will be credited on the purchase price when the terms of sale are fully complied with. In case the successful bidder fails or refuses within ten days to comply with the terms of sale, said check so deposited by him will be forfeited to the Executor and Trustee for the use and benefit of the estate of L. P. Ewald, as liquidated damages and not as penalty.

"The terms of sale will be one-third cash and the balance in three equal installments due on or before six, twelve, and eighteen months respectively. For the deferred payments, the purchaser will execute to the Executor and Trustee his three promissory notes, of equal amount, due on or before six, twelve, and eighteen months from their date, respectively, and bearing six per cent interest from their date. To secure the payment of said notes, and each of them, a lien will be retained on all the shares of stock sold, and said shares must be deposited with the Executor and Trustee to be held by it until said indebtedness is fully paid. The notes executed by the purchaser shall be the usual form of collateral note now used by the Fidelity & Columbia Trust Company, and each note shall contain a provision that on failure to pay any note or interest for thirty days after same becomes due, the Trustee may declare all of the unpaid notes to be due and may proceed to enforce payment thereof by a sale of the stock as provided in the notes.

"There will be refunded to the Ewald Iron Company, upon compliance with the terms of sale, the sum of $30 on each share of stock sold, being the amount of a dividend declared by the Ewald Iron Company on the 16th day of January, 1915. The purchaser shall have the right to pay the full purchase price in cash.

"Prospective purchasers shall have the right to inspect a statement showing the operations of the Ewald Iron Company for the period of five years last past, said statement having been prepared by James S. Escott in February, 1915, and filed in the Jefferson Circuit Court, Chancery Branch, Second Division, in action No. 56,908, styled Columbia Trust Company, Executor, etc., vs. Philip L. Ewald, etc., and certified by the Executor and Trustee to be correct. Prospective purchasers shall also have the right to inspect the plant of the Ewald Iron Company on any day from May 22, 1915, to June 1, 1915."

TAKE THE "TRIP of SHADOWS" on your WESTERN TOUR

Forty Mile Optional River Trip Through the Romantic St. Joe Country Idaho, Without Extra Cost—

Absolutely unique in American travel is the trip down the "Shadowy" St. Joe River of Idaho, declared by some writers to be "a trip through fairyland." It affords forty miles of incomparable mirror reflections — mountains, forests, clouds, headlands and blossoming shores appear as clear and seemingly as real as the originals. This trip is an exclusive feature of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and is optional with the traveler; that is, if he wishes he may leave the train at St. Maries, Idaho, and without extra cost, take a steamer down the St. Joe River and across beautiful Lake Coeur d'Alene to Coeur d'Alene, thence by rail to Spokane, where the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. is again resumed. This trip provides a welcome break in the transcontinental journey.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul RAILWAY

This route to the Pacific North Coast affords the vastest extent of beautiful mountain scenery, visible close at hand from the famous all-steel "Olympian" and the all-steel "Columbian."

Return from California by the "Pacific Limited," the premier through train of this road, from both Los Angeles and San Francisco to Chicago.
